INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF AGRICULTURAL ECONOMISTS: MEMBERSHIP RENEWAL

There were 55 South African members of the IAAE for the 1990-1992 period. This qualified South Africa for 4 Council Members. They are:

Johan van Rooyen
Charles Machethe
Johan van Zyl
Tommie Fenyes

To qualify for 4 votes on the IAAE council we need to enrol 60 members for the 1993-1995 period. This will put South Africa on par with countries such as the USA, Germany and the United Kingdom. Presently only 8 members have renewed their membership. Members are therefore urgently requested to renew their membership. A brochure is attached containing a membership application. The brochure also indicates the benefits available to members. New members are also invited to join the IAAE.

The IAAE is a worldwide confederation of agricultural economists, and others concerned with agricultural economic problems, organised to:

- ▶ Foster the application of agricultural economics to improve rural economic and social conditions.
- ▶ Advance knowledge of agriculture's economic organisation.
- ▶ Facilitate communication and information exchange among those concerned with rural welfare.

See brochure on next page for details on history of the IAAE and benefits to members.

History

The IAAE was established in 1929 by fifty agricultural economists from eleven countries who met at Dartington Hall, Devon, England, UK. Countries represented at that conference included Canada, China, Denmark, Finland, Germany, New Zealand, Norway, South Africa, Trinidad, the United Kingdom, and the United States.

Those attending concluded periodic conferences would benefit agricultural economists throughout the world by increasing their knowledge of other nations' challenges and by promoting mutual understanding and goodwill.

Organization

IAAE is governed by a council of officers and member delegates. National branches and area branches, made up of members in specific countries or a group of countries, promote the objectives of IAAE within their country or area. Each branch designates a member as a representative to provide liaison between its members and the IAAE officers.

The elected officers of IAAE are president, president elect, past president, vice president-program, secretary-treasurer, plus two additional members. The elected officers comprise the executive committee which acts for the council between council meetings. The officers appoint a proceedings editor and an international journal editor-in-chief, both of whom serve as ex-officio executive committee members.
