STATISTICAL BULLETIN SERIES

The bulletins of the statistical series contain available statistics on one or more commodities, annual, monthly, or weekly, on production, movement from the farm, receipts at markets, reshipments, farm and market prices, exports, imports, production in foreign countries, and foreign market prices, for the current year, together with comparable data for earlier years.

At the present time (September, 1931), statistical bulletins have been issued as follows:

1. Cold-storage holdings.
2. Seed statistics.
3. Sheep, lamb, mutton, and wool statistics.
4. Cold-storage holdings.
5. Horses, mules, and motor vehicles.
6. Grain futures; daily data.
7. Shipments and unloads of certain fruits and vegetables.
8. Carload shipments of fruits and melons.
9. Carload shipments of vegetables.
10. Statistics of potatoes and sweetpotatoes.
11. Hay and feed statistics.
12. Wheat and rye statistics.
13. Cold-storage holdings.
14. Prices of farm products received by producers, North Atlantic States.
15. Prices of farm products received by producers, North Central States.
16. Prices of farm products received by producers, South Atlantic and South Central States.
17. Prices of farm products received by producers, Mountain and Pacific States.
18. Statistics of hogs, pork, and pork products.
19. Carload shipments of fruits and vegetables from stations in the United States.
20. Cattle, calves, beef, veal, hides, and skins statistics.

INTRODUCTION

Car-lot shipments of fruits and vegetables produced in the United States were greater in both 1928 and 1929 than in any preceding year. The shipments reported for 1928 were 1,072,951 cars, and in 1929 they increased to 1,074,069 cars. The total for the two years was nearly 95,000 cars greater than that of the preceding two years. The total movement of fruits and vegetables produced in the United States is much greater than the car-lot figures would indicate, as large quantities are moved by motor truck and in less-than-carload lots by rail, but these are not included because of lack of adequate data.

The information contained herein supplements that in Statistical Bulletin 27² and is based upon information secured by the market news service of the Division of Fruits and Vegetables, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, from monthly mail reports covering 34 fruits and vegetables, mixed citrus and deciduous fruits, and mixed vegetables, furnished by about 15,000 station agents of railroad, express, and boat companies. These reports are checked with daily telegraphic reports furnished by the operating departments of the carriers.

² UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BUREAU OF AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS. CAR-LOT SHIPMENTS OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES FROM STATIONS IN THE UNITED STATES FOR THE CALENDAR YEARS 1926 AND 1927. U. S. Dept. Agr. Statist. Bull. 27, 156 pp., 1929.

Shipment figures include car-lot freight and express movement by rail, and boat shipments reduced to car-lot equivalents, and are confined to the movement of fruits and vegetables produced in the United States. Imports have not been included, as a complete record of them is not available.

Shipments are grouped by States and counties. The number of cars of each commodity billed during each of the calendar years 1928 and 1929 is shown for each station handling 10 or more cars in either year. Stations originating less than 10 cars of a given commodity have been grouped together and listed as "Other stations" in their proper county. Counties originating less than 10 cars of a given commodity are grouped together and listed as "Other counties" in their proper State.

"Conductors' waybills" cover movements from nonagency points forwarded on waybills made out by conductors. Where possible, such shipments have been grouped under the proper county; otherwise they are added to the State total.

A "pick-up car" in express service is a car that proceeds from station to station and picks up small or less-than-carload lots until a carload is accumulated. This carload may then be shipped either to final destination to one or more consignees, or it may move to a "break-bulk" point for reloading or consolidation with other commodities for shipment to final destination. "Pick-up cars" are added to State totals in this bulletin.

"Boat reports" cover movements by boat reduced to car-lot equivalents. In some instances it has been possible to credit such movements to the originating point; in other cases they are credited to either county or State.

Tables 3 and 4 were compiled to show the approximate period within which the bulk of the car-lot movement of fresh fruits and vegetables occurred during 1928 and 1929.

Transportation of fruits and vegetables by motor truck is of growing importance. Complete data on motor-truck shipments are not available; however, in Table 5 will be found a comparative study of rail and estimated motor-truck shipments of certain fruits and vegetables in certain areas. This table was compiled from data in an unpublished manuscript, Motor-Truck Transportation of Fruits and Vegetables.

Acknowledgment and thanks are extended to the common carriers for their cooperation and valuable assistance in furnishing the original data from which this bulletin is compiled.

The information shown in this table is intended to give a general idea of the importance of the motor truck in marketing fruits and vegetables in certain leading producing areas. The estimates of motor-truck movement are based on surveys made by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics during the 1928 and 1929 seasons. Shippers, growers, and dealers were interviewed in these surveys and where available actual records of truck shipments were used. The truck shipments shown in this table are shipments to consuming markets and (with the exception of Long Island) are exclusive of the market-garden movement which in general may be considered as the movement to market from within a radius of 20 miles.

² Boat shipments included.
