Food Distribution Research Society

January 19, 1970

This publication is the first Journal of Food Distribution Research to be released by the Food Distribution Research Society. It contains papers presented at the annual meeting of the society held at the University of Maryland in October, 1969.

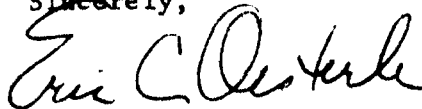

Previously, the programs of the annual meeting of the society (as well as the informal organization that preceded the society) were published as proceedings.

However, due to the excellence of the papers as well as the wide spread interest in the subject matter content of these meetings, members of the society recommended that the proceedings become part of a Journal of Food Distribution Research.

Hopefully this Journal would be expanded so as to make available papers on topics in this area other than those presented at the annual meeting.

The Maryland meeting was a stimulating and well organized event. It is truly fitting that the content of this meeting become the basis of the first Journal of the society.

Sincerely,

Eric C. Oesterle
President
