INTRODUCTION

This compilation supplements Agricultural Economics Bibliography No. 45 published in March 1933 with the title State Measures for the Relief of Agricultural Indebtedness in the United States, 1932 and 1933. The measures included are those providing mortgage and tax sale moratoria; regulating deficiency judgments; regulating the foreclosure procedure for the benefit of the mortgagee; providing for installment payment of taxes with lower interest and penalties for delinquency; providing for extension of time and easier terms for redemption of property sold for taxes; in fact, any measures which tend to keep the farmer from losing his real estate through mortgage foreclosure or tax sale. It does not include legislation providing additional credit for farmers. In making the extracts from the laws an attempt has been made to quote the sections which are pertinent without quoting the sections dealing with the official procedure and records, such as the form of notice, or the methods of making certificates of sale.

The actual statutes of the States have been checked for the 1933 and 1934 regular and special sessions so far as they were available in the U. S. Department of Agriculture and in the Library of Congress up to June 1, 1934. Where the actual laws were not available news items have been quoted indicating the legislation proposed or enacted. Notes of court decisions on the constitutionality of the measures have been added whenever found.

Grateful acknowledgment is made of the assistance of the Legislative Reference Service and the Law Division of the Library of Congress.

Chapter 29 (Sub. H. B. 167). "An Act Declaring the existence of an emergency, and providing procedure in actions and foreclosure of real estate mortgages. Be it enacted...

"Sec. 2. In all actions for the foreclosure of real estate mortgages now pending, in which final judgment has not been rendered, and in all actions hereafter commenced for the foreclosure of real estate mortgages, or on notes secured thereby, executed prior to the passage of this act, in any court in the state of Arizona, said court, upon application of either the plaintiff or the defendant in such action, provided said defendant is not in default for want of pleading, unless upon hearing of said application good cause is shown to the contrary, may order such cause continued for a period not longer than two years from the date this act becomes effective.

"Sec. 3. In all actions now pending in which default has been entered but no judgment signed, the plaintiff or defendant shall have ten days from date upon which this act becomes effective in which to file said application for continuance. Upon an order of continuance, as provided in this act, the court shall make such order or orders for the possession of the real estate involved in said action, giving preference to the owner or owners in possession, determining fair rental terms to be paid by the party or parties to be in possession, and application for distribution of the rents, income and proceeds from said real estate, and make such provisions for the preservation of said property as in the discretion of the court may seem just and equitable during the continuance of said cause. Said order shall provide that such rent, income or proceeds shall be paid to and distributed by the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said suit is pending, and further provide that in such distribution the taxes, insurance, cost of maintenance and up-keep of said real estate shall be paid in the priority named and the balance distributed as the court may direct; provided, however, that the court shall, upon a substantial violation of its order, or for other good and sufficient cause, set aside said order of continuance, and the cause shall proceed to trial as by law now provided.

"Sec. 4. The court may, upon such terms and conditions as in its discretion seem just, advisable or equitable, suggest and recommend conciliation or arbitration between the parties to the action.

"Sec. 5. The provisions of this act shall not be construed to apply to any suit for the foreclosure of a mortgage or on notes secured thereby, owned by the superintendent of banks of Arizona, in his official capacity, or his assigns or any person claiming through or under him.

"Sec. 6. To preserve the public peace, health and safety, it is necessary that this act shall become immediately operative. It is therefore declared to be an emergency measure, and shall take effect upon its passage in the manner provided by law.

"Approved March 4th, 1933."

Chapter 60 (H. B. 12). "An Act relating to the acceptance of partial payments on taxes and amending Sec. 3094, Revised Code of 1928. Be it enacted...

"Section 1. Sec. 3094, Revised Code of 1928, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 3094... Upon completion of the assessment and tax roll, the chairman of the board of supervisors shall immediately affix thereto, under his hand, a warrant, commanding the county treasurer to collect from the several persons named in said roll, one-half of the taxes set opposite their respective names, on or before the first Monday in November, and the other one-half on or before the first Monday in May, next following. The board shall immediately charge to the county treasurer, in a book kept for that purpose, the totals of all taxes levied on said roll. The said assessment and tax roll and the cross index shall be delivered to the county treasurer on or before the first Monday in September. The term 'roll' shall mean the assessment and tax roll. The roll, with the warrant affixed, shall be the authority of the treasurer to collect the taxes therein levied; provided, that at any time before either of said installments becomes delinquent, the county treasurer shall accept a partial payment or payments thereon in an amount not less than ten per cent of such installments, provided, however, that no partial payment shall be accepted in the amount of less than five ($5.00) dollars and shall credit the taxpayer with the same, and if any part of said tax, or of any installment thereof, remains unpaid at the date of delinquency, such delinquency shall relate only to the amount remaining unpaid...

"Approved March 15, 1933."

Chapter 72 (H. B. 116). "An Act relating to the sale of property for delinquent taxes, and amending Section 18, Chapter 103, Session Laws 1931; and declaring an emergency. Be it enacted...

"Section 1. Sec. 18, chapter 103, Session Laws 1931, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 18. (a) All real property upon which the taxes, including personal property taxes secured thereby, are unpaid and delinquent, shall be subject to sale as herein provided...

"(b) All taxes now levied against real property which shall be delinquent on June 1, 1933, may be paid in twenty equal semi-annual instalments during and within a period of ten years, beginning on the first Monday in November, 1933, provided that such real property taxpayer at the time of any such semi-annual due date shall not then be delinquent in the payment of any current state, county, city or town tax levied after the date of the passage and approval of this act against the property involved... The amount or amounts of any such taxes so delinquent on said date of June 1, 1933, upon which the taxpayer shall elect to pay the taxes as provided herein, shall bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. Any taxpayer may pay the entire amount or amounts due at any time, and if so paid the interest shall be computed only to the date of payment. If any taxpayer, having elected to comply with the provisions of this act, shall become delinquent in two or more of such semi-annual payments, then the entire amount of such delinquent taxes shall become due, and the county treasurer shall proceed with the sale of such property, as provided in paragraph (a) of this section. The taxes on any real property which shall have been advertised or sold for taxes prior to June 1, 1933, and upon which the period of redemption shall not have expired, may, except where sale has been made to private persons and certificate of purchase issued, be paid within the times, under the conditions, and in the manner herein provided for the payment of taxes delinquent on June 1, 1933, and the period of redemption on any such real property is hereby extended accordingly. A compliance with the terms hereof by a purchaser of real estate at a foreclosure sale shall be sufficient compliance with the terms of section 3116 of the Revised Code of 1928 as to entitle such purchaser to a certificate of purchase, and to a deed thereto upon the expiration of the period of redemption, in the event such property is not redeemed.

"Sec. 2. To preserve the public peace, health and safety, it is necessary that this act shall become immediately operative. It is therefore declared to be an emergency measure, and shall take effect upon its passage in the manner provided by law.

"Approved March 17, 1933."

Chapter 88 (H. B. 115). "An Act relating to judgment of foreclosure, and amending Sec. 2324, Revised Code of 1928. Be it enacted...

"Section 1. Sec. 2324, Revised Code of 1928, is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 2324... When a mortgage or deed of trust is foreclosed, the court shall render judgment for the entire amount found to be due, and must direct the mortgaged property, or so much thereof as is necessary, to be sold to satisfy the same; provided, that when a note, secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust on real property, is foreclosed and the property sold to satisfy such judgment, no deficiency judgment can be had against the defendant unless the complaint specifically asks for a deficiency judgment. If such deficiency judgment is contested by the defendant, the plaintiff must prove on the trial that at the time the note and mortgage, or deed of trust, were executed the real property was not of a value in excess of the amount remaining due on the note or that the depreciation in value was caused by some act of the defendant or the original mortgagor, and the question of such value shall be a question of fact. If the court or a jury selected to try the action finds that the plaintiff has failed to establish such fact, then the judgment shall state that no deficiency can be had against the defendant should the sale of the real property not be sufficient to satisfy the amount of the note and mortgage, or deed of trust, or other sums mentioned in said mortgage or deed of trust. When such value is contested and judgment is in favor of the plaintiff, then the court or the jury shall find the value of the real property at the time the mortgage or deed of trust was given, and the plaintiff shall not be entitled to a deficiency judgment for an amount greater than the difference between the value so found and the amount due on the note and mortgage, or deed of trust.

Chapter 63. Local Levy and Collection of Taxes...

"Sec. 330b... The second instalment of each two-instalment tax shall be due and payable at least forty-five days before the end of the fiscal year of the municipality in which the first instalment thereof shall be due and payable, and not less than one-half of each such tax shall be due and payable in the first instalment and the remainder thereof in the second instalment. Any person may pay the total amount of any such tax for which he is liable at the time when the first instalment shall be payable... Except as otherwise provided in this section and in section 339b, each tax and instalment thereof shall become delinquent if not paid on or before the same date of the next succeeding month corresponding to that on which it shall become due and payable. If the first instalment of any such tax shall not have been paid before it shall have become delinquent, the second instalment shall immediately become delinquent and such second instalment shall be construed as having become due and payable at the same time as the first instalment thereof. If the first instalment of any such tax shall have been paid before it shall have become delinquent and the second instalment thereof shall not have been paid before such second instalment shall have become delinquent, such second instalment shall be construed as having become due and payable and as having become delinquent at the same time as the first instalment thereof. The provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of section 348b...

"Sec. 332b... Subject to the modifications of sections 330b and 339b, if any tax shall not be paid on or before the same date of the next succeeding month corresponding to that of the month on which it shall have become due and payable, it shall thereupon be delinquent and it shall be subject to interest at the rate of three-fourths of one per cent for each month and fraction thereof which shall elapse from the time when such tax shall become due and payable until the same shall be paid, provided, whenever the lien for any real estate tax shall be continued by certificate under the provisions of sections 340b and 341b, interest, for such part of the total period as shall elapse from the date of such continuance to the date of payment, shall be charged on such real estate tax at the rate of seven per cent per annum.. Each addition of interest shall become, and shall be collectible as, a part of such tax, provided each such addition shall be figured on the original amount of the tax... The provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of section 348b...

"Sec. 339b... Any person who, as owner in whole or in part of, or any fiduciary having control of, or interest in, any real estate, may file with the tax collector, at any time within ninety days from the date when the first instalment of a tax, or the annual tax in case instalment payments are not authorized, shall have become due, and within thirty days from the date when any second instalment of a tax, the first instalment of which shall have been paid, shall have become due, an affidavit showing in detail the existence of unusual financial or other circumstances which justify deferring collection of the tax laid upon such real estate. On receipt of such affidavit which shall request that the collection of such tax be deferred, the collector shall, with his recommendations thereon, refer the same to the selectmen if a town not consolidated with a city or borough, to the common council or board of aldermen if a city, to the warden and burgesses if a borough or to the governing board if any other municipality, for authority to continue the lien securing such tax for a period not exceeding fifteen years. If action granting such authority shall be taken within sixty days from the receipt thereof, but not otherwise, the collector shall make out and file, with the first year after the first instalment of the tax, or the annual tax in case instalment payments are not authorized, shall have become due, a certificate containing the information required in section 338b, and the town clerk shall record such certificate; provided, if such affidavit shall be approved with respect to any first instalment, the second instalment shall become due and payable from the due date of the first instalment, and such certificate shall be made out and recorded to secure payment of both instalments of such tax. Each tax, the lien for which shall have been continued by certificate under the provisions of this section shall not be subject to interest as provided by section 332b. Each lien continued by certificate under the provisions of this section shall be subject to foreclosure at any time, but shall be invalid after the expiration of fifteen years from the date of recording the certificate continuing the same, unless an action of foreclosure shall have been commenced within such time. After the expiration of such period of fifteen years, if such action shall not have been commenced, the town clerk then in office shall discharge such lien of record by noting on the margin thereof the words 'Discharged by operation of law,' together with the date and his signature. The provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of section 348b.

"Sec. 340b... The tax collector of each town, city, borough or school district, and the chairman of the committee of any other municipality, may continue any tax lien upon any real estate by causing to be recorded in the land records of the town in which the real estate is situated, within the first year after the tax or first instalment thereof shall have become due, his certificate, describing the real estate, the amount of the tax and the time when it became due; and thereupon such tax, as it may have been increased by interest, fees and charges provided by law, shall remain a lien upon such real estate from the date of the recording of such certificate; and any tax lien so continued, when the amount due shall have been paid, may be discharged by a certificate of the then collector of taxes recorded in such land records; but any tax or municipal lien upon private property which shall have been recorded in the land records of any town, city or borough for more than fifteen years shall be invalid, and such property shall be free from the incumbrance of such lien, unless an action of foreclosure shall have been commenced during such period of fifteen years and a notice of lis pendens filed for record, and the town clerk shall, if no such notice shall have been filed, upon the request of any interested person, discharge such lien of record by noting on the margin of the record thereof the words, 'Discharged by operation of law'. "Sec. 342b... Any tax lien which, prior to May 25, 1933, had been continued by certificate for a period of less than fifteen years is extended so that, in case of non-payment of the amount due, such lien will not expire until the end of fifteen years from the date of such continuance. Effective May 25, 1933...

"Sec. 345b... The tax collector of any town, city, borough or school district, and the chairman of the committee of any other municipality, may bring suit for the foreclosure of tax liens in the name of the municipality by which the tax was laid, and all municipalities having tax liens upon the same piece of real estate shall join in one complaint for the foreclosure of the same, in which case the amount of the largest tax shall determine the jurisdiction of the court, and the court having jurisdiction may limit a time for redemption, order the sale of the property or pass such other decree as it shall judge proper. The provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of section 348b. Effective May 25, 1933...

"Sec. 348b... Other than for sections 345b and 346b, the provisions of sections 329b to 347b, inclusive, shall apply to each tax, the whole or first instalment of which was or shall be first due and payable in 1932 or thereafter, but shall not be construed as affecting any tax, the whole or first instalment of which was first due and payable in 1931 or prior thereto. Section 345b shall apply not only to foreclosure of liens for taxes due and payable in 1932 and thereafter but also to foreclosure of liens for taxes due in 1931 and prior thereto, provided said section 345b shall not apply to any lien, action of foreclosure of which shall have been commenced prior to May 25, 1933... Any action of foreclosure which shall have been commenced prior to May 25, 1933, shall be subject to any applicable provision of the law in force at the time of foreclosure. Sections 1216, 1217, 1221, 1222, 1223, 1233, 1235, 1236, 1237 and 1239 and each general and special act and part of each general and special act passed prior to the 1933 session of the general assembly and inconsistent with the provisions of sections 329b to 347b, inclusive, are repealed, but such repeal shall not be construed as affecting any tax or part of any tax, the whole or first instalment of which was first payable in 1931 or prior thereto, and said sections and each such public and special act and part thereof shall remain in full force and effect and be applicable so far as any tax or part of any tax, the whole or first instalment of which was first due and payable in 1931 or prior thereto, is concerned..." -pp. 127-138.

"Section 1. Section 1 of 'An Act...' approved May 22, 1885, is amended to read as follows:

"1. Whenever a petition signed by a majority in number of the adult owners of lands lying in any drainage district, or drainage and levee district, organized under any law of this State, shall be filed with the clerk of the County Court, or any justice of the peace, or town clerk, having custody of the records of such district, representing that an assessment of benefits has been made against the lands in such district for the construction of the proposed drains and works of such district and confirmed as required by law, and is unpaid in whole or in part, and that it would promote the interest of the land owners in such district to extend the time for the payment of such assessments to a time named in the petition, or have the same made payable in installments at such time or times and amounts mentioned in the petition, or to issue bonds not exceeding in principal and interest the amount of said assessments or any installment thereof, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the County Court, justice of the peace or town clerk to fix the time and place for the hearing of said petition, which shall be not less than fifteen days from the filing thereof.

"2. The provisions of this Amendatory Act shall take effect January 1, 1934.

"Approved June 21, 1933. (Smith-Hurd, p.1185; Cahill, p.1177)" -pp.513-514.

House Bill No. 320. Approved June 9, 1933. "An Act to amend section 26 of 'An Act to provide for the construction, reparation and protection of drains, ditches and levees, across the lands of others, for agricultural, sanitary and mining purposes, and to provide for the organization of drainage districts,' approved May 29, 1879; as amended. Be it enacted...

"Section 1. Section 26 of 'An Act...' approved May 29, 1879, as amended, is amended to read as follows:

"26. At the time of confirming such assessments, it shall be competent for the court to order the assessment of benefits to be paid in installments of such amounts, and at such times as will be convenient for the accomplishment of proposed work or payment of bonds that may be issued; otherwise the whole amount of such assessment shall be payable immediately upon such confirmation. The assessments or installments thereof shall draw interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the time of confirmation until paid; but if any owner elects, he may pay the whole amount of the assessments, and interest, if any, accrued against his land, before it becomes due or the whole amount of the installments remaining unpaid: Provided that in case any bonds have been issued by the district such payment of the whole amount or of the remaining installments may be made and accepted only if satisfactory arrangements can be made with the owners of such bonds for the premature retirement of a portion of such bonds practically equal to the amount of the assessment or installment paid, and if such transaction will not cause a present or future shortage of funds for the payments of interest or the retirement of maturing bonds: And provided further that where the court has, by order, directed the whole or a part of the assessment of benefits to be paid in deferred installments, that the court may, by order, direct that the interest on such deferred installments shall be collected yearly in advance. Said assessments shall be a lien upon the lands assessed as other taxes, and such lien shall continue until said assessments are paid; and the proceedings of the County Court of the county in which said lands are situated, shall be sufficient notice of such lien...

