DIRECTIVES TO CONTRIBUTORS

Editorial policy

Suitable scientific articles in the field of agricultural economics will be welcomed.

Articles should have a maximum length of 6 500 words typewritten in double spacing. Contributions, in English or Afrikaans accompanied by an abstract of not more than 150 words, should be submitted in triplicate to the Editor, "Agrekon", Department of Agricultural Economics and Marketing, Private Bag X250, Pretoria, 0001.

Editorial finish

The title should be concise and clear. The initials and surname(s) of the author(s) should be inserted directly below the title. The authors' institutional affiliation(s) as well as the date (month, year) during which the articles was written, should be indicated by a footnote.

The contents should be arranged in an orderly manner with appropriate headings for each subsection.

The linguistic and technical phrasing and editorial finish must maintain an acceptable standard.

Tables and figures must be submitted in final publishable form on separate sheets of paper. The exact location of these should be indicated in the text in the following manner:

In the text, references should include the surname(s) of the author(s) concerned and also the date of publication. If three or more authors are involved, the abbreviation et al. is used.

Examples:

"The effect of these policy measures was analysed by Paarlberg (1983)."

"Labour shortages hamper agricultural production in peak periods (Clark & Haswell, 1967)."

"In these areas, animal stocking should be reduced during drought (Louw et al. 1977)."

A list of references (bibliography) should be appended at the end of an article and should be compiled alphabetically by surnames of authors (or senior authors). The names of all co-authors must appear, and the abbreviation et al. is therefore not applicable. Names of authors appear in capital letters and the rest of the reference in small letters. The year of publication follows directly after the name(s) of the author(s). Journal names should be abbreviated according to the World list of scientific periodicals. Book titles and abbreviations of journal names are underlined or typewritten in italics.

Examples:

DUFF, K.D. (1979). Principles of management in agribusiness. Reston, Va: Reston Publishing Company

TYSON, P.D. (1980). The likelihood of droughts in the eighties in South Africa. s. Afr. J. Sci. 76:340-341
