The Agricultural and Resource Economics Review (ISSN 1068-2805) (formerly the Northeastern Journal of Agricultural and Resource Economics, ISSN 0899-367X) is the official publication of the Northeastern Agricultural and Resource Economics Association (NAREA). The purpose of the Review is to foster and disseminate professional thought and literature relating to the economics of agriculture, natural resources, and community development. It is the editorial policy of the ARER to encourage manuscript submission without regard to author affiliation and/or location. The ARER is published in April and October. In addition to normal refereed articles, it also publishes invited papers presented at the annual meetings of the NAREA as well as abstracts of selected papers presented at those meetings. It periodically calls for articles written on a specific topic. Membership in the NAREA is open to all persons having an interest in agricultural and resource economics. Membership dues include subscription to the Review and are $15.00 per year for regular membership and $5.00 per year for students. Single copy prices are $7.50 per issue.

CALL FOR PAPERS: Agricultural and Resource Economics Review (ARER)

THEME: Economics and the Environment in the 21st Century

The Agricultural and Resource Economics Review will publish papers on the theme "Economics and the Environment in the 21st Century" as a special section of its Spring 1998 issue. In the papers, authors are expected to identify and discuss emerging issues and/or research methods that relate to economic evaluation of future environmental issues. Idea papers are welcomed as well as theoretical and empirical work. Papers will be subject to blind review. There will be page charges on published articles.

General areas that might be addressed by author(s) include identification and measurement of emerging environmental issues, evaluation of environmental policy approaches, and analysis of linkages and tradeoffs between environmental quality goals and international, regional, state, or community development.

Specific paper topics could include economic evaluation of air, water, and soil quality issues, waste disposal, land use change, ecosystem preservation, or international trade issues. Four copies of each manuscript should be submitted, with a postmark on or before October 1, 1997, to:

Linda K. Lee
Editor, ARER
Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics U-21
W.B. Young 318, 1376 Storrs Road
University of Connecticut
Storrs, CT 06269

Submissions by electronic mail to lindalee@uconn.com on or before October 1, 1997 will also be accepted. Manuscripts should be sent as an encoded attachment. Journal information, including guidelines for manuscript submission, is available at the ARER home page URL: <http://www.halcyon.com/uconn/ARER.html>.