"2. Whereas, under present economic conditions many land owners in drainage districts are unable to pay their assessments and the districts are in financial stress, while other land owners in such districts would pay in advance if such payments were authorized, and such payments should be authorized immediately, therefore, an emergency exists and this Act shall take effect upon its passage.

Be it enacted...

"Section 1. It is hereby declared that an emergency exists in the State of Illinois and in the Nation with regard to the financial condition of its people generally and with respect to financial and investment institutions, including the business of insurance, and the provisions of this Act are therefore necessary for the protection of the public as a whole, to preserve the stability of insurance companies, to prevent undue preference among the policyholders of said companies, and to conserve the income and assets of such companies for the benefit of their policyholders, beneficiaries and creditors. It is further hereby declared that the general welfare and safety of the People of the State of Illinois and the Nation are involved and that it is necessary to invoke the police power of the State in the public interest.

Upon the adoption and promulgation of any such rule or regulation, any law or any part of any law which may be in conflict with any such rule or regulation is hereby suspended and shall continue to be suspended so long as such rule or regulation continues in force and effect, but upon the repeal or revocation of such rule or regulation and upon expiration of this Act by limitation, all of such laws or parts of laws which shall have been suspended shall again be in full force and effect.

"3. The Governor is hereby authorized, in his discretion or the Superintendent of Insurance with the approval of the Governor, to stay any foreclosure or proceeding incident to such foreclosure and to provide extension of time for the payment of mortgage indebtedness, either principal or interest, on any mortgage on a farm or homestead where such mortgage is owned or held by an insurance company which is subject to the provisions of this Act.

"4. Nothing in this Act shall affect the authority of the Superintendent of Insurance to deal with impaired insurance companies under the provisions of existing law.

"5. Any insurance company violating any rule or regulation promulgated in conformity with this Act shall forthwith be subject to having its authority, and that of its agents, to transact business in this State revoked.

"6. This Act shall expire by limitation at midnight on June 30th 1935.

"7. For the reasons stated herein it is necessary that the police power of the State be invoked and therefore an emergency exists and this Act shall take effect upon its passage.

Be it enacted...

"Section 1. That sections 16, 18, 20 and 33 of 'An Act...' approved March 22, 1872, in force July 1, 1872, as amended by subsequent Acts, are hereby amended, and a new section, to be known as section 18a, is hereby added to said Act, said amended sections and added section to read as follows:

"16. When any real estate is sold by virtue of an execution, judgment, or decree of foreclosure of mortgage, or enforcement of mechanic's lien, or vendor's lien, or for the payment of money, it shall be the duty of the sheriff, master in chancery or other officer, except as otherwise in this Act provided, instead of executing a deed for the premises sold, to give to the purchaser a certificate describing the premises purchased by him, showing the amount paid therefor, or if purchased by the person in whose favor the execution is taken or the decree is entered, the amount of his bid, the time when the purchaser will be entitled to a deed, unless the premises shall be redeemed, as provided in this Act.

"18. Any defendant, his heirs, executors, administrators, assigns, or any person interested in the premises, through or under the defendant, may, except as to any sale had by virtue of decree of foreclosure of mortgage made by a corporation wherein right of redemption shall be waived, as in section 18a of this Act provided, within twelve months from said sale, redeem the real estate so sold by paying to the purchaser thereof, his executors, administrators or assigns or to the sheriff or master in chancery, or other officer who sold the same, or his successor in office, for the benefit of such purchaser, his executors, administrators, or assigns, the sum of money for which the premises were sold or bid off, with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum from the time of such sale, whereupon such sale and certificate shall be null and void.

"18a. Any corporation organized under the laws of this State, or and foreign corporation licensed to do business in this State, may, by provision in any mortgage or trust deed in the nature of a mortgage hereafter executed, waive any and all rights of redemption from sale under any order or decree of foreclosure of such mortgage or trust deed, on behalf of the mortgagor or grantor, and each and every person except decree or judgment creditors of any such corporation, acquiring any interest in or title to the mortgaged premises subsequent to the date of such mortgage or trust deed; and any such waiver shall be binding upon and be an effective bar against redemption by (a) such mortgagor or grantor, or (b) by any person or persons acquiring any interest in or title to the mortgaged premises by, through or under such mortgagor or grantor, or (c) by the heirs, executors, administrators or assigns of any such person, or persons, or (d) by any decree or judgment creditor of any person or persons having, or having had, any interest in the mortgaged premises, or (e) by any defendant in any foreclosure proceeding of such mortgage or trust deed, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns. When any sale is had under any order or decree of foreclosure of any such mortgage or trust deed containing such waiver, upon confirmation of such sale the master in chancery or other officer who made such sale or his successor in office shall immediately execute and deliver to the purchaser a deed describing and conveying the premises purchased by him showing the amount paid therefor, or if purchased by the person in whose favor the order or decree is entered, the amount of his bid therefor: Provided, that decree or judgment creditors of such corporations shall have three months after the sale to redeem in the manner provided in section 20.

"20. If such redemption is not made, any decree or judgment creditor, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns may, after the expiration of twelve months and within fifteen months after the sale, and when any sale is had under any order or decree of foreclosure upon a mortgage or trust deed executed by a corporation and containing a waiver of the right of redemption any decree or judgment creditor of such corporation may within three months after the sale, redeem the premises in the following manner: such creditor, so entitled to redeem, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns may sue out an execution upon his judgment or decree, and place the same in the hands of the sheriff or other proper officer to execute the same, who shall endorse upon the back thereof a levy of the premises desired to be redeemed; and the person so entitled and desiring to make such redemption shall pay to such officer the amount for which the premises to be redeemed were sold, with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date of the same, for the use of the purchaser of such premises, his executors, administrators or assigns, whereupon such officer shall make and file in the office of the recorder of the county in which the premises are situated a certificate of such redemption, and shall advertise and offer the premises for sale under said execution as in other cases of sale or execution.

"33. Any deed which has been heretofore, or which may hereafter be so executed, or which has been executed pursuant to section 13a of this Act, or a certified copy of the record thereof, shall be prima facie evidence that the provisions of the law in relation to the sale of the property for which it is or may be given were complied with; and in case of the loss or destruction of the record of the judgment or decree, or of the execution or levy thereon, such deed or certified copy of the record thereof shall be prima facie evidence of the recovery and existence of the judgment or decree and issuing and levy of the execution as therein recited.

Legislation Proposed - 1934 Special Session.

Selfish groups oppose foreclosure legislation. Bureau Farmer (Ill. Agr. Assoc. Section) Mar. 1934, p. 10.

"... This bill provides for a stay of foreclosure proceedings when the court of jurisdiction sees fit to take such action in the interest of a deserving debtor as well as his creditor...

"Under the proposed legislation jurisdiction to grant delay in foreclosure is vested in the court and provision is made to protect the interests of the mortgagee as well as the mortgagor. Certainly where the debtor is not making a real effort to pay his interest and principal he would have little opportunity to secure a stay of foreclosure. There is nothing compulsory in the measure now pending at Springfield. It is left entirely to the courts to decide when a foreclosure shall be delayed."

The court in determining whether or not the proceedings in judicial sales are regular and in conformity with law and equity as expressed in section 60-3463 of the Revised Statutes of Kansas of 1923, may decline to confirm the sale where the bid is substantially inadequate, or in ordering a sale or a resale, may, in its discretion, if conditions or circumstances warrant and after a proper hearing, fix a minimum or upset price at which the premises must be bid in if the sale is to be confirmed, or the court may, upon application for the confirmation of the sale, if it has not theretofore fixed an upset price, conduct a hearing to establish the value of the property, and as a condition to confirmation require that the fair value of the property be credited upon the judgment, interest, taxes and costs. Chapter 232 - House Joint Resolution No. 18. "Providing a moratorium on foreclosures of mortgages and other liens upon real estate and the extension of the redemption period thereunder... Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Kansas, the Senate agreeing thereto:

"Section 1. A moratorium is hereby declared upon all periods of redemption from judicial sales which were running at the beginning of the present emergency created by the bank moratorium under federal and state orders and which expire during the moratorium as defined in section 2 hereof. All such periods of redemption as provided by law shall be extended until the conclusion of said moratorium and no writ of assistance shall be issued or served, and no sheriff's deed shall be issued or delivered during such moratorium.

"Sec. 2. Said moratorium shall extend for six months from and after the 4th day of March, 1933: Provided, In case at or before the expiration of the six-months period, it shall in the judgment of the governor of the state of Kansas, be necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety so to do, and in case in his judgment said emergency still exists, then the governor of the state of Kansas is hereby authorized to extend said moratorium for a period of not exceeding six months.

"Sec. 3. Wherever a receiver has heretofore been appointed or may hereafter be appointed in a proceeding to foreclose any lien upon real estate, such appointment shall be set aside during said moratorium, except that a receiver, at the discretion of the court having jurisdiction thereof, may be appointed in cases of waste or where necessary for the preservation of the property.

"Sec. 4. It being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist by reason whereof this resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after its publication in the official state paper.

Chapter 233 - House Bill No. 207. "An Act regulating the leasing of farm lands. Be it enacted...

"Section 1. Whereas, much farming land in this state is owned by persons or corporations for money rent as the sole business of the owners, the rentals of said lands being evidenced and secured by written lease contracts obligating the tenants to pay as rent therefor large sums of money fully equal to the fair and reasonable rental value of the land without any other or further rental obligation on the tenants' part; and

"Whereas, Said lease contracts contain requirements obligating the tenants in addition to the payment of said agreed rental to pay to the landlord all taxes or assessments of every kind or nature levied or assessed upon said leased land, and if not paid promptly when due the amount thereof to be added to the agreed rent proper, such unpaid taxes and assessments thenceforth to bear large interest rates until paid, the whole of said rent, taxes, assessments, and interest to be carried forward and added to the like amounts payable during the succeeding years of the tenancy, and extensions thereof; and

"Whereas, Said lease contracts contain the further requirements that all rent inclusive of said taxes, assessments, and interest shall constitute a lien on all crops growing or made on the leased land during the tenancy or extension thereof, and likewise on all teams, farming implements, and machinery owned by the tenant and used by him on the land during the lease period, that said lease may be filed as a chattel mortgage, and further that before July first, on the landlord's demand, the tenant shall execute a chattel mortgage proper, as additional security for the payment of the rent for the current year; and

"Whereas, At the original leasing of said lands they were without buildings, fences, or other improvements necessary to farm tillage, the tenant and all succeeding tenants obligating themselves in said lease contracts to erect or make all buildings, fences, and other like improvements necessary to the efficient cultivation of the land, the landlord thereof making no improvements nor obligating himself to do so, but reserving to himself a lien on all improvements made by the tenant and only allowing the removal of any such on the termination of the tenancy and full payment of all rent, taxes, assessments, and interest as aforesaid, and the performance of all other obligations of the lease; and

"Whereas, Many other burdensome and laborious requirements on the tenants' part are contained in said lease contracts...

"Whereas, Many restrictions and requirements on the tenants' right to cultivate the kinds of crops to be grown on the lands are dictated to him in said lease contracts which embarrass him in earning the stipulated money rental, for failure to comply with which a further money payment per acre is charged as rent. It is expressly provided in said lease contracts that the tenant shall not allow grain stalks grown on the land to be eaten by the tenants' animals, the landlord reserving such grain stalks to himself; and as a further burden on the tenant and as a further security to the landlord the tenants are made to waive the benefit of the exemption, valuation and appraisement laws of the state.

"Sec. 2. The foregoing lease conditions and requirements are variant from the ordinary and generally used and approved rental agreements between landlord and tenant in the particulars above mentioned, are harsh, burdensome, oppressive and extortionate in their terms, and are entered into by necessitous persons only because of the scarcity of other rental lands. On account of the pledge of lien by the tenant to the landlord of his crops, teams, and all his other property he is deprived of credit with merchants and banks for the purchase of the comforts and conveniences of ordinary farm life, his children deprived of educational advantages, and himself and family kept impoverished in condition and estate.

"Sec. 3. Lease agreements containing all of the burdensome requirements heretofore recited are hereby declared to be against the public policy of the state, illegal and unenforceable, and the tenants subscribing to the same obligated to pay under said leases as rents for the lands only fair and reasonable sums with an accord of lien only on the total crops grown on the leased land and on the total of the live stock raised on share or lease, and on the total receipts or returns from pasture received by the tenant including an accord of lien on the tenants' live stock sufficient to pay pasturage on the tenants' live stock on the landlord's land.

And all taxes of the preceding year and accrued interest thereon which shall remain due and unpaid on June twenty-first shall draw interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum from June twentieth until paid, or landsold for taxes as provided by law: Provided, All interest herein provided shall be credited to the county general fund, and that whenever any such interest is paid the county treasurer shall enter the amount of interest so paid on the tax rolls in the proper column and charge himself with such sum: Provided, That this act shall apply to the taxes for the year 1932, and that the county treasurer of the several counties of the state shall accept payment of the 1932 taxes in accordance with this act.

thereto. Such notice shall state the amount of personal tax charged against said party, and notify him that he can pay the one-half part of said tax by paying ten per cent interest thereon from December twentieth to date of payment. Should such tax remain unpaid after July first, the county treasurer shall, between July tenth and fifteenth, mail such taxpayer a notice as above provided. Should such taxes remain unpaid for a period of thirty days after mailing such last-mentioned notice the county treasurer shall forthwith issue a warrant under his hand directed to the sheriff of the county, commanding him to levy the amount of such unpaid taxes and the penalty thereon, together with his fees for collecting the same, of the goods and chattels of the person to whom such taxes were assessed; thereupon said sheriff shall proceed to collect said taxes the same as upon his execution, and after collecting the said taxes pay the same to the county treasurer, and return such warrants within sixty days from the date thereof: Provided, That if the treasurer of any county shall issue more than five thousand such warrants during the period herein mentioned, the sheriff within sixty days from the date thereof shall make his return on such warrants as have been served, and the sheriff shall have an additional sixty days to serve and return the warrants which have not been served within the sixty-day period heretofore provided.

According to an Associated Press item (quoted in Washington, D. C. Star, Mar. 3, 1934) Governor Landon signed a debt moratorium law March 2. The law replaces one which expired March 4. Governor's Proclamations, 1933.

"Governor Laffoon has issued a proclamation extending the time for payment of property taxes from March 1 to March 31." -U. S. Daily, Mar. 2, 1933, p. 2, col. 7.

"Gov. Ruby Laffoon of Kentucky, in a proclamation issued on Feb. 17, requested financial institutions to observe a voluntary moratorium on mortgage foreclosure proceedings against farmers and home owners in Kentucky for a period of six months. Associated Press advices from Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 17, published in the Louisville 'Courier-Journal' further stated:

"The Governor said 'wholesale enforcement of mortgage liens' at this time would 'bring untold distress and suffering.' His proclamation follows:

"Whereas, in view of the present strained conditions of the money market, widespread unemployment in our state, low prices of farm products and livestock, and the consequent inability of thousands of farmers throughout the State to meet the payments now coming due on their mortgages; and,

"Whereas, I have been requested by innumerable citizens of this State to request all insurance companies, banks, building and loan associations and other financial institutions and citizens holding mortgages to refrain from bringing suits against their debtors and foreclosing mortgages on the farms and homes of the State; and,

"Whereas, I am impressed that the wholesale enforcement of mortgage liens which are threatened throughout the State will bring untold distress and suffering not only to the people directly interested, but to all the citizens of our Commonwealth, and result in injuring the morale of the citizenship of our beloved Commonwealth:

"Now, therefore, I Ruby Laffoon, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do most respectfully urge and request all insurance companies, banks, building and loan associations, and other financial institutions and citizens holding mortgages to desist from bringing suits against their debtors and enforcing mortgage liens on the homes and farms of the State for a period of six months, or until business conditions become sufficiently settled to enable our people to recover from the strain and stress and panic under which they are now laboring, and thus to enable them to meet their obligations without losing their homes and farms at sacrificial prices.

"This proclamation is made by the Governor with full knowledge that there is no authority given him by the law to suspend lien enforcement suits; but it is made for the reason that I, as Governor of Kentucky, have been importuned by citizens from every section thereof to respectfully request that this be done, and urge compliance with the provisions of this proclamation." -Commercial & Financial Chronicle 136: 1306. The collector shall not advertise the sale of such land for two months after the time of a demand so made.

"Section 4. Section forty-five of said chapter sixty, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in the fifteenth line, the word 'thirty' and inserting in place thereof the word:- sixty, - so as to read as follows:- Section 45. Said amount, together with the cost of recording the deed of purchase, shall be allowed him in his settlement with such town, provided he has caused the deed to be duly recorded within sixty days after the purchase and to be delivered to the town treasurer...

