INTRODUCTION

The prices listed in this report represent sales in wholesale lots of fresh fruits and vegetables at New York City, Chicago, and at important shipping points where Market News field stations were located during 1956. The report also includes monthly average auction prices for important fresh fruits, compiled by the Statistical and Historical Research Branch, Agricultural Marketing Service, from information contained in the New York Daily Fruit Reporter and the Chicago Daily Fruit and Vegetable Reporter.

The wholesale prices for private sales at New York and Chicago are simple averages of representative prices for each Tuesday in the month. The local market reporters estimate volume of sale at different price levels, taking into consideration quality, condition, and other factors. These wholesale prices in most cases represent private sales in quantities of less than carload lots. They generally represent sales made by the first seller on the wholesale market. In a few instances, prices representing sales in carlots or sales at auction are reported, but these are indicated in the body of the report. PRICES ARE FOR STOCK OF GENERALLY GOOD MERCHANTABLE QUALITY AND CONDITION - U.S.NO. 1 GRADE WHEN QUOTED.

The prices reported for important shipping points or shipping areas are simple averages of the mid-points of the daily range throughout the year as reported by the local Market News offices. They refer to sales in straight or mixed carloads or truckloads, unless otherwise noted. An average shipping point price for a month generally is shown only when there were quotations for six or more days during that month.

The report includes prices considered representative of a commodity as to origin, variety, grade, size, and container. For example, the monthly prices shown for apples represent fruit of good quality and condition, mostly 2½-inch minimum size for selected varieties, believed to represent a large proportion of the market supply of eastern and midwestern fruit.

"Sales f.o.b." refer to transactions in which the buyer assumes responsibility for the commodity at shipping point. "Delivered sales, shipping point basis", refer to transactions in which the seller assumes responsibility for delivery to the market. Prices for the latter group of transactions are adjusted to a shipping point basis by making appropriate deductions for transportation and protective services.

Terms and conditions of sales and definitions pertaining to trade practices are more fully described in regulations issued by the Secretary of Agriculture in connection with the administration of the Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act.

The index of wholesale prices for fruits and vegetables at New York and Chicago was computed by weighting the monthly prices shown in this report by the monthly carlot and trucklot unloads, adjusted to uniform carlot equivalents, reported in New York and Chicago. The index was adjusted for seasonal variation based on experience in the base period, 1935-39. The index of wholesale prices of fruits and vegetables at New York and Chicago was computed from prices for the most important fruits and vegetables. The index numbers should be considered as representative of prices of fruits and vegetables on the markets at New York and Chicago. They should not be considered as exact weighted indices. They do not include prices for produce sold in other sections of the country, nor do they include products sold on these markets but not included in this price summary.

A table of estimated value per carlot of fresh fruits and vegetables 1955 to 1956 by months at New York and Chicago is included in this report. These estimates are intended to give a comparison rather than an absolute value per car. Therefore, uniform loadings (prewar basis) per carload were used over the entire period in computing relative values.

<sup>1</sup> The monthly carlot values in this table were computed from representative average prices including both private sales and auction transactions, and average quantities per carload (pre-war basis) of each leading fruit and vegetable. For each commodity this average monthly carlot value was weighted by domestic carload, boat and available truck unloads in obtaining a monthly average carlot value for all commodities. Estimates of farmers' market truck receipts were not available for Chicago. Estimated values for the year were obtained by weighting the monthly figures shown in the table by the monthly unloads.

Fruits included for 1955 and 1956: Apples, blueberries, cantaloups, cherries, cranberries, grapefruit, grapes, honeyball melons, honeydew melons, lemons, oranges, peaches, pears, plums and fresh prunes, strawberries, and watermelons. Vegetables included for 1955 and 1956: Asparagus, beets, snap beans, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, corn, cucumbers, eggplant, escarole, kale, lettuce, onions, peas, peppers, potatoes, radishes, spinach, sweetpotatoes, and tomatoes.

The ratio of the volume used each month to total domestic unloads varied generally from 85 to 95 percent. Some of the minor commodities were not used in the computations. Their inclusion would make little difference in the average value per car.

▲ The index of wholesale prices presented in this table were computed from prices representing private and auction sales, weighted according to the unloads of each fruit and vegetable for that month. Index numbers for the year were obtained by weighting the monthly data by the unloads for the respective months.

The following fruits and vegetables are included for the years 1935 to 1940: Apples, cantaloups, cherries, cranberries, grapefruit, grapes, honeyball melons, honeydew melons, lemons, oranges, peaches, pears, plums and prunes, strawberries, watermelons, asparagus, snap beans, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, green corn, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, peas, peppers, potatoes, spinach, sweetpotatoes, and tomatoes. The following fruits and vegetables were added beginning in 1941: Blueberries, beets, eggplant, escarole, kale, mushrooms and radishes.
