Contributors are on the Staff of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics unless otherwise stated

- CHARLES F. SARLE, Market Research Counselor, National Analysts, Inc., Philadelphia, formerly was head of the Division of Special Farm Statistics of Agricultural Estimates, BAE.
- JOHN J. HEIMBURGER served as counsel of the special subcommittee of the Committee on Agriculture of the House of Representatives which prepared the report, "Crop Estimating and Reporting Services of the Department of Agriculture."
- J. ROGER WALLACE, commodity editor of the Journal of Commerce, was employed in the late 1920's by the Garside Cotton Service, which made cotton estimates. Later he served as a cotton economist for the Federal Farm Board. For the last 3 years, he has been making cotton estimates which are published regularly in the Journal of Commerce.
- LAUREN SOTH is a member of the editorial staff of the Des Moines Register and Tribune. Formerly on the staff of Iowa State College, he edited the Iowa Farm Economist, a journal of applied economics issued by the college.
- JOHN D. BAKER, an economist with Longstreet, Abbott Company of St. Louis, wrote his doctor's thesis at Purdue University on the problem of evaluating the accuracy of the economic outlook forecasts of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. This study, which included an evaluation of the official forecasts and estimates of winter and spring wheat production, was summarized in the October 1952 issue of Agricultural Economics Research.
- MORRIS H. HANSEN is Assistant Director for Statistical Standards in the Bureau of the Census. He is president and fellow of the Institute of Mathematical Statistics and vice-president and fellow of the American Statistical Association.
- F. F. ELLIOTT, Associate Chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, is in charge of coordination of economic research and statistics.
- R. P. CHRISTENSEN does research in production economics and directs foreign trainee programs in economic investigations for BAE. He returned to the Bureau last November following a 1-year assignment at the Agricultural Economics Research Institute as technical consultant in agricultural economics under the auspices of the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries of England and Wales and the Mutual Security Agency of the United States.
- O. V. WELLS, Chief of the Bureau, has observed the interaction of Government and agriculture, sometimes as special adviser or counselor and always as research scholar, since 1929 when he entered Government service as junior economist in the United States Department of Agriculture.
- J. RICHARD GRANT is statistical clearance officer in the Office of the Chief of BAE. He returned recently from Israel, which he served as adviser in agricultural statistics for 6 months on assignment from FAO.