"Section 10. Said chapter sixty is hereby further amended by striking out section sixty-two, as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the following;- Section 62. Any person having an interest in land taken or sold for non-payment of taxes, including those assessed under sections twelve, thirteen and fourteen of chapter fifty-nine, or his heirs or assigns, at any time prior to the filing of a petition for foreclosure under section sixty-five, if the estate has been taken or purchased by the town, may redeem the same by paying or tendering to the treasurer the amount of the tax and all intervening taxes, with all costs, charges and fees, and interest at eight per cent per annum on the whole, or may pay or tender to the treasurer not less than fifty per cent of the tax for the non-payment of which the estate was taken or purchased, together with all costs, charges and fees, and interest as aforesaid on the whole amount of the tax title account then due, which payment shall be received, receipted for, and applied toward the redemption of the estate so taken or purchased. From time to time thereafter prior to the filing of such petition for foreclosure, such person may likewise pay or tender, successively in the order of their date, the balance of the tax of which partial payment was made and a first instalment of not less than fifty per cent and a second instalment of the balance, if any, of each year's tax which at the time of payment or tender of such instalment has been added to the tax title account under sections fifty and sixty-one, until all taxes upon the property which have been added to the tax title account are paid or tendered in full, whereupon such estate shall be redeemed. Each payment or tender hereunder shall include, in addition to the tax or part of a tax paid, all intervening costs, charges, fees and interest which at the time of such payment or tender have become part of the tax title account. The treasurer upon accepting any payment thereunder may extend the time during which proceedings for the foreclosure of all rights of redemption may not be instituted, for a period not exceeding one year beyond the time provided by section sixty-five; but not more than one such extension shall be granted. An extension granted hereunder shall be entered upon the tax title account, and a written statement thereof shall be given to the person who made the payment.

"Any such person may so redeem by paying or tendering to the purchaser, his legal representatives or assigns, at any time prior to the filing of such petition for foreclosure, if the purchaser is other than the town, the original sum and intervening taxes and costs paid by him and interest on the whole at said rate. In each case he shall also pay or tender, for examination of title and a deed of release, not more than three dollars in the aggregate, and in addition thereto the actual cost of recording the tax deed or evidence of taking. He may redeem the land by paying or tendering to the collector the sum which he would be required to pay to the purchaser, with one dollar additional. If land taken by or sold to a city or town for non-payment of taxes is redeemed, the city treasurer or acting city treasurer, notwithstanding the provisions of the charter of his city, or the town treasurer, as the case may be, shall sign, execute and deliver on behalf of the city or town a release of all the right, title and interest, which it acquired by such taking or purchase, in and to the land so redeemed. No person shall knowingly collect or attempt to collect for the redemption of any such land a sum of money greater than that authorized by this section.

"Nothing in this section nor in sections sixty-five to seventy-five, inclusive, shall be construed to prevent the title of a person or a city or town purchasing land at a sale under section seventy-nine or eighty from becoming absolute without any foreclosure proceedings under said sections sixty-five to seventy-five, inclusive.

"Section 11. Section sixty-three of said chapter sixty, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in the eighth line, the words 'on demand' and inserting in place thereof the word:- forthwith, - so as to read as follows:- Section 63. The collector shall receive any money paid to him instead of the purchaser and give to the person paying it a certificate specifying the amount paid, the name of the person to whom and the real estate on which the tax was originally assessed, and the registry of deeds and the book and page of the records therein where the collector's deed is recorded; and the recording of the certificate in said registry shall extinguish all right and title acquired under the collector's deed. The collector shall forthwith pay over all money so paid, to the person entitled thereto as determined by him, except that he shall retain one dollar for the use of the town and shall account to it therefor. If the amount so paid is less than the purchaser was entitled to, the balance with interest at eight per cent per annum may after demand therefor be recovered in contract by the purchaser against the person paying such amount, if the action is commenced within three months after such payment to the collector.

"Section 12. Section sixty-five of said chapter sixty, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after the word 'taxes' in the first line the words:- except as provided in section sixty-two, - so as to read as follows:- Section 65. After two years from a sale or taking of land for taxes, except as provided in section sixty-two, whoever then holds the title thereby acquired may bring a petition in the land court for the foreclosure of all rights of redemption thereunder. Such petition shall be made in the form to be prescribed by said court and shall set forth a description of the land to which it applies, with its assessed valuation, the petitioner's source of title, giving a reference to the place, book and page of record, and such other facts as may be necessary for the information of the court. Two or more parcels of land may be included in any petition brought by a town, whether under a taking or as purchaser of such title or titles.

"Section 13. Section seventy-eight of said chapter sixty, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in place thereof the following:- In case of foreclosure, any such taxes, or balances due on taxes paid in part, remaining unpaid, shall be credited to the collector as if collected by him, unless already so credited, - so as to read as follows:- Section 78. Before foreclosure or redemption, taxes on land taken or purchased by a town shall be assessed to the person to whom they would be assessed if the land had not been so taken or purchased. In case of a sale under the following section, such taxes shall be deducted from the proceeds thereof, before any surplus is disposed of as therein provided. In case of foreclosure, any such taxes, or balances due on taxes paid in part, remaining unpaid, shall be credited to the collector as if collected by him, unless already so credited.

"Section 14. Section seventy-nine of said chapter sixty, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out, in the twenty-second line, the word 'thirty' and inserting in place thereof the word:- sixty, - so that the second paragraph will read as follows:-

"Upon the recording thereof the treasurer may sell all the parcels included therein, severally or together, at public auction to the highest bidder, first giving notice of the time and place of sale by posting a notice of the sale in some convenient and public place in the town fourteen days at least before the sale. If the sale under this section shall not be made within four years from said taking or purchase, it shall be made by the treasurer for the time being when he deems best, or at once upon service on him of a written demand by any person interested therein. The treasurer shall execute and deliver to the highest bidder a deed, without covenant except that the sale has in all particulars been conducted according to law. Title taken pursuant to a sale under this section shall be absolute upon the recording of the deed of the treasurer in the proper registry of deeds within sixty days of its date.

"Section 15. Section eighty of said chapter sixty, as so appearing, is hereby amended by striking out in the thirteenth line, the word 'thirty' and inserting in place thereof the word:- sixty, - so as to read as follows:- Section 80. If no person bids at such a sale and if the sale has been adjourned one or more times, the treasurer shall then and there make public declaration of the fact, and if no bid is then made he shall give public notice that he purchases for the town by which the tax is assessed; or if the person to whom the land is sold does not within ten days pay to the treasurer the sum bid by him the sale shall be void and the town shall be deemed to be the purchaser of the land. If the town becomes the purchaser hereunder, the treasurer shall execute to it a deed which shall set forth the fact that no bid was made at the sale or that the purchaser failed to pay the amount bid, as the case may be. The title of the town to land conveyed by deed of the treasurer under this section shall be absolute upon the recording of said deed in the proper registry of deeds within sixty days of its date...

"Section 21. Section two of this act shall take effect on December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and thirty-three. In all other respects this act shall take effect upon its passage.

"Approved February 9, 1933." -pp. 3-4.

A footnote in the April 1933 issue of the National Tax Association Bulletin, p. 203 reads as follows:

"It may be of interest to note that the Michigan act referred to in last month's summary has been before the courts. On March 1 [1933] the Supreme Court of Michigan in Thompson v. Stack held that the law impaired the obligations of a contract and granted a writ of mandamus to compel publication of the delinquent tax land notices. On March 2 [1933] the previous holding was reversed and the writ refused."

The act referred to is presumably no. 2.

No. 63. "An Act to cancel all penalties, fees and interest charges on all nineteen hundred thirty, nineteen hundred thirty-one, nineteen hundred thirty-two and prior years, state, county, city, village, township and school district taxes, general and special, including all state bids, paid between the effective date of this act and July first, nineteen hundred thirty-three.

"The People of the State of Michigan enact...

All persons collecting said taxes are hereby empowered to receive said taxes paid during said period without penalties, fees and interest charges and to give receipt in full therefor, and all penalties, fees and interest charges on said taxes so paid are hereby waived and cancelled. Upon such order of continuance the court shall make order or orders for possession of said real estate, giving preference to the owner or owners in possession, determine fair rental terms to be paid by the party or parties to be in possession and the application and/or distribution of the rents, income and profits of said real estate, and make such order or orders for the preservation of said property and the payment of taxes and insurance as will be just and equitable during the continuance of said cause. "Approved June 2, 1933." -pp. 134-135. According to the Commercial & Financial Chronicle, July 8, 1933, p. 237, the Bischoff-Munshaw law providing for "a virtual moratorium on mortgage foreclosure until July 1, 1935" was held unconstitutional in two decisions handed down by Judge Blaine W. Hatch on June 15th. This Act is presumably the Bischoff-Munshaw law.

Chapter 274 - (S. F. No. 1424). "An act relating to extending the time for redemption of parcels of land from tax sales to the state in certain cases, and to the amounts required to be paid to make such redemption. Be it enacted...

"Section 1... That whenever at the time fixed by law for absolute forfeiture of any parcel of land heretofore or hereafter bid in for the State and not assigned or disposed of by the State, pursuant to Mason's Minnesota Statutes of 1927, Sections 2139-2, and acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, there shall be pending, in the United States District Court, proceedings in eminent domain affecting such parcel, and such eminent domain proceedings shall have been pending more than two years prior to the said date of forfeiture, the time of said forfeiture of such parcel shall be and is postponed and continued until the expiration of one year after the final determination of such eminent domain proceedings; and the owner of such parcel, regardless of whether such parcel is included within the boundaries of any game preserve, reforestation project, or conservation area, or any person having an interest therein may discharge the delinquent taxes and assessments against such parcel and redeem such parcel, or portion thereof, from such sale to the State within such period, as so extended, upon payment of the portion of such unpaid taxes and assessments permitted by any law in effect during the pendency of such condemnation proceedings. "Sec. 2... situated, and shall be such a part or proportion of the amount designated by any such law permitting redemption and discharge on payment of a fraction or percentage of the total amount due, as provided in this act, as the said tract taken or encumbered by said proceedings and so redeemed bears to the value of such entire parcel bid in for the State, and of which it forms a part. Any party interested in such computation and determination of value, and aggrieved thereby may, within ten days following the filing thereof, appeal to the District Court of the county wherein such land is situated, by filing written notice of such appeal and proof of service thereof, with the clerk of said court.

"Section 1... No sale under any judgment entered on default of answer against real estate for taxes levied and assessed against the same for the year 1931 shall be had prior to the second Monday in May, 1935.

"Sec. 2... During the year 1933 the county auditor and/or treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to accept in full payment of any real estate taxes levied and assessed for the year 1931, whether such taxes have attached to a tax judgment sale to the state for prior taxes or not to which no defense or objection as hereinbefore provided shall have been interposed, the face amount thereof as originally levied and assessed without penalty or interest. Any such taxes remaining unpaid on January 1, 1934, may be paid, and the county auditor and/or treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to accept payment thereof any time prior to the tax judgment sale, in installments of not less than twenty-five per cent of the original amount, provided that there shall be included and paid with the first installment all penalties, if any, and interest then accrued, and with each subsequent installment all interest then accrued;

"Sec. 4... "Sec. 5... In the event any penalty or interest on the 1931 real estate taxes payable in 1932 shall have been paid, whether such taxes have attached to a tax judgment sale to the state for prior taxes or not the amount of such penalty and interest so paid shall be refunded to the person paying the same upon application to the County Auditor and due proof of payment and identity of the person making the application; provided, however, that the warrant issued by the County Auditor therefor shall be valid only in payment of 1931 or 1932 taxes paid in 1933 on any parcel of land in the same county, which fact shall be stamped on its face and the same shall be accepted by the County Treasurer for that purpose only, when properly endorsed.

"Sec. 6... That the term 'taxes' as referred to in this chapter shall include such assessments as have been certified to the County Auditor for collection and included in such taxes for the year 1931, but penalties and interest added to such assessments prior to the same being certified to the County Auditor shall not be abated or cancelled by this act.

"Sec. 7... That Chapter 98, Laws of 1935, [i.e. 1933] be and the same hereby is repealed.

"Sec. 8. This Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

"Approved April 20, 1933." -pp. 511-513.

Chapter 339 - (H. F. No. 1695). "An act relating to the granting of relief in certain cases during the emergency declared to exist, from inequitable foreclosure of mortgages on real estate and execution sales of real estate and for postponing certain sales and for extending the periods of redemption from certain others; and relating to the jurisdiction and procedure for such relief and for the right to possession during the extended period, and for limiting the right to maintain actions for deficiency judgments, and for extending the expiration of certain periods of redemption to 30 days after the passage of this act... Be it enacted...

"Part Two

"Section 1... The following, Part Two, of this Act shall apply only to real estate occupied as a home exclusively by the person seeking relief or persons dependent upon him and to farm lands used by the person seeking relief as his principal means of furnishing necessary support to such person, his family and dependents, and shall apply only to cases not entitled to relief under some valid provision of Part One of this Act.

"Sec. 2... In any proceedings heretofore commenced for the foreclosure of a mortgage on real estate by advertisement, in which a sale of the property has not been had, or in any such proceedings hereafter commenced, when the mortgagor, or the owner in possession of the mortgaged premises, or anyone claiming under said mortgagor, or anyone liable for the mortgage debt, at any time after the issuance of the notice of such foreclosure proceedings, shall apply to the District Court of the county wherein such foreclosure proceedings are being had, or are pending, by filing and serving a summons and verified complaint with prayer that the sale in foreclosure by advertisement shall be postponed and that the foreclosure, if any, shall proceed by action. If it appears to the court that granting of the relief as prayed would be equitable and just, then, and in that event, the foreclosure proceedings by advertisement may be postponed by the court by an ex parte order which shall be served with the summons and complaint upon the party foreclosing or his attorney and at the time of the hearing upon such order, the court may then further postpone such sale, and the parties seeking to foreclose such mortgage shall proceed, if at all, to foreclose said mortgage by interposing a cross complaint in such action. Such service may be made as now provided for the service of a summons in a civil action, or by registered mail on the person foreclosing or his authorized agent or attorney at the last known address of such person, agent or attorney respectively. As a condition precedent to such postponement of such foreclosure sale by advertisement the party filing such verified complaint shall pay to the clerk for the person foreclosing the mortgage the expenses incurred not including attorney's fees which may accrue prior to any postponement. The filing of such verified complaint shall be deemed a waiver of publication of notice of postponement of the foreclosure sale and the sale at the time which may be fixed by the court shall be deemed to be a sale postponed in lieu of the time of sale specified in the published notice of mortgage foreclosure sale.

"Sec. 3... The court shall have the same jurisdiction to postpone the enforcement of judgment by execution sale or to order resale or give other relief where such judgment is rendered in an action to collect a debt or obligation secured by a real estate mortgage, the foreclosure of which might be affected under the terms of this Act, as is conferred by this Act with regard to the mortgage.

"Sec. 4... The provisions hereof shall not apply to mortgages made after the passage of this Act nor to mortgages made prior to the passage of this Act which shall hereafter be renewed or extended to become due more than a year after such passage; neither shall this Act apply in any way which would allow a resale, stay, postponement or extension to such time that any right might be adversely affected by a statute of limitation.

"Sec. 5... No postponement or extension shall be ordered under conditions which, under the temporary emergency, would substantially diminish or impair the value of the contract or obligation of the person against whom the relief is sought, without reasonable allowance to justify the exercise of the police power hereby authorized.

"Sec. 6... The trial of any action, hearing or proceeding provided for in this Act shall be held within 20 days after the filing by either party of notice of hearing or trial, as the case may be, and such hearing or trial may be held at any general or special term, or in chambers, or during vacation of the court, and the order of the court shall be filed within 5 days after trial or hearing, no more than 5 days stay shall be granted within which to apply for amended findings, and order or for review, and review by the Supreme Court may be had by certiorari, if application for the writ shall be made within 10 days after notice of such order and such writ shall be returnable within 30 days after the filing of such order...

Such owner may exercise said option by paying into the county treasury one-tenth of the amount of said 50 per cent accrued taxes within one year from the date of such forfeiture, and by paying the remainder of the repurchase price in twenty equal annual installments with interest thereon, payable annually at the rate of four per cent per annum, computed from the date of such initial payment to the anniversaries of such date in the respective years in which such installments and interest become payable; provided, however, the owner of any such land which shall have been sold to the state in one tract shall have the privilege of repurchasing from the state any tract of land included therein and containing 40 acres or more, upon the payment within the time aforesaid of one-half the amount which the county auditor shall determine is the amount of taxes which would have accrued against such lesser tract at the date of such forfeiture, less penalties, interest and costs, with interest upon said sum from the date of such forfeiture at the rate of 4% per annum, if such lesser tract had been listed for taxation separately and sold to the state in one parcel.

"Sec. 3... Such option to repurchase shall terminate upon the failure of said owner to make payment of any annual installment of said re-purchase price and interest within sixty days after the anniversary date upon which the same becomes due and shall likewise terminate upon the failure of said owner to pay the current taxes for any year prior to the first Monday of January in the year following that in which they become payable.

"Sec. 4... On payment in full of said repurchase price, appropriate conveyance in fee, in such form as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, shall be issued by the Minnesota Tax Commission, which conveyance shall have the force and effect of a quitclaim deed from the state.

"Sec. 5... No person shall be evicted by any public authority from lands forfeited to the state by reason thereof within two years from the time such forfeiture takes place whether the option to repurchase is exercised or not, provided that he was an actual occupant of the premises when so forfeited...

Be it enacted...

