FOREWORD

As per the wishes of the members, the size of the journal and the design of the cover page has been changed from the current issue. Another welcome feature of the issue on hand is that it includes book reviews for the first time.

We are grateful to all the referees who have meticulously reviewed the research papers referred to them and gave their critical comments. The help extended by the P. G. students and ARS trainees of the Division of Agricultural Economics, I.A.R.I. in bringing out this issue is gratefully acknowledged.