"Section 1... That Mason's Minnesota Statutes of 1927, Section 2139 as amended by Laws 1929, Chapter 415, and Laws 1931, Chapter 129, be amended to read as follows:

"2139. Subd. (a). Such sale shall be conducted by the county auditor. Each parcel shall be sold to the highest cash bidder therefor but not for a less sum than the aggregate taxes, penalties, interest and costs charges against it, unless the cash value thereof fairly determined by the county board and approved by the Minnesota Tax Commission shall be less than such aggregate, in which case the value so fixed and approved shall be the minimum price for which such property may be so sold. The rights of the purchaser at such sale shall be subject to the rights of any purchaser and of the state or its assignee by virtue of any delinquent tax sale held in 1928 or any subsequent year, and of any subsequent delinquent taxes attaching thereto or required to be paid in case of redemption therefrom.

"Subd. (b). Provided that at such sale to be commenced on the second Monday of August, 1933, if there be no bidders for the same for the amounts as hereinbefore authorized, any such parcels coming within the following classifications may be disposed of for cash only, and without regard to the determination of value by the county board or Minnesota Tax Commission, for not less than the following amounts: (1) all parcels bid in for the state for taxes for the year 1922, or prior years, for one-fifth of the total taxes remaining unpaid for 1925 and prior years as originally assessed; (a) all parcels, not in such first class, but bid in for the state for taxes for the year 1924 or prior years, for one-third of the total taxes remaining unpaid for 1925 and prior years, as originally assessed; and (3) all parcels, not in such first or second class, but bid in for the state for taxes for the year 1925 or prior years, for one-half of the total taxes remaining unpaid for 1925 and prior years, as originally assessed.

"Subd. (c) Provided, further, that where any parcel subject to sale under the provisions of this section and sections 2138 and 2140, contains as a part of said tax the full amount or a portion of the lien for the construction of any county or judicial ditch, or the full amount or a portion of any special assessment for local improvements levied under municipal authority the county board, in case of such ditch lien, or the governing body of the municipality, in case of such special assessment, may, by ordinance or resolution, determine and fix the minimum amount of such ditch lien or assessment to be included in addition to the amounts hereinbefore provided as the minimum for which any such parcel may be sold; provided that the resolution of the county board shall be adopted or a copy of such resolution or ordinance of the municipality describing each tract and fixing each such minimum amount shall be served upon the county auditor at least 30 days before the date of sale; provided, further, that if such resolution of the county board be not adopted, or if such governing body of any such municipality fails to cause to be certified to said county auditor, at least 30 days before such date of sale, the minimum amount of such assessment to be included with the other taxes on any parcel, said county auditor shall include such ditch lien or special assessment with the other taxes on said parcel, to be sold on the same basis as the other taxes thereon. Provided, the minimum amounts of ditch liens or assessments to be so included in the sale of lands within the Red Lake Game Preserve shall be the full amounts of such ditch liens and assessments.

"Subd. (d). The purchaser shall forthwith pay the amount of his bid to the county treasurer, and the officer conducting the sale shall give to him a certificate in a form prescribed by the Attorney General, in which shall be set forth the name of the purchaser, a description of the land sold, the price paid and the date and place of sale. The auditor and treasurer of the county shall attend such sale, the former to make a record of all sales thereat, and the latter to receive all moneys paid on account thereof...

"Subd. (e). Provided, by resolution of the county board, adopted at least 30 days before the commencement of the sale, any parcel of land which, since the accrual of the unpaid taxes and assessments thereon, has produced a yield or income or had an actual use, of value exceeding the amount of such taxes and assessments as originally extended, may be excluded from the sale.

"Subd. (f). Any purchaser at such sale may, within ten days following his purchase, discharge the taxes and assessments against such parcel for 1926 and subsequent years, if delinquent and held by the state, if title to such parcel has not vested or been perfected in the state, or secure an assignment thereof upon the payment of a fractional part of the taxes for such years, as originally assessed, equal to the fractional part of the taxes for the years prior to 1926 against such property required to be paid by such purchaser at such sale, and by paying the same proportion of the ditch liens or special assessments against such property collectible with the taxes for 1926 and subsequent years that he was required to pay at such forfeited sale for ditch liens or special assessments collectible with the taxes for 1925 or prior years.

"That Laws 1931, Chapter 129, Section 2, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 2. Subd. (a) In the event that there are no taxes for 1925 or prior years delinquent and held by the state against any parcel of land but the taxes for 1926 or any part thereof are delinquent and held by the state, and the title to such parcel has not vested or been perfected in the state, the county auditor and treasurer of each county are hereby authorized and directed to certify and accept in full payment and discharge of all taxes and assessments and interest and penalties thereon against such parcel or for an assignment thereof, an amount equal to one-half of the total taxes and assessments against it, as originally assessed and taxed.

"Subd. (b) In the event that the taxes of 1926 and all prior years against any parcel of land have been paid, or sold or assigned to a purchaser other than the state, but the taxes for 1927 or 1928, or any part thereof remain delinquent and held by the state, the county auditor and treasurer are authorized and directed to accept in full payment and discharge of all taxes and assessments and interest and penalties thereon, or for an assignment thereof, an amount equal to three-fifths of such taxes and assessments as originally assessed and taxed, without penalty or interest. "Subd. (c) The authority of the county auditor and treasurer to accept payment of such taxes or assessments or to assign the same under the terms set forth in this section shall exist only where such payment or assignment is made on or prior to December 31st, 1934.

"Subd. (d) The authority granted to the county auditor and treasurer by this Act to accept payment, waive penalties or interest, or to assign taxes at the rates provided for in this section shall not exist before July 1st, 1933, and, if before that date the county board as to general taxes or ditch or road liens, or the governing body of the town or municipality interested, as to other special assessments, shall have adopted a resolution, and filed a certified copy thereof with the county auditor, fixing a minimum amount of such taxes, liens or assessments or accrued interest and penalties which shall be accepted, the terms of such resolution shall control with respect thereto."

"Sec. 2... The period of redemption of lands sold for the year 1926, and of lands sold for the taxes for the year 1927, pursuant to the pro-

The entry of record by the county collector listing the delinquent lands and lots as provided for in this act shall be and become a levy upon such delinquent lands and lots for the purpose of enforcing the lien of delinquent and unpaid taxes, together with penalty, interest and costs...

"Sec. 9952b... The county collector shall cause a copy of such list of delinquent lands and lots to be printed in some newspaper of general circulation and published in the county, for three consecutive weeks, one insertion weekly, before such sale, and last insertion to be at least fifteen days prior to the first Monday in November...

"Sec. 9952c... On the day mentioned in the notice, the county collector shall commence the sale of such lands, and shall continue the same from day to day until so much of each parcel assessed or belonging to each person assessed, shall be sold as will pay the taxes, interest and charges thereon, or chargeable to such person in said county. The person offering at said sale to pay the required sum for the least quantity of any tract shall be considered the purchaser of such quantity: Provided, no bid shall be received from any person not a resident of the State of Missouri, until such person shall file with said collector an agreement in writing consenting to the jurisdiction of the circuit court of the county in which such sale shall be made, and also filing with such collector an appointment of some citizen of said county as agent of said purchaser, and consenting that service of process on such agent shall give such court jurisdiction to try and determine any suit growing out of or connected with such sale for taxes...

"Sec. 9952d... When more than one tract or lot belonging to the same person shall be for sale at the same time, in the same municipal corporation or township, a part of one of said tracts or lots shall be offered, first for the payment of the whole sum due from such owner on all such delinquent lands or lots, or otherwise; and if no person shall bid off a part of such tract or lot the sum required, the said tract or lot shall then be offered to the highest bidder for cash, and if any amount shall yet remain due, or if no person bid for a part or all of one tract or lot, each of the other tracts or lots shall be offered in like manner until the required sum is realized; and if no one bids upon a part or all of said tracts or lots separately, enough to pay the amount due, then the whole of said tracts and lots shall be offered together and sold to pay the taxes, penalty, interest and costs thereon; provided however, this section shall be construed directory in character and a failure to comply therewith shall not of itself invalidate any sale.

"Sec. 9955... If at the first offering of sale of any tract of land or lot under the provisions of this act no person shall bid therefor a sum equal to the delinquent taxes thereon with interest, penalty and costs, then the clerk of the sale shall note such fact in his record of sale and the county collector shall note a recital thereof in his record containing the list of delinquent lands and lots, and said tracts of land or lots shall be again offered for sale, at the next sale of delinquent lands and lots as in this act provided, if such lands or lots be at such time delinquent. If at the second offering for sale no person shall bid therefor a sum equal to the then delinquent taxes thereon with interest, penalty and costs, then the clerk of the sale shall note such fact upon his record of the sale, and the county collector shall enter a recital of such fact in his record book containing the list of delinquent lands and lots...

"Sec. 9955b... Such lands may be redeemed from such sale upon the same terms and conditions as other lands may be redeemed from delinquent tax sales, as provided herein; but in the event of the redemption of any land from any sale made under the provisions of this act, the land so redeemed shall be liable to resale by such county collector at the next or any subsequent tax sale of lands for delinquent taxes for all delinquent taxes, penalty, interest and costs not paid by such sale...

"Sec. 9955a... Any person claiming an undivided part of any land sold for taxes may redeem the same on paying such proportion of the purchase-money, interest, penalty and subsequent taxes as he shall claim of the land sold.

"Sec. 9955b... Any person claiming an undivided share in any land out of which an undivided part shall have been sold for taxes, may redeem his undivided share by paying such portion of the purchase-money, interest, penalty and subsequent taxes as he claims of the land sold.

"Sec. 9955c... Any person claiming a specific part of any lands sold for taxes may redeem his specific part by paying such proportion of the purchase-money, interest, penalty and subsequent taxes as his quantity of ground shall bear to the whole quantity sold.

"Sec. 9955d... Any person claiming a specific part of any lands out of which an undivided part shall have been sold for taxes charged on the whole tract or lot, may redeem his specific part by paying such proportion of purchase-money, interest, penalty and subsequent taxes as his quantity of ground shall bear to the whole quantity taxed.

"Sec. 9956... In every case where a partial redemption is asked for, pursuant to the preceding four sections, the county collector, upon the application of the redemptioner, after notice to the holder of the certificate, shall determine the proportion to be paid by the party applying to redeem, and his decision shall be final thereon. For his services in stating the proportion, the redemptioner shall pay him fifty cents; and in every case of a partial redemption, pursuant to either of the said sections, the quantity sold shall be reduced in proportion to the amount paid on such partial redemption, and the county collector shall convey accordingly.

"Sec. 9956a... The owner or occupant of any land or lot sold for taxes, or any other persons having an interest therein, may redeem the same at any time during the two years next ensuing, in the following manner: By paying to the county collector, for the use of the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, the full sum of the purchase money named in his certificate of purchase and all the costs of the sale together with interest at the rate specified in such certificate, not to exceed ten percentum annually, with all subsequent taxes which have been paid thereon by the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, with interest at the rate of eight per centum per annum on such taxes subsequently paid, and in addition thereto the person redeeming any land shall pay the costs incident to entry of recital of such redemption. Upon deposit with the county collector of the amount necessary to redeem as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the county collector to mail to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, at the last postoffice address if known, and if not known, then to the address of the purchaser as shown in the record of the certificate of purchase, notice of such deposit for redemption. Such notice, given as herein provided, shall stop payment to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, of any further interest or penalty. In case the party purchasing said land, his heirs or assigns, fails to take a tax deed for the land so purchased within six months after the expiration of the two years next following the date of sale, no interest shall be charged or collected from the redemptioner after that time...

"Sec. 9957... title in case of failure to redeem. - If no person shall redeem the lands sold for taxes within two years from the sale, at the expiration thereof, and on production of certificate of purchase, and in case the certificate covers only a part of a tract or lot of land, then accompanied with a survey or description of such part, made by the county surveyor, the collector of the county in which the sale of such lands took place shall execute to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, in the name of the state, a conveyance of the real estate so sold, which shall vest in the grantee an absolute estate in fee simple, subject, however, to all claims thereon for unpaid taxes except such unpaid taxes existing at time of the purchase of said lands and the lien for which taxes was inferior to the lien for taxes for which said tract or lot of land was sold. In making such conveyance, when two or more parcels, tracts, or lots of land are sold for the non-payment of taxes to the same purchaser or purchasers, or the same person or persons shall in anywise become the owner of the certificates thereof, all of such parcels shall be included in one deed...

"Sec. 9962b... All lots, tracts and parcels of land upon which taxes assessed or levied prior to the taking effect of this act remain due and unpaid at the date when such taxes would have become delinquent as provided in the act under which they were assessed and levied, and which taxes are not merged in judgment prior to the effective date of this act, shall be deemed to be delinquent under the provisions of this act, and the same proceedings shall be had to enforce the payment of such unpaid taxes, with interest, penalty, and costs, and payment enforced and liens foreclosed under and by virtue of the provisions of this act and the same rights of redemption shall attach. For the purposes of foreclosure under this act, the date of delinquency shall be construed to mean the date when the taxes first became delinquent; provided however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect the right of the county collector to proceed to final judgment and foreclosure for taxes upon which suit had been instituted prior to the effective date of this act, but not in final judgment, nor to prejudice the rights of collection of any costs or commissions attaching in such cases which were valid under the tax law existing at the time of institution of such suits. As to taxes merged in judgment at the effective date of this act the foreclosure of the tax lien and proceedings relative thereto shall be had under the provisions of the law as such law existed prior to the passage of this act, and as to suits for delinquent taxes instituted, but not merged in judgment, at the effective date of this act the collector shall have the right to proceed to final judgment and foreclosure of the tax lien under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the passage of this act, or such collector may, in his discretion, dismiss such suits and proceed to foreclosure of the tax lien under the provisions of this act, subject to the preservation of rights to all valid costs and commissions that may have already attached in such character of suits under the law as it existed prior to the passage of this act...

"Sec. 9963c... Public welfare and necessity demand that legislation be enacted to encourage the payment of delinquent and unpaid taxes, to promote the payment thereof and to protect the property owners of this state from foreclosure of their homes and property for delinquent taxes in order that the economic and industrial life of the state may be preserved. To accomplish such purpose it is believed necessary to grant legislative authority to the county court of each county, and to the comptroller, mayor and president of the board of assessors of the City of St. Louis, to forgive and forbear the collection of penalty interest on delinquent and unpaid taxes delinquent January 1, 1933, and prior thereto, or such part of such penalty interest as in the opinion of said county court, comptroller, mayor and president of the board of assessors of the City of St. Louis shall be necessary to accomplish the purpose referred to in this section. Therefore, the State of Missouri, through its legislature, hereby exercising its police and sovereign power, declares and enacts that the county court of each county in the state, the comptroller, mayor and president of the board of assessors in the City of St. Louis shall have the right to forgive and forbear the collection of penalty interest on taxes unpaid and delinquent on January 1, 1933, or becoming delinquent for the first time prior thereto, or such part thereof as in the opinion of said county court, comptroller, mayor and president of the board of assessors of the City of St. Louis shall be necessary to protect the owners of such lands and that they may be encouraged to pay said delinquent taxes thereon. If for any reason this section should be declared unconstitutional and beyond the power of the legislature to enact, such fact shall not affect or impair in any way other provisions of this act, but such other provisions shall be in full force and effect.

"Section 7. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed or considered as a release or postponement of any tax or assessment due, but shall be considered as a method whereby the taxpayer may fund said taxes or assessments over a period of time, and is hereby deemed an emergency.

"Section 8. Upon the acceptance of any application, the County Treasurer shall determine the percentage of equity of each separate fund in the total amount of the contract based upon the levy or assessment of each such fund. Upon payment of any installment or installments, the County Treasurer shall issue his official receipt therefor, and he shall immediately credit such payment to the several funds on the above basis. Upon full payment of the contract, the County Treasurer shall deliver to the taxpayer the paid tax receipts for the years covered by said contract, and shall indicate on his records that such taxes have been paid in full. Provided, that after two (2) successive installments on such contract are past due and unpaid, and a tax deed is taken by the county, the sale price in such tax deed proceedings shall be the unpaid balance of all delinquent taxes or assessments, penalties and interest included in the contract.

"Whereas, Careful consideration has been given to the prayers for relief, and honest endeavor has been made for some remedy; and

"Whereas, After all such effort and endeavor it is the sense of the legislature that any attempt to pass any legislation concerning obligations already existing would result in expensive litigation, and afford no relief to those who most need the same; and

"Whereas, We feel that the best solution of the situation, and one that we feel justified in suggesting to the holders of these obligations, is a voluntary extension of the same for a period of at least two years, with a reasonable reduction in interest rates; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved by the Senate of the State of Nevada, the Assembly concurring, That the legislature of the State of Nevada deeply senses the predicament of the many good citizens of the State of Nevada, whose burdens are heavy; be it further

"Whereas, Our great national depression has imposed a blow upon the livestock industry of the west that amounts to bankruptcy; and

"Whereas, Livestock owners in many instances cannot pay their state and county taxes; and

"Whereas, Many livestock owners are faced with the necessity of holding their stock under fence and upon land without feed thereon, because of the present depression they cannot secure the necessary funds to pay grazing fees; and

"Whereas, The possibility of securing the necessary funds through any of the government agencies would be too late to save the situation, and if so obtained would only be borrowing from one department to pay another; and

"Whereas, We feel that imminent disaster is upon us, unless relieved by a moratorium of at least two years on the grazing fees due for 1932, and the remission of all fees for 1933; now, therefore, be it

"8... A party may apply at any time to the court having jurisdiction thereof for such additional orders in the premises as may be proper under the foregoing sections, and such court shall have jurisdiction and authority to revoke, revise, alter or modify any previous orders therein made by him or by any justice of such court.

The following regarding the constitutionality of the New Jersey Mortgage Deficiency Law of 1933 is quoted from the United States Law Week 1(15): 231. Dec. 12, 1933:

"The New Jersey Mortgage Deficiency Law of 1933, which substitutes the 'fair market value' of mortgaged land for the proceeds of a foreclosure sale as the credit to be allowed the mortgagor in reduction of the debt in the mortgagee's action on the bond for the deficiency, is void as to a mortgage contract executed prior to the enactment of the statute in that it impairs the obligations of such contract in violation of both the State and Federal Constitutions...

Chapter 109. "An Act relating to the collection of delinquent municipal liens.

"Whereas, The large volume of unpaid municipal liens is creating such a serious tendency toward nonpayment of current taxes and municipal liens that a public emergency demands some plan be made available to municipalities for the prompt collection of current taxes and assessments without requiring the immediate payment of arrears; but such a plan to be helpful must recognize the need of the property owner to maintain as a first lien the mortgage encumbrance upon his property; Now, therefore, in order to encourage the owner to use every effort to keep his property by granting him an opportunity to pay his present arrears in fixed installments over a term of years,

"Be it enacted...

"1. Whenever the governing body of any municipality of this State shall, by resolution adopted during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, declare that it is for the best interest of its citizens that the provisions of this act be made available to its property owners, then all taxes, assessments, tax sale certificates held by the municipality or other municipal liens in arrears on January first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and not yet paid and satisfied, together with the interest and penalties thereon, shall, when brought under the provisions of this act by compliance with section seven of this act, and subject to the conditions hereinafter set out, be totalled as of said date; and the payment of such totalled sum shall be spread over a period of five years, and the same shall be payable in monthly or quarterly installments as stated in said resolution commencing August first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, with interest on the several unpaid balances at the rate of seven per centum per annum, payable on the same quarterly dates... [Amended by Chapter 412, q.v.]

"5. The right of any person interested in such property to pay such arrears in such installments shall be conditioned on the prompt payment of the installments of taxes of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three and all subsequent taxes, assessments or other liens imposed or becoming a lien after January first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, including all installments thereafter payable on assessments theretofore levied, and also the prompt payment of all installments of arrears as hereinbefore authorized. Prompt payment shall consist in making payment thereof within thirty days after the respective due dates.

"6. During the period of the extension of time for payment herein provided for, the lien of such arrears shall be suspended, and the amounts thereof shall not be considered as due except as the same become payable in installments under the terms of this act; and the municipality shall have no further right to enforce the payment of such arrears so long as such installment payments shall be made promptly when due as herein provided for, and so long as payment for all subsequent taxes, assessments and other liens shall likewise be made promptly when due.

"7. The extension of time for payment and the suspension of the lien of existing arrears herein authorized shall not be effective as to any parcel of property until the first half of the nineteen hundred and thirty-three taxes thereon has been paid, together with any assessments for local improvements, or installments thereof, falling due after January first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and before the date of actual payment of said first half of nineteen hundred and thirty-three taxes.

"8. In case any such installment of arrears or any new taxes, assessments or other liens are not promptly paid, that is to say, within thirty days after the date when the same is due and payable, then the whole amount of arrears theretofore suspended with interest thereon and penalties shall immediately become due and payable, and the liens thereof be reinstated, and the municipality shall have all the powers of enforcing its liens for such arrears that it would have had if this act had not been passed, and the time of such municipality for any action on its part shall at its option be extended for as much additional time as the period during which this act shall have been in force, as to such arrears...

"13. The holders of any outstanding certificates of tax sale shall not as a condition of foreclosure thereof be bound to pay any extended arrears except the respective installments provided for under this act, and no foreclosure of such certificate of sale shall include in the amount required to redeem, any sums paid on such extended arrears in excess of the amount so required to be paid; but this shall not relieve the holder thereof from any contract obligation to pay in full any arrears so extended...

"15. Any holder of a lien by way of mortgage or otherwise may pay any installment of any tax, or tax sale certificate, assessment, including any installment of arrears extended under this act, at any time after the same has been assessed or levied upon filing with the collecting officer a certificate stating his name and address and lien and shall then be entitled to add to the amount of his lien, the sum so paid with interest thereon from the date of payment; but in such case if the owner or any other prior party in interest shall thereafter pay the same to the collecting officer, the latter shall give a special receipt for such payment, and shall immediately notify the lien-holder who made the first payment thereof, and said lien-holder shall be entitled to receive the amount of such payment from the collecting officer, and all further rights of such lien-holder under such payment shall immediately cease...

"17. This act shall take effect immediately.

"Section 1. Chapter sixty-two of the laws of nineteen hundred nine, entitled 'An act in relation to taxation, constituting chapter sixty of the consolidated laws,' is hereby amended by adding a new section, to be section fifty-nine-b, to read as follows:

"59-b. Payment of taxes in installments in Columbia County. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this chapter, the board of supervisors of the county of Columbia may, by resolution duly adopted prior to the annual tax levy in any year by two-thirds vote of all members elected to the board, determine that, thereafter, until such action be rescinded by such board, every tax in excess of twenty dollars, levied pursuant to section fifty-eight of this chapter, upon property situate in such county, outside the city of Hudson, may be paid in two equal installments, as follows: The first installment on or before the first day of February, where the warrant is annexed to the assessment-roll on or before the fifteenth day of December, or, if the warrant is annexed at a later date, as above provided, on or before the first day of the

If such resolution be adopted by the board of supervisors of such county, such taxes thereafter levied therein may be so paid and tax warrants thereafter issued by such board to collecting officers for the collection thereof shall, in addition to the other matters required by law, so provide... If any tax, the first installment of which shall not have been paid within the time hereinbefore specified, shall be paid to the collecting officer after the time limited for paying such first installment, there shall be paid, in addition to the tax, interest of one per centum thereof for each month or fraction of a month that the same shall have remained unpaid after the time limited for paying the first installment. The return of a collecting officer to the county treasurer of unpaid taxes, required under section eighty-two of this chapter, in case the second installment of any tax shall not have been paid, need not set forth that the collecting officer has not, upon diligent inquiry, been able to discover any personal property out of which the same could be collected by levy and sale, and it shall not be the duty of such collecting officer to enforce such installment by levy upon and sale of personal property. If such a resolution be adopted, and any tax charged on real estate is returned to the county treasurer, if such tax, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per centum per annum, computed from the first day of February, after the same is levied, shall remain unpaid for one month after such return is made, such county treasurer shall advertise and sell such real property for such tax and interest and the expenses of such sale in accordance with the provisions of article seven of this chapter, except that such county treasurer shall cause the publication of the list of real property liable to be sold and the notice of sale to be commenced immediately after the expiration of such one month, and the time for the sale, issuance of certificates of sale, giving of notices to redeem, execution of tax deeds, redemption of the property, and all other acts or proceedings in the collection of such taxes by sale of the real property, shall be correspondingly adjusted; and all of the provisions of such article (so far as they are applicable or can properly be made applicable) shall otherwise apply to such sales or other acts or proceedings; and, except as so modified as to time, the powers and duties of the state or municipalities or state or local officials, and the rights, remedies and obligations of owners, occupants, tax sale purchasers, grantees or others, under such article, shall be the same as in such article provided. Any provisions of this chapter, which apply to the collection of general property taxes (either by the collecting officer of the tax district or the county treasurer) when collected otherwise than pursuant to such a resolution and warrant, which are applicable or can properly be made applicable to the collection of taxes pursuant to such a resolution and warrant, shall apply to the collection of taxes under the latter circumstances with the same force and effect as under the former.

Chapter 793. "An Act to amend the civil practice act, in relation to foreclosure of mortgages and actions for judgments on bonds secured by mortgages... The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

"Section 1. It is hereby declared that a serious public emergency, affecting and threatening the welfare, comfort and safety of the people of the state and resulting from the abnormal disruption in economic and financial processes, the abnormal credit and currency situation in the state and nation, the abnormal deflation of real property values and the curtailment of incomes by unemployment and other adverse conditions, exists. Therefore, in the public interest, the necessity for legislative intervention by the enactment of the provisions hereinafter prescribed, and their application until July first, nineteen hundred thirty-four, is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination.

"2. The civil practice act is hereby amended by inserting therein new sections, to be sections ten hundred seventy-seven-a, ten hundred seventy-seven-b, ten hundred seventy-seven-c, ten hundred seventy-seven-d, ten hundred seventy-seven-e, ten hundred seventy-seven-f, and ten hundred seventy-seven-g, to read as follows:

"1077-a. Foreclosure for principal defaults suspended. During the period of the emergency as defined in section ten hundred seventy-seven-g, and notwithstanding any inconsistent provisions of the civil practice act or of any other general or special law, or of any agreement, bond or mortgage, no action or proceeding for the foreclosure of a mortgage upon real property, nor any foreclosure under article seventeen of the real property law, shall be maintainable, solely or on account of a default in the payment of principal secured by such mortgage or solely in the payment of any installment of principal secured by such mortgage, although the payment of such principal or installment of principal may be due by the terms of such agreement, bond or mortgage, provided, however, that where a default authorizing foreclosure shall have occurred under the terms of the bond or mortgage or other agreement, other than the non-payment of principal or an installment of principal, and any grace period therein specified shall have expired, then the rights and remedies of the holder of the mortgage shall not be affected by this act.

"1077-b. Actions on bonds for principal defaults suspended. No action shall be maintainable or judgment shall be entered during such emergency, upon any loan, indebtedness, bond, extension agreement, collateral bond, or other evidence of indebtedness or liability, whether or not such indebtedness or liability shall have been thereafter reduced, extended, or modified, if the indebtedness originated or was originally contracted for simultaneously with such mortgage and is secured solely by such mortgage, or upon any guaranty of payment of the principal or installment of principal of any mortgage within the scope of section ten hundred seventy-seven-a or upon a guaranty of any obligation secured by such mortgage, so long as no action or proceeding shall be maintainable to foreclose such mortgage. No action shall be maintainable or judgment be entered during such emergency upon any guaranty of payment of any share or part of any bond and/or mortgage or group of bonds and/or mortgages represented by a certificate, bond, debenture or other instrument, nor upon any note, bond, debenture or other instrument being part of a series issued against, or secured by the deposit of a bond and/or mortgage or a group of bonds and/or mortgages so long as interest at the rate prescribed shall be paid upon any such certificate, note, bond, debenture or other instrument. The liability of any endorser, guarantor of, or surety for any such liability shall not be discharged by reason of the failure of the holder to demand payment of any such indebtedness or liability, or by reason of any failure to give notice of non-payment, or by reason of any failure to bring any action or proceeding thereon during the emergency.

"1077-c. Notice of application. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, any person who would otherwise have the right to foreclose a mortgage, shall have the right to make an application to any court in which such foreclosure action might be brought upon eight days notice, served personally, or in such manner as the court may direct to the last record owner of the mortgaged property, and if upon such application it shall appear to the satisfaction of the court that the mortgaged property during the six months prior to the application shall have produced a surplus over and above the taxes, interest and all other carrying charges, then the court may make an order directing the payment of such surplus or such part thereof as the court may determine to the mortgagee to apply toward the reduction of any past due principal. In the event of default in making of such payment for thirty days after service of a copy thereof with notice of entry thereof, then and in such event the applicant may maintain an action to foreclose such mortgage. In any such proceeding the court may enter an order permitting foreclosure without other proof if the owner of the property shall fail to make available for inspection by the mortgagee and the court all records and data available as to the income and disbursements, or if the owner shall fail to produce adequate records or data of income and disbursements.

"This section shall not apply to properties used or intended to be used for farming purposes or dwellings occupied by the owner or by the owner in conjunction with not more than one other family.

"1077-d. Waiver against public policy. Any covenant or agreement or understanding in or in connection with or collateral to any mortgage whereby a mortgagor waives or agrees to waive the protection intended to be afforded to him by sections ten hundred seventy-seven-a and ten hundred seventy-seven-b, shall be deemed to be void as against the public policy and be wholly unenforceable.

"1077-e. Application to pending actions. Sections ten hundred seventy-seven-a, ten hundred seventy-seven-b, ten hundred seventy-seven-d shall apply to any action or proceeding heretofore instituted for the foreclosure of a mortgage within the scope of this act unless the same has proceeded to final judgment directing the sale of the mortgaged premises, and any such action shall be dismissed upon payment by any defendant to the plaintiff of taxable costs and the remedying of any default other than the payment of principal or any installment of principal within thirty days after this act takes effect, but otherwise such action or proceeding may continue.

"1077-f. Statute of limitations not to run during emergency. Any action or proceeding within the scope of this act, which would have been maintainable at any time during the period of the emergency, shall not be barred by any provision of article two of the civil practice act during a period of one year after the termination of the emergency. This section shall not be construed to shorten the period within which any such action may be commenced.

"1077-g. Mortgages not affected. The provision of sections ten hundred seventy-seven-a, ten hundred seventy-seven-b, ten hundred seventy-seven-c, ten hundred seventy-seven-d, ten hundred seventy-seven-e and ten hundred seventy-seven-f shall not apply to any mortgage, held by a savings and loan association, payable in monthly installments over a period of more than ten years from the time of the making of the loan, or made in accordance with the provisions of sections three hundred eighty-four or three hundred eighty-five of the banking law nor to any mortgage dated on or after July first, nineteen hundred thirty-two, nor to any obligations in connection with or secured by any such mortgages. "An Act to amend the civil practice act, in relation to deficiency judgments in actions to foreclose mortgages on real property and actions to recover judgments on bonds secured by mortgages on real property... The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

"Section 1. It is hereby declared that a serious public emergency affecting and threatening the welfare, comfort and safety of the people of the state and resulting from the abnormal disruption in economic and financial processes, the abnormal credit and currency situation in the state and nation, the abnormal deflation of real property values and the curtailment of incomes by unemployment and other adverse conditions, exists. Therefore, in the public interest, the necessity for legislative intervention by the enactment of the provisions hereinafter prescribed, and their application until July first, nineteen hundred thirty-four, is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination.

"2. The civil practice act is hereby amended by inserting therein two new sections, to be sections ten hundred and eighty-three-a and ten hundred and eighty-three-b, as follows:

"1083-a. Limitation upon deficiency judgments during emergency period. No judgment shall be granted for any residue of the debt remaining unsatisfied as prescribed by the preceding section where the mortgaged property shall be sold during the emergency, except as herein provided. Simultaneously with the making of a motion for an order confirming the sale or in any event within ninety days after the date of the sale, the party to whom such residue shall be owing may make a motion in the action for leave to enter a deficiency judgment upon notice to the party against whom such judgment is sought or the attorney who shall have appeared for such party in such action. Such notice shall be served personally or in such other manner as the court may direct. Upon such motion the court, whether or not the respondent appears, shall determine, upon affidavit or otherwise as it shall direct, the fair and reasonable market value of the mortgaged premises as of the date of sale or such nearest earlier date as there shall have been any market value thereof and shall make an order directing the entry of a deficiency judgment. Such deficiency judgment shall be for an amount equal to the sum of the amount owing by the party liable as determined by the judgment with interest, plus the amount owing on all prior liens and encumbrances with interest, plus costs and disbursements of the action including the referee's fee and disbursements, less the market value as determined by the court or the sale price of the property whichever shall be the higher. If no motion for a deficiency judgment shall be made as herein prescribed the proceeds of the sale regardless of amount shall be deemed to be in full satisfaction of the mortgage debt and no right to recover any deficiency in any action or proceeding shall exist.

"1083-b. Judgments in actions on bonds. In any action pending at the time this section as hereby added takes effect, or hereafter commenced during the emergency other than an action to foreclose a mortgage, to recover a judgment for any indebtedness secured by a mortgage on real property and which originated simultaneously with such mortgage and which is secured solely by such mortgage, against any person or corporation directly or indirectly or contingently liable therefor, any party against whom a money judgment is demanded, shall be entitled to set off the fair and reasonable market value of the mortgaged property less the amounts owing on prior liens and encumbrances. In any action to foreclose the mortgage commenced after the emergency as defined by the law shall have expired, a deficiency judgment may be recovered as though this section had not been enacted but the amount of any money judgment recovered as provided in this section shall be deducted in computing such deficiency judgment....

This act shall not apply to mortgages dated on or after July first, nineteen hundred thirty-two, or to any bond, collateral bond, guarantee, or extension agreement or other agreement or writing concerning or delivered in connection with any indebtedness secured by a mortgage dated on or after July first, nineteen hundred thirty-two.

"Section 1. Declaration of emergency. The legislature hereby declares the existence of a public emergency affecting the health, safety, comfort and economic condition of holders of bonds or certificates representing participating interests in mortgages of real property, arising out of the following circumstances:

"As a result of the difficulty in obtaining concerted action on the part of the holders of all of the participating interests in such mortgages, modifications thereof for the purpose of relieving future defaults and assuring the continuation of future payments thereon are under existing provisions of law impracticable. It is, therefore, hereby declared to be essential for the public interest to relieve such mortgages upon real estate from the mortgage recording tax imposed by the tax law. The provisions of this act shall be in effect until July first, nineteen hundred thirty-five.

"2. Chapter sixty-two of the laws of nineteen hundred nine, entitled 'An act in relation to taxation, constituting chapter sixty of the consolidated laws,' is hereby amended by inserting therein a new section, to be section two hundred fifty-two-a, to read as follows:

Chapter 181 - S. B. 180. "An Act to allow the counties, municipalities and other governing agencies, to refund tax sales certificates.

"Whereas, many counties, municipalities and other governing agencies in the State have bought and received tax sales certificates for lands in their several units, and now hold certificates for the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-one and years prior thereto; and

"Whereas, owing to the very low prices received by the farmers generally for their produce, and on account of the general economic stringency in the State, the owners of the lands covered by the tax sales certificates have been unable to redeem them; and

"Whereas, the sales of said lands at this time would work a hardship on the owners of said lands; and

"Whereas, it is probable that either the several counties or municipalities would have to become the final purchaser of said lands if foreclosed and the taxable values of said units are reduced; and

"Whereas, it is essential to the proper government of the State that the owner of lands be given another opportunity to redeem their lands; Now, therefore:

"The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

"Section 1. That the several counties, municipalities and other agencies of government owning taxes, or tax sales certificates for lands in their several units for the years one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven, one thousand nine hundred twenty-eight, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine, one thousand nine hundred thirty, and one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, at the request of the owner or owners of the land, are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to enter into agreements with the owners of the lands covered by said tax sales certificates whereby said taxes, or tax sales certificates, exclusive of interest and penalties, may be paid in installments covering a period not to exceed five years and bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable annually from and after the first day of April, 1933: Provided, that unless the said counties and the owners of lands covered by said taxes, or tax sales certificates, enter into said agreements on or before the first day of April, 1934, this section shall become inoperative and the said counties are authorized to proceed with foreclosure proceedings as hereinafter set out. Provided that as a condition precedent to this settlement the several agencies of government are authorized and empowered in their discretion to require the payment of the 1932 taxes by resolution duly passed by the governmental agencies.

"Sec. 2. When said agreement is entered into between the counties, municipalities, and other governing agencies and the owner of said land covered by said taxes, or tax sales certificates, they shall take from the owner a note in substantially the following form...

"Sec. 3. That the said note, when given and received as above set out, shall constitute a first lien on the lands described, superior to all other liens except current taxes, and shall be of the same dignity as those, and said notes shall be construed as a continuing lien on the land from the time the lien of the taxes first attached against said land and shall not be considered a novation, and the said county or municipality and other governing agency taking said note shall have the right of foreclosure on said land under the law governing foreclosure of sale of lands under tax sales certificates at any time after said note or any installment thereof is due and within twelve months thereafter. The said county, municipality or other governing agency shall have a right at its option to foreclose after the failure of any one of the payments as provided in said note but shall not be compelled to foreclose until the whole note is due and within twelve months thereafter.

"Sec. 4. All notes taken for taxes, or tax sales certificates hereunder, shall be and constitute a continuing lien from the time the taxes were originally assessed on the lands therein described, but the said notes shall not be subject to be reduced to a personal judgment.

"Sec. 5. Upon taking notes for taxes as above described, the Auditor or County Accountant, or other officer having charge of tax sales certificates, shall enter a notation of the same on the record of the tax sales certificates, and shall state on said record the amount of said note and the time the said installments thereof are payable, and the said officers shall endorse said tax sales certificates as follows: 'Absorbed in a note given this day as provided by Chapter one hundred and eighty-one Laws of one thousand nine hundred thirty-three,' and shall be signed by the said County Accountant or other officer, and the said tax sales certificate shall be kept by the County Accountant or other officer until the note taken therefor is paid or foreclosure proceedings thereon are completed...

"Sec. 6. Whenever a note is given and taken as heretofore provided, the same shall be registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County, in a book to be kept by him and marked 'Tax Liens,' said notes shall be prepared and recorded at the cost of the maker, and the fees for the same are hereby fixed as follows...

"Sec. 7. All tax liens held by counties, municipalities, and other governing agencies for the year one thousand nine hundred twenty-six and the years prior thereto, whether evidenced by the original tax certificates, or tax sales certificates, and upon which no foreclosure proceedings have been instituted, are hereby declared to be barred and uncollectible. Provided that no part of this Section or of this Act shall be construed as applying to liens for street and/or sidewalk improvements: Provided that this section shall not apply to Pamlico and Richmond Counties. [Sec. 7 amended by H. B. 1555, Chapter 399 so as to exempt McDowell County]

"Sec. 8. All counties, municipalities or other governing agencies holding tax sales certificates for lands for the years one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven, one thousand nine hundred twenty-eight, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine, one thousand nine hundred thirty, and one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, whether foreclosure proceedings have been instituted or not, are hereby given until October first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-four, to institute said proceedings, with all the rights and privileges and liens which they had at any time heretofore, which rights shall be in addition to and not in abrogation of the rights heretofore granted for foreclosure in the event a note is taken as hereinbefore provided.

"Sec. 9. The governing authorities of the counties, municipalities or other subdivisions holding any claim for delinquent taxes upon lands for any of the years 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930 and/or 1931 are hereby authorized and directed to accept from any person or persons owning any interest in or holding any lien upon lands the principal amount of the taxes, less interest and penalties, in cash, less 10% if paid before April 1, 1934, or upon the installment plan provided for in section one of this act. Provided the maker of any installment note may anticipate the payment thereof in whole or in part by paying the same in cash less 10% discount, if paid before installment is due... [Sec. 9 amended by S. B. 731, Chapter 513 to exempt all drainage districts in Pitt County.]

"Sec. 11. That any person, firm or corporation, who at the time of the purchase of any lands of any county or municipality at any tax sale is the bona fide owner or holder of a first mortgage or deed of trust covering the same, or any part thereof, for the payment of money or other valuable consideration, shall upon failure of the former owner or owners to take title thereto under this act within the time specified and after giving thirty days notice by registered mail to the last known address of said owner or owners be entitled to receive a deed therefor from the county or municipality in the same manner and under the same terms as provided for said owner or owners under this act.

"Sec. 12. Any county, municipality or other governmental agency which has heretofore bought lands under foreclosure proceedings are hereby "Sec. 13. Where any person has purchased a tax certificate in good faith, the owner is allowed to redeem same until April 1, 1934, by reimbursing the purchaser of the full amount paid with all necessary and proper expenses incurred, together with six per cent interest thereon.

"Section 1. Any owner of real estate, or other person, firm or corporation having a legal or equitable interest therein, may apply to a Judge of the Superior Court, prior to the confirmation of any sale of such real estate by a mortgagee, trustee, commissioner or other person authorized to sell the same, to enjoin such sale or the confirmation thereof, upon the ground that the amount bid or price offered therefor is inadequate ^{and inequitable} and will result in irreparable damage to the owner or other interested person, or upon any other legal or equitable ground which the Court may deem sufficient: Provided, that the court or Judge enjoining such sale or the confirmation thereof, whether by a temporary restraining order or injunction to the hearing, shall, as a condition precedent, require of the plaintiff or applicant such bond or deposit as may be necessary to indemnify and save harmless the mortgagee, trustee, cestui que trust, or other person enjoined and affected thereby against costs, depreciation, interest and other damages, if any, which may result from the granting of such order or injunction: Provided further, that in other respects the procedure shall be as is now prescribed by law in cases of injunction and receivership, with the right of appeal to the Supreme Court from any such order or injunction.

"Sec. 3. When any sale of real estate or personal property has been made by a mortgagee, trustee, or other person authorized to make the same, at which the mortgagee, payee or other holder of the obligation thereby secured becomes the purchaser and takes title either directly or indirectly, and thereafter such mortgagee, payee or other holder of the secured obligation, as aforesaid, shall sue for and undertake to recover a deficiency judgment against the mortgagor, trustor or other maker of any such obligation whose property has been so purchased, it shall be competent and lawful for the defendant against whom such deficiency judgment is sought to allege and show as matter of defense and off-set, but not by way of counter-claim, that the property sold was fairly worth the amount of the debt secured by it at the time and place of sale or that the amount bid was substantially less than its true value, and, upon such showing, to defeat or off-set any deficiency judgment against him, either in whole or in part; Provided, this section shall not affect nor apply to the rights of other purchasers or of innocent third parties, nor shall it be held to affect or defeat the negotiability of any note, bond or other obligation secured by such mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument; Provided, further, this section shall not apply to foreclosure sales made pursuant to an order or decree of court nor to any judgment sought or rendered in any foreclosure suit nor to any sale heretofore made and confirmed.

"Sec. 6. That said Treasurer-Tax Collector shall collect all taxes and special assessments levied by the Board of County Commissioners of Mecklenburg County and the Mecklenburg Drainage Commission, and in the collection thereof shall accept payments in monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual installments at the election of the taxpayer, with interest at a rate of not exceeding eight per centum per annum for the first year after the due date thereof, and not exceeding six per centum per annum after such first year, and upon such collections shall render partial or full receipts consistent with such payments: Provided, that license and franchise taxes shall be paid in full before the issuance of such license and before the business licensed shall be carried on: Provided further, no court costs, attorneys' fees or other charges whatever, except the interest herein set forth, shall be assessed against or added to any delinquent tax...

"Sec. 21. That when any real estate is included in any tax return upon default by any taxpayer to timely pay any taxes or assessments within one year after the due date thereof, the Treasurer-Tax Collector, or in case of delinquent city taxes or assessments, the Collector of Revenue for the City of Charlotte, after thirty days notice to said taxpayer, given by mail to his last named address, shall execute and deliver to the Clerk of the Superior Court of Mecklenburg County a certificate of such nonpayment running in the name of Mecklenburg County or the City of Charlotte, if for city taxes or assessments, as plaintiff and the person, firm or corporation in whose name the property was returned, taxed or assessed as defendant, with a description of one or more lots or parcels of land included in the tax return made by said defendant, or in case of a special assessment for local improvements on the land, upon which said assessment is a specific lien, together with all persons, firms, corporations or associations presently owning any of the said lots or parcels of land so included in said certificate and with all trustees, cestui que trust, and mortgages named in needs of trust, mortgages or other recorded instruments constituting liens on any of said lots or parcels of land so included in said certificate, as additional defendants, with a reference to the book and page in which said instruments constituting liens on said property are recorded, also reciting the year for which said taxes or assessments were levied, the date of such levy, principal amount thereof, the date from which such principal amount bears interest, the rate of interest to be paid thereon, the date from which such lien was established, and such other information as may be pertinent thereto.

"Sec. 22. That the Clerk of the Superior Court of Mecklenburg County shall, upon receipt of such certificate, cause a transcript thereof to be entered upon a record to be known as the tax judgment docket and alphabetically indexed as to defendants in a record to be known as the tax judgment index, and upon such entry any person, firm, corporation or association, appearing therein as a defendant, may, within thirty days from the docketing of such transcript as herein provided, file in duplicate in the office of the said Clerk a petition showing cause, if any, why such docketing and indexing of said transcript should be stricken out or amended.

from the filing date thereof to answer or demur thereto, and said cause shall thereupon proceed to trial and judgment before the Clerk, with the taxation of such costs and the same right of appeal to the Superior Court, and then to the Supreme Court, as allowed by law in special proceedings.

"Sec. 24. That upon the docketing and indexing of said transcript as herein provided, said judgment shall be a judgment of the Superior Court, and it shall be a continuation of the lien created by the tax levy or assessment: Provided, however, that it shall be a lien only on the lands liable for said tax; and, Provided further, that none of the defendants named in said transcript, except the defendant(s) in whose name(s) the property is returned for taxes shall be personally liable for the payment of said judgment, the liability of said defendants, other than the defendant(s) in whose name(s) said property was returned for taxes, being only to the extent of the interest which they may have in the land upon which said judgment shall constitute a lien.

"Sec. 25. That at any time after twelve months from the date of the docketing and indexing of said transcript as herein provided, said Treasurer-Tax Collector, or Collector of Revenue for the City of Charlotte, if for city taxes or assessments, may cause execution to be issued thereon by the Clerk and delivered to the Sheriff of Mecklenburg County in the same manner and form as allowed by law for execution on judgments of the Superior Court: Provided, however, that the execution shall be issued only against the property described in the said transcript, and the Sheriff shall proceed with the sale of any of said property described in the transcript as allowed by law for the sale of property in satisfaction of judgments of the Superior Court: Provided, however, that no homestead or exemption shall be allowed defendants.

However, the Treasurer-Tax Collector or Collector of Revenue for the City of Charlotte, if for city taxes or assessments, shall require the owner, upon his application for a release, to pay all his personal property tax charged on the return: Provided, that in all cases where tracts of land have been subdivided into lots, but have been returned, charged and assessed as a whole tract, that the Treasurer-Tax Collector or the Collector of Revenue, if for city taxes or assessments, or the Clerk of the Superior Court, if the certificate of non-payment of such taxes has been delivered to him (together with the Tax Supervisor) shall, upon application of any person interested, make an investigation and determine the pro rata part of said assessment justly applicable to any lot or lots, and shall thereupon, upon the payment of the tax, fairly ascertained to be due against said lot or lots, together with a ratable share of the tax charged against the personal property of the party in whose name the land is charged and assessed, release the said lot from the tax lien or judgment. However, the Treasurer-Tax Collector or Collector of Revenue, if for city taxes or assessments, or the Clerk of the Superior Court shall require the owner, upon his application for a release, to pay all of his personal property tax charged against him on the return.

"Sec. 27. The Treasurer-Tax Collector, or Collector of Revenue, if for city taxes or assessments, in the event that all the real property included in the transcript is released from the lien of the taxes and judgment before the whole of the taxes due, levied or assessed which were a lien on said property are satisfied, either by payment or by sale of any of the property under execution by the Sheriff, or in his discretion, at any time prior thereto, shall deliver to the Clerk of the Superior Court additional certificate(s) of non-payment for the balance due thereon which shall be docketed and indexed by the Clerk of the Superior Court as herein provided, with the same force and effect as said original transcript and judgment:

"Provided, that in the event any petition is filed by any defendant contesting the tax or assessment on any lot or parcel of land, that lot or tract of land and the tax thereon shall not be included in any additional certificate of nonpayment until after a final adjudication of the controversy...

Legislation Enacted - 1933 Regular Session.

North Dakota. Laws, statutes, etc. Laws passed at the twenty-third session of the legislative assembly of the State of North Dakota, begun... on Tuesday, January third, 1933, and concluding, Friday, March third, 1933. 554 pp. Grand Forks, N. D., Holt Printing Co., 1933.

Chapter 93 - S. D. No. 283 - (Hamilton). "An Act authorizing and requiring the Board of County Commissioners where drain bonds are issued, to retire outstanding drain warrants to pay a just amount of the drain assessments against tracts of land acquired by the county by tax title in cases, and where the value of the land so acquired exceeds the amount which would have been required to redeem the land at the time tax deed was issued and the amount of taxes which probably would have been levied against the land if title had not passed to the county. Be it enacted...

"1. When the Board of County Commissioners of any county exercise their authority, and issue drainage bonds to retire outstanding warrants against the drain fund and it appears that the county has acquired tax title to any tract of land in the drain district, which tract would be subject to assessment for the payment of such bonds if the taxes on which the tax title is based had been paid, and the land had remained the property of the person who was the owner thereof at the time the drain was constructed, the County Commissioners shall make an appraisal of such tract of land to which it holds such tax title, and if it appears that any such tract is reasonably worth more than the amount which would have been required to redeem at the time the tax deed was issued and the taxes which probably would have been levied against such tract while it has been the property of the county, if the same had remained the property of the private owner the County Commissioners shall, and they are authorized to, pay such amount of the drain assessments against such tract of land as in their judgment is just and fair, having in mind on one hand the interests of the general taxpayers of the county, and, on the other hand, the rights and interests of the owners of land subject to drain assessments and taxes.

Be it enacted...

"1... Until the price of farm products produced in this state shall rise to a point to equal at least the cost of production, in comparison to the price of other commodities in general, entering into the business of agriculture, the Supreme Court of this State and all District and County Courts in this state shall have power, (if they deem it for the best interest of both litigants,) to extend the time for serving and filing all papers requisite and necessary for the final determination of causes; and said courts may, in like manner, stay the entry of judgment or execution thereon, or defer the signing of all orders for judgment and other process, or defer terms of court whenever in their judgment the strictly legal procedure in any cause will confiscate or tend to confiscate the property of any litigant by forcing the sale of agricultural products upon a ruinous market.

"2... Whenever any foreclosure proceeding is pending in any court in this state and the amount of the debt is less than the value of the property involved, and when any order for judgment will have the force and effect of depriving a defendant of his home and confiscating his property, the court may construe further proceedings to be unconscionable and delay the signing of such order to such time as he shall deem it advisable and just to enter the same.

"3... The Courts of this state may take judicial notice of the situation the producers and laborers find themselves in at a time when prices of farm products are confiscatory, and upon the ground of public policy may do all necessary things to be done to carry out the provisions of this Act.

This Act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall take effect and be in force for a period of two years only from and after its passage and approval, and the period within which a mortgage or execution debtor may redeem real estate from a sale thereafter made shall be governed by the laws now in effect.

"Approved February 21, 1933." -pp. 226-227.

The following regarding the constitutionality of this act is from The Evening Star, Washington, D. C., June 15, 1933: "Constitutionality of a North Dakota law extending the time for redemption of real estate after mortgage foreclosure and execution sales has been upheld by the State Supreme Court.

"It ruled, however, that the law, which became effective last February for a two-year period, applied only to mortgages executed and foreclosed during that time.

"The Legislature passed the emergency measure to provide relief to mortgagors unable to meet obligations.

"Gov. William Langer in a proclamation today said any one who had lost title to his home, rural or urban, since July 1, 1931, could retain possession of it for the purpose of making application for the refinancing of the debt thereon, under the provisions of the acts of Congress."

"He said he did so to make his debt and foreclosure moratorium of several months ago conform to Federal refinancing measures."

"The county treasurer, when authorized by resolution of the board of county commissioners approving general rules applicable to all the taxpayers in the county, shall permit payment of the semi-annual installment of taxes or assessments levied against real estate or upon any delinquent real estate taxes or assessments, which might have accrued, in as many payments as authorized in the resolution of the board of county commissioners but in no way shall such payment method conflict with an existing law with regard to the penalties to be assessed at the close of any certain collection period.

Governor's Proclamation, 1933.

Oklahoma orders mortgage holiday. Governor directs sheriffs to delay serving of writs in foreclosure cases. U. S. Daily, Mar. 1, 1933, p. 7, col. 4.

"Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 28. Governor Murray has issued an executive order to the sheriffs of Oklahoma's 77 counties, authorizing and directing them not to serve any writ of execution, dispossessing any real estate owner, and not to make sale of any property under foreclosure proceedings, the order of any court to the contrary notwithstanding, prior to March 15, 1933, in order that the Legislature may enact a moratorium law.

"The Governor stated he can not force sheriffs to obey his orders, but said he will protect all who do follow his directions by use of his pardoning power in case any of them are cited for contempt of court and even by use of the National Guard if necessary..."

Governor's Proclamation, 1934.

Murray again overruled. Natl. Underwriter 38th yr., no. 5, Feb. 1, 1934, p.33.

"Oklahoma City, Jan. 31. -For the second time Attorney General King has ruled against Governor Murray's executive order waiving penalties on delinquent taxes, where such taxes had been paid by July 1. The attorney general gave an opinion to a joint senate and house committee that the legislature is the only source from which such relief can be provided, and this must be done by proper legislation. Any order, as such, from the governor is not sufficient under the constitution."

Test Oklahoma tax order. Natl. Underwriter 38th yr., no. 8, Feb. 15, 1934, p.34.

"Oklahoma City, Feb. 14. -A court test of Governor Murray's much-discussed executive order advising county treasurers to allow payment of delinquent taxes without penalties, which involved ability of officials to provide required bonds, has been started and will be taken directly to the Supreme Court..."

"The test case will be that of R. G. Cole, Ardmore taxpayer, who offered payment of his taxes, but refused to pay accrued penalties. This offer was turned down by the treasurer of Carter county, and mandamus proceedings begun to compel him to accept the taxes. This will bring the matter directly to the highest court."

Apr. 30, 1934.

"Foreclosure sales of tax-delinquent properties may be held in Oklahoma only if and when Governor W. H. Murray - 'Alfalfa Bill' - consents..."

"Governor Murray issued an order Jan. 15 for remission of penalties provided taxes are paid by Sept. 15; the proposed tax sales, he asserted, would violate that order. An Oklahoma law provides a two-year delay, at the discretion of the State courts, in mortgage foreclosure proceedings."

House Joint Resolution No. 18. "Whereas there are in this state many homes, farms and other real properties subject to mortgage, or being purchased under conditional contract of sale, and the owners, or purchasers, in many cases, due to the present economic depression, are unable to make payment of such mortgages or contracts and in numerous instances are unable to make payment in full of the taxes and of the maturing instalments and interest, and because thereof many mortgages and contracts are or presently will be liable to foreclosure; and

"Whereas while most holders of mortgages and contracts of sale have been lenient and even generous in declining to foreclose where the makers of such mortgages or contracts are making honest efforts to meet their payments but are not able so to do, there are nevertheless certain mortgage or contract holders who, notwithstanding conditions now existing, proceed to foreclose on default in the terms thereof even though the mortgagor or purchaser is making bona fide efforts to pay, and it being deemed that foreclosures in such cases are contrary to sound public policy, and that declaration to that effect should be had and made by the legislative assembly; now, therefore, Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Oregon, the Senate jointly concurring:

"That it is inimical to the public interest and contrary to sound public policy that mortgages or conditional contracts of sale of real property be foreclosed during the present emergency where the mortgagor or purchaser is making honest, bona fide efforts to meet the terms specified in his mortgage or contract and is unable to meet such terms; be it further

"Resolved, that it should be and hereby is recommended to courts of equity wherein foreclosures are sought that the maxim that a plaintiff seeking the aid of equity should be required to do equity be strictly regarded, and that during the present emergency the court should require evidence to be produced in all such mortgage or conditional contract of sale foreclosure suits before entering a decree of foreclosure, and if from such evidence so produced, it is apparent to the court that there has been an honest though unavailing effort to meet the terms of the mortgage or conditional contract of sale, the court should give due consideration to the facts and attempt an amicable adjustment of the default between the parties; and if unable to accomplish that purpose then the court, within the time allowed by law, should render a decree consonant with the equities of the case before it; and be it further

"Resolved, that it is the consensus of opinion of this the thirty-seventh legislative assembly that this resolution become effective immediately upon its adoption.

"Filed in the office of the secretary of state March 2, 1933." - pp. 910-911.

House Concurrent Resolution No. 2. "Whereas much of the real property in the state is encumbered with mortgages which are already due and in default; and

"Whereas the debtors are unable to pay either the principal or interest on such mortgages and are seeking means of relief from the many foreclosures which appear to be eminent [imminent]; and

"Whereas if foreclosures are prosecuted and properties sold thereunder many persons will be rendered homeless and deprived of their means of support and may become public charges and will lose their life's savings in the loss of their homes and farms; and

"Whereas any such loss of shelter and means of support will work great and irreparable economic loss upon the whole state; and

"Whereas many bills, having for their purpose the amelioration of such conditions have been introduced at this session of the legislative assembly and must have the thorough and careful consideration of both the senate and the house of representatives; and

"Whereas such consideration can but be given to such legislation by a joint committee of both the senate and the house of representatives; now, therefore

"Be it resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Oregon, the Senate concurring therein:

"That a special committee, composed of three members of the senate, to be appointed by the president of the senate, and three members of the house of representatives, to be appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives, shall be appointed to consider all of such legislation and to make a careful study of any ideas and legislation which might tend in any way to relieve the above mentioned and to frame such legislation as such committee may deem advisable and cause the same to be introduced.

Chapter 18 - [H. B. 4]. "An Act to aid Tillamook county by granting and appropriating to Tillamook county certain moneys from state taxes assessed, levied and collected from persons and upon property within Tillamook county and canceling all unpaid state taxes; and declaring an emergency.

"Whereas during the month of August, 1933, the eastern portion of Tillamook county was swept by fire which damaged timber and property of the value of more than $30,000,000, and

"Whereas the bonded and warrant indebtedness of Tillamook county and the port districts and school districts which were affected by said fire amounts to more than $1,100,000, and

"Whereas there was due Tillamook county for taxes previously levied at the time of said fire more than $500,000 from the property damaged by said fire, which amount may be entirely lost, and the tax delinquency in Tillamook county for 1933 is 67 1/2 per cent of the total levy, and

"Whereas Tillamook county contracted a bonded indebtedness of $426,000 of which practically all was used in the construction and improvement of highways through Tillamook county, which are now a part of the highway system of the state of Oregon, and the state may equitably reimburse Tillamook county to that extent by reason of the general benefit ensuing to the entire state by such expenditures, and

"Whereas the large bonded and warrant indebtedness of the said Tillamook county, the port districts and school districts makes it impossible for said county to pay any state taxes; and said fire has left Tillamook county and its people financially prostrate and it is necessary that the state of Oregon give relief and aid to Tillamook county in order to preserve the financial credit thereof; now, therefore, Be it enacted...

"Section 1. That the payment by Tillamook county of the balance of state taxes due from said county for the year 1933, amounting to $31,392.70, be and the same hereby is waived and said taxes are hereby canceled.

"Section 2. It hereby is adjudged and declared that existing conditions are such that this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and owing to the urgent necessity of maintaining the public credit an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act shall take effect and be in full force and effect from and after its passage [and approval] by the governor.

"Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., that all or any tax penalties imposed by existing laws on county taxes in counties, other than those of the second class, and on city, borough, town, township, school district and poor district taxes due and payable to such local political subdivisions, where such taxes are paid before the first day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, except in counties and cities of the first class may be abated [in whole or in part, to the extent herein provided, by the political subdivision imposing the tax. Any ordinance or resolution abating penalties on taxes, as herein provided, shall contain a provision that such taxes must be paid within three months from the date the ordinance or resolution takes effect, and that, in default of such payment, the penalties shall continue to be imposed in the same manner as if such ordinance or resolution had not been adopted. Such ordinance or resolution may provide for a different amount of abatement or penalties in proportion to the promptness of payment of the delinquent taxes, but no abatement shall be authorized which would result in the amount of the penalty unabated being less than the interest at the rate of six per centum on the delinquent taxes from the date when such taxes become delinquent.

"In all cases where such taxes are collected under the general laws of this Commonwealth, this act shall [be construed to, apply to all taxes, whether or not liens for such taxes have been filed in the office of the prothonotary of any county, or the lands against which such taxes are charged have been returned to the county commissioners for tax sale purposes.

"Section 2. That said act is hereby further amended by adding, after section one, the following section:

"Section 1.1. In counties of this Commonwealth, other than counties of the second class, where, under existing special legislation passed prior to the adoption of the present Constitution, the penalties on county taxes are not imposed by the political subdivision imposing the tax but may be imposed by the delinquent tax collector or the constable, acting as collector of delinquent taxes, as his compensation for the collection thereof, the county commissioners, by resolution duly passed and recorded in the minutes of their meeting, may extend for a period of three months the time when the duplicate for the collection of such delinquent taxes shall be delivered to such delinquent tax collector or constable, and, during said period of three months, the taxpayers shall be permitted to pay said taxes to the county treasurer without either rebate or penalty; and such extension of time automatically shall extend for a like period of three months the time when such delinquent tax collector or constable shall be required to make settlement of his duplicate with the county treasurer.

collect such taxes, and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid; and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances,' as amended, by further providing for the sales of seated lands for delinquent taxes assessed and levied for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty, or any year prior thereto, where no sales have previously been made for delinquent taxes of that year, and validating liens on lands of taxes heretofore returned when land has not been advertised or sold..

"Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., that section eight of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eighty)... is hereby further amended to read as follows:

"Section 8. Such sale shall be made on the first Monday of August in the second year succeeding the year in which the respective taxes are assessed and levied, or on any day to which such sale may be adjourned, or readjourned from time to time, except in the case of taxes levied for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty, or any year prior [to the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty] thereto, and returned under the provisions of this or any other law, in which case and for such taxes the sale shall be held in the year one thousand nine hundred [thirty-one] thirty-three, or on any day to which such sale is adjourned or readjourned: Provided, that the advertisement and notice of a sale as required by this act, may be given preceding the date of any adjourned or readjourned sale, in which case no prior advertisement or notice shall be required, and in case the sales for different years' taxes be held on the same date, the advertisements and notices may be consolidated: Provided further, That if any such sale be adjourned or readjourned, after advertisement and notice, by public announcement at such sale, adjournment or readjournment, no additional advertisement or notice shall be necessary for such adjourned or readjourned sale: Provided further, that no such adjournment or readjournment shall be for a longer period than thirty days unless the county treasurer, with the consent in writing of the county commissioners and the approval of the judge of the court of the county in which the sale is pending, shall declare, at the time fixed for a sale or any adjournment or readjournments thereof, that because of widespread economic and business depression and unusual unemployment incident thereto, a sale would be inadvisable, in which case any such sale may be adjourned or readjourned at any one time and from time to time for a period not exceeding two years and six months, and in no case beyond the date of the actual holding of the first subsequent sale for any other year's taxes; provided, that when, after advertisement of a sale, it has been determined as aforesaid to adjourn any sale for taxes, the county treasurer shall publish, at the expense of the county, in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the county, if so many be published in the county, a brief notice or advertisement announcing said adjournment and the actual new date to which such sale for taxes has been adjourned...

"Section 2. No failure to advertise for sale any lands heretofore returned under this or any other act of Assembly, and no failure to hold any treasurer's sale of any such lands at the time required by law, shall be deemed to invalidate the lien of any tax assessed against such lands, but the lien on any such tax is hereby validated, and any such lands may be advertised and sold under the provisions of this act and the taxes due thereon collected in the same manner as if said lands had been returned under the provisions of this act.

No. 90. "An Act authorizing the courts of common pleas of this Commonwealth in certain cases to extend the return days of writs, and providing for the effect of such extensions.

"Section 1. Be it enacted, &c. that whenever the court of common pleas in any county in this Commonwealth shall have continued any sheriff's sale in such county by virtue of the authority granted said court by the resolution of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania adopted the eighth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, but did not extend the return day of the writ under authority of which such sale was about to be made, and because of the failure so to do the writ became null and void in the hands of the sheriff of such county and such sheriff was therefore unable to conduct the sale on or before the third day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, as prescribed by the resolutions, then, and in such case, the court of common pleas in any such county is hereby directed and empowered to, by order nunc pro tunc extend such return day until a day not later than May fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and any sale advertised and returned to such return day is hereby ratified and validated, and shall be considered and held to have the same force and effect as if properly made and returned to the original return day.

No. 137. "An Act authorizing courts of common pleas to stay writs of execution against, and tax sales of, certain real property in certain cases; providing for the continuance of return days of writs of execution; and authorizing sales thereon without issuance of further writs... Be it enacted...

"Section 2. Every court of common pleas of this Commonwealth shall have authority under the conditions hereinafter set forth, to stay any writ of execution from time to time, and for such periods as the court, in its discretion, may deem proper. Such stays shall be allowed only upon application of an owner, lienholder or any other person in interest, and, unless the plaintiff consent thereto, only upon the applicants showing to the court such facts as the court may deem sufficient to warrant such relief. In granting any such stay or continuance the court may impose such condition as it deems proper as to payment of costs, taxes, accruing interest, repairs, advertising and notice of sale, insurance, and any other pertinent matters.

"Section 3. In exercising the powers conferred by this act, a court shall have the discretion of a chancellor sitting in equity. It shall be a sufficient reason for the grant of a stay hereunder that immediate execution sale against the real property would work serious inequity by reason of the economic emergency hereinabove referred to.

"Section 4. The stay of any execution under this act shall continue the return day of the writ of execution to the first regular return day for such writs which shall occur after a sale held under such writ. In the meantime the writ shall remain in full force and effect, and sale may be made thereunder without the issuance of an alias or any other writ.

"Section 5. The powers herein conferred on courts of common pleas shall be in addition to all powers now possessed by such courts to stay and otherwise control writs of execution against real property, as herein defined.

"Section 6. This act shall become effective immediately upon final passage by the Legislature, and approved by the Governor, and shall continue in force only until the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five.

"Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., that whenever the county commissioners of any county have heretofore or shall hereafter purchase any real property at any county treasurer's sale for nonpayment of taxes under any act of Assembly authorizing such sale, and such property has not been redeemed or sold by the county as authorized by law, the county commissioners, subject to the approval of the court of common pleas, may, whether or not the period of redemption has expired, agree with the former owner of such property, or his heirs, to accept, in compromise of the amount of the taxes, penalties, interest and costs due, any sum less than the whole of such amount so due, whereupon either the county commissioners or the person with whom such agreement is made may petition the court of common pleas for confirmation of such agreement.

"Section 2. Upon presentation of such petition, the court shall fix a day, not more than ten days thereafter, for a hearing thereon. At least five days notice of such hearing shall be given to the taxing authorities of each municipal subdivision having tax claims against such real estate.

"Section 3. If after such hearing the court is satisfied that the proposed compromise is proper and to the advantage of the county and the other taxing authorities interested, it shall enter a decree approving such compromise settlement, or such other settlement as the court may find to be proper, and directing a conveyance of such property by the county to the former owner, or his heirs, upon the payment of the agreed amount and of all costs of the proceeding. The proceeds of such compromise shall be distributed to the respective taxing authorities in proportion to their tax claims. The title conveyed shall be free

At the time fixed by or in accordance with law for any county treasurers sale of seated or unseated lands during the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to declare such sale or sales adjourned until the time fixed by law for such sale or sales in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four. No. 59. "An Act to protect the owners of mortgaged property during the present emergency by limiting the amount of deficiency judgments during a certain period.

"Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., that whenever any real property is sold on any execution on the foreclosure of any mortgage, or on a judgment entered on any obligations secured by mortgage, and the sum for which such property was sold is not sufficient to satisfy the debt, interest and costs, the plaintiff or use plaintiff shall, within six months after such sale, petition the court out of which such writ of execution issued to fix the fair value of the property sold. At least ten days' notice of the presentation of such petition shall be given to the defendant or defendants and to all parties whose interest appears on the record. Such petition shall be heard by a judge of such court sitting without a jury, or may, by rule adopted by such court, be referred to a master for hearing and determination, subject to confirmation by the court: Provided, That the fee of any such master shall in no case exceed one hundred dollars, nor the costs of any proceedings before a master the sum of fifty dollars.

"At all such hearings any party in interest may introduce in evidence testimony of the fair value of the premises sold at the time of the sale. In the event that the fair value so determined is greater than the price for which the property was sold, the amount of such fair value shall be deducted from the amount of the judgment, interest and costs and a deficiency judgment entered for the balance.

"If the plaintiff or use plaintiff shall fail to present such petition within six months after such sale, the prothonotary shall, upon application of the defendant or other party in interest, enter satisfaction of such judgment. Such satisfaction shall have the effect of terminating as well the liability of all persons bound by any obligation securing the payment of such mortgage debt.

"The defendant in the foreclosure proceedings or judgment, or the real owner of the property sold, or any other person or persons bound by any obligation securing the payment of the said mortgage debt, or other person in interest, may, at any time after the sale, petition the court in like manner to fix the fair value of the property sold, and shall give to the plaintiff and use plaintiff at least ten days' notice of the presentation of such petition, whereupon the court shall determine the fair value in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of a petition by the plaintiff or use plaintiff.

"In either case, whether the petition is presented by the plaintiff or use plaintiff, or by the defendant or other party in interest, any party may, during the period of notice required by this act, demand a jury trial, whereupon the fair value of the property shall be determined and fixed by a jury trial as in other cases.

"Section 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby suspended during the period this act shall remain in effect.

"Section 3. The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment, and shall remain in force only until the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five.

"Approved - The 17th day of January, A. D. 1934.

"When I designated deficiency judgments as one of the subjects for consideration by the special session of the Legislature, I hoped that Pennsylvania might obtain permanent, comprehensive and sound legislation on the subject.

"A carefully drawn bill passed the House, but was killed in committee in the Senate, to make way for this poorly drawn and utterly inadequate measure.

"This bill, in a few hastily and poorly constructed paragraphs, makes broad changes in rights, obligations and procedures which have been established for over a century, and which involve many complicated situations. The result is that the bill is sadly deficient. It makes no express provision for many important situations which are bound to arise. Many uncertainties will beset the way of those who are affected by it. It will operate unequally in technically different, but substantially the same, situations.

"Nevertheless, I have approved the act because its basic principle is sound, and the present economic emergency makes the need for some such legislation acute. The benefits of the act will outweigh its deficiencies during the short period of its life or until the Legislature can remedy it. -Gifford Pinchot."

No. 10. "An Act authorizing the Treasurer of Puerto Rico to defer the payment of taxes due and pending collection on real property, or which may have been sold for taxes and may be within the legal period of redemption for the year 1932-33 and preceding years; determining the manner and conditions for such deferment; extending the term of duration of the preferred lien constituted by the taxes which are hereby deferred; authorizing the Treasurer to borrow money and providing the manner for payment of the interest and to redeem the debt contracted; providing funds for the application of this Act; and for other purposes. Be it enacted...

"Section 1. The Treasurer of Puerto Rico is hereby authorized to defer the payment of the taxes due and pending collection on real property in Puerto Rico for the year 1932-33 and preceding years, in the manner and under the conditions provided in this Act, and subject to the regulations that said Treasurer may prescribe in accordance herewith.

"Section 2. Any tax payer indebted for taxes on real property for the year 1932-33, or preceding years, may apply to the Treasurer of Puerto Rico to defer the collection of such taxes to be paid in installments in the manner prescribed in this Act; Provided, that this Act shall also be applicable to all natural or artificial persons whose properties may have been sold for nonpayment of taxes and adjudicated to The People of Puerto Rico and which may be within the legal period of redemption.

"Section 3. The Treasurer of Puerto Rico, upon application by any taxpayer, may, if he is satisfied of the apparent impossibility of the taxpayer to pay the delinquent taxes, authorize the deferment of the collection of the taxes which said taxpayer may owe on real property for the year 1932-33 and preceding years.

"The taxes so deferred shall be paid during a term of ten (10) years beginning July 1, 1934 by tenths; the installment shall become due July 1 of each year, and the first installment shall become due July 1, 1934, and the tenth installment July 1, 1944.

"Section 4. The collection of each of the tax receipts on real property the taxes on which may be deferred, shall be suspended, and the Treasurer of Puerto Rico shall order that the amount of taxes owed on each of such real properties, not including interest, surcharges, fees for embargo proceedings, and expenditures for notices of public sale, shall be made to appear on a new receipt which shall be called receipt of deferred taxes. These receipts of deferred taxes shall be divided into ten sections, to be collected on the dates hereinbefore provided, and shall bear interest at the rate of three (3) per cent per annum counting from July 1, 1933.

"Section 5. The amount of the deferred tax receipts issued under this Act shall constitute a preferred lien on the property subject to the unpaid and deferred tax. This lien shall have preference and priority over any other lien which affects or may hereafter affect said properties, and this lien shall not be cancelled until the deferred taxes and interest thereon shall have been totally paid.

"Section 6. Any natural or artificial person who may acquire properties, whether by purchase, inheritance, donation or otherwise, which are liable for taxes which have been deferred, as provided by this Act, shall be subject to all the obligations and privileges provided by this Act.

"Section 7. It shall be optional for any taxpayer who may be covered by the provisions of this Act, to pay in advance any part of the whole amount of the deferred tax receipts before they become due.

"Section 8. It shall be an express condition for the deferment that the Treasurer may make of the delinquent taxes of a taxpayer, that the latter shall pay punctually on the dates of their respective maturity the property taxes assessed on said property after July 1, 1933, and the installments of delinquent taxes that may have been deferred. As a reward for the faithful fulfilment of the contract of deferment, the Treasurer shall divide into ten equal parts the aggregate amount that the taxpayer owes for interest, surcharges, fees for embargo proceedings, and expenses for notices of public sale, at the time of making the deferment, and shall remit the proportional amount of those corresponding to the installment or installments of the deferred debt that the taxpayer may have paid. It shall be understood for the purposes of this Act, that any taxpayer has paid punctually if he pays before December 31, 1933, the amount of the first semester of the property taxes levied for the fiscal year 1933-34...

"Section 9. If any taxpayer whose taxes have been deferred under this Act fails to pay at maturity the taxes that may have been levied for the year 1933-34 and succeeding years, as they fall due, or fails to pay the corresponding part of the receipt for taxes deferred under this Act, when it falls due, the deferred taxes shall be deemed to have become due and the Treasurer of Puerto Rico shall collect them by means of embargo proceedings as provided by the political Code, adding to the amount of the taxes deferred and unpaid, the amount for interest, surcharges, fees for embargo proceedings, and expenses for notices of public sale that the taxpayer may owe at the time of deferment, less the total amount of the taxes deferred and paid that may have been remitted by the Treasurer, as provided in Section 8 of this Act...

"Section 1... Be it enacted... It shall be the duty of the Treasurers and auditors of Edgefield and Oconee Counties within thirty days after passage of this Act to check over all tax executions in their respective counties, take out such as may be determined by them, after thorough investigation, to be uncollectible and mark the same 'nulla bona', and determine the amount of delinquent taxes, including penalties, represented by each execution in each of the school district of said counties. When the said officers of the respective counties have determined the amount of delinquent taxes, including penalties, against any property or taxpayer in their county, they shall make a list thereof by school districts and file one copy with the treasurer, one with the auditor, and one with the sheriff of such county. As used in this Act, delinquent taxes means the uncollected taxes assessed for the year 1933 and previous years, including penalties: Provided, That in determining the amount of delinquent taxes as directed above, the treasurer and auditors shall not include any fees for either the treasurer or the sheriff. Nor shall there be allowed any commission for collecting any delinquent taxes; however, the sheriff shall be allowed the mileage now provided by law for serving executions. The Treasurer is authorized and directed to receive payment of all delinquent taxes in seven equal, successive, annual installments, the first to become due and payable at the time the current taxes for the year 1933 are payable and before execution is issued therefor, and the subsequent installments at the same time in the succeeding years. In the event that any installment is not paid within the time provided in this Act, or should the tax for the current year become delinquent, then the remaining unpaid installments shall immediately become due and collectible, and the treasurer is authorized to turn over or issue execution therefor, as the case may be, and the sheriff is authorized and directed to proceed to enforce collection thereof as now provided by law. Until any execution is actually delivered to the sheriff, the treasurer is authorized to receive payment of any installments or of current taxes; Provided, however, That upon payment to the sheriff before sale of any unpaid annual installments of delinquent taxes then due, including penalties, and of all unpaid current taxes and lawful chargeable expenses in connection with either, the installments maturing at a future date shall be restored to the original status provided by this Act: Provided, further, That any taxpayer may anticipate the maturity of any one or more installments, or of all the installments, and pay the same before due: Provided, further, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to any taxes or personal property unless the tax lien covers real property, nor shall it apply under the law providing for segregation of taxes when the real estate becomes discharged from the tax lien, and in either event the whole or any portion of unpaid installments of taxes on personal property shall become payable and subject to collection and execution as now provided by law for delinquent taxes: Provided, further, That in the event of sale in a foreclosure action involving real estate or personal property, all remaining unpaid tax installments shall immediately become due and collectible and the officer making such sale shall pay the same from the proceeds thereof: Provided, further, That if any taxpayer is about to remove from the State, or attempts, or is about to, or does dispose of his property, or the same is transferred by whatever means, and the grantee, or transferee of the same does not promptly notify the sheriff of such transfer, and of his intention to continue the payments of the installments of taxes yet unpaid, the sheriff is authorized, directed and empowered to forthwith levy upon and sell the property under such tax execution: Provided, however, That nothing in this Act shall be construed to permit the payment of road and poll taxes in installments except when such road and poll taxes are returned and assessed together with real property.

"2... Whenever a taxpayer has paid his current taxes, plus the annual installments of delinquent taxes due for that year, as provided in this Act, he shall be deemed to have paid all taxes legally levied against him and due for each year. Provided, That the lien for any unpaid taxes shall be extended for a period of ten years from the date of the payment of the last installment by any taxpayer: Provided, further, That nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent the apportionment and segregation of taxes upon the request of any grantee or mortgagee as provided by law, and all taxes so segregated may be continued to be paid in installments as provided in this Act: Provided, further, That this Act shall be considered as cumulative to and as an amendment of the provisions of the general tax laws now in force and effect, and as repealing only such Acts or parts of Acts as may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof...

No. 385. "An Act to Provide for the payment of delinquent taxes in installments in Colleton County, and to permit the re-purchase of real estate in installments from the Forfeited Land Commission of said County.

"Section 1... Be it enacted... It is hereby made the duty of the Sheriff of Colleton County, with the assistance of the Auditor of said County, to determine immediately after the passage of this Act the aggregate amount of delinquent taxes and penalties, and separately the amount of costs which have accrued and been earned, on the several executions covering real estate, or real estate with personal property, issued by the Treasurer of Colleton County against such property or taxpayer for the year 1931 and years prior thereto, and divide the taxes and penalties into five (5) equal parts and the costs into two (2) equal parts. The owner of any such property, or taxpayer, shall be permitted without further charges, penalties, or costs, to pay such delinquent taxes with penalties in five (5) equal, successive, annual installments, the first installment to become due and payable the first day of January, 1934, provided there be also added to, and paid with, the first two installments one portion each of said costs. Should the taxpayer fail to pay said installments when due, then the remaining unpaid installments shall immediately become due, and it shall be the duty of the Sheriff to proceed as provided by law for the collection of such delinquent taxes, penalties and costs. The taxpayer shall have the right to anticipate the payment of any or all of said installments. As the said installments are paid to the Sheriff he shall issue his official receipt therefor and credit the oldest execution in his hands with the amount of such payment by entering the same thereon together with the date of payment. If any such payment or payments amount to the sum due on such execution, the same shall be so marked and due return made thereon. If such payment or payments exceed the amount due under any such execution, the surplus shall be credited on the next oldest execution. The Sheriff shall keep adequate records in his office showing the amount and date of the payment of any and all installments, with the name of the taxpayer making the same. The installments payments herein provided for shall not extend to executions not covering some real property. The payment of delinquent taxes in installments as herein provided shall apply also to any items due by taxpayers where sales of real estate have been held and the land bid in by the Forfeited Land Commission but no deed delivered to it, and not already re-sold by the Forfeited Land Commission. The sheriff shall not deliver any title deed to the County Forfeited Land Commission until the defaulting taxpayer has failed to pay the first or any succeeding installment as herein provided. In the cases of tax sales of real estate to others than the Forfeited Land Commission where no deed has been delivered, the taxes for which the sale was made may be paid by the defaulting taxpayer, in the same manner of installments as herein-above provided for delinquent taxes and the Sheriff shall pay to the parties who have complied with bids any monies paid in installments already paid to said purchaser, Provided, further, That where deed to real estate has been delivered to the Forfeited Land Commission, the defaulting taxpayer shall have the right and privilege of re-purchasing the said real estate, if still owned by the said commission, by paying to the said commission the full amount of the taxes, penalties and costs for which sold, in installments, in the amount and at the time and in the manner above provided for delinquent taxes still under execution: Provided, the first installment should be paid on or before January 1st, 1934, and Provided, that failure to pay any installment when due shall work a forfeiture in the right to so re-purchase in installments. Provided, further, that in all cases under this section the payment of any or all of said installments may be anticipated.

"2... No execution shall be issued for 1933 taxes until after July 1st, 1933, and in all cases where any such defaulting taxpayer shall on or before July 1st, 1933, pay at least one-fourth (1/4) of said taxes with a penalty of two (2%) per cent, no execution shall be issued against such defaulting taxpayer so paying until the fifteenth day of October, 1933, at which time a further penalty of five (5%) per cent shall be added on the balance of taxes due. Between July 1st and October 15th, such defaulting taxpayer so paying shall have the right and privilege of paying the remainder of said taxes with penalties in installments, at such times as he may desire, in multiples of one-fourth (1/4) of the amount of taxes and penalties. On all executions which may be issued for said 1932 taxes no costs or mileage prior to advertisement and sale shall be added except fifty (50) cents thereon to the Treasurer and fifty (50) cents thereon to the Sheriff: Provided, however, That delinquent taxpayers in order to secure the benefit of the installment payments provided for in this section shall pay all State taxes prior to July first, 1933, which State taxes shall be a part of the 1/4 installment payable July first.

"3... The Owner or holder of any mortgage, judgment or other lien on any property covered by delinquent taxes shall be permitted to pay such delinquent taxes, penalties and costs in full or in installments provided for above in order to protect such lien.

"5... All Act or parts of Acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such inconsistency.

"6... This Act shall take effect immediately upon its approval by the Governor.

No. 388. "An Act to provide for the redemption of real estate now owned or hereafter purchased by or in behalf of the Forfeited Land Commission of Clarendon County by the payment of the delinquent taxes assessed against such real estate in six annual installments upon certain terms and conditions and to prescribe the duties of the officers of said County with respect thereto; and to provide for the payment of tax executions now in the hands of the Sheriff in installments under certain conditions.

"Section 1... Be it enacted... In all cases in Clarendon County where real estate has been sold, or may hereafter be sold, under tax executions, and bid in by or in behalf of the Forfeited Land Commission of said county and the year of redemption, now provided by law, shall have elapsed, without the sale or other disposition of said real estate by said Commission or the County Board of Commissioners, the former owner or owners thereof, his, her, its or their heirs, successors, devisees or mortgagees, may redeem said lands from said tax sale upon payment of the total of all of the taxes assessed against said real estate and in arrears, together with all penalties and costs, in six equal, annually successive installments, together with interest at the rate of six (6%) per cent per annum on each of said installments from the date of the expiration of the year of redemption until payment, provided that application be made for the exercise of such privilege to the Supervisor of said county by any party entitled thereto within ninety days after the approval of this Act with respect to all real estate upon which the year of redemption has expired as the time of the approval of this Act and within sixty days after the expiration of the year of redemption with respect to such real estate as may hereafter be sold in said county under tax executions. Upon the application of any party so entitled to the County Supervisor, within the time hereinabove prescribed, the said Supervisor shall determine the total amount of taxes in arrears, with penalties and costs, upon the real estate which it is sought to redeem under the terms of this Act and the other taxes assessed therewith; and for the purpose of ascertaining such amount the supervisor may call upon any and all officers of the county who are hereby required to give such information and render such assistance as may be desired by said Supervisor. And he shall correctly determine such amount and divide the same into six equal portions, which shall be the installments, with six (6%) per cent per annum interest thereupon, required to be paid for the redemption of said real estate; and he shall set the same up in a suitable, complete and permanent record and procure proper forms of receipts to be signed by him and delivered for the payment of any and all installments.

"2... The first installment necessary to be paid hereunder shall be paid on or before November 15, 1933, and the first installment due upon the redemption of any real estate which may be redeemed under the terms of this Act at any time hereafter shall be due and payable on the 15th day of November first succeeding the date upon which application for the privilege of such redemption was made. And any default in the payment of any such first or subsequent installments, with interest, shall void and forfeit the privilege of such redemption and the sheriff shall, immediately upon notice of such failure, make and deliver to the Forfeited Land Commission of the county his deed for said real estate pursuant to the sale from which it was sought to redeem said property and shall put such commission or any representative thereof into actual and exclusive possession of said property. And payment of all current taxes upon said property before execution is issued upon any such taxes is hereby made a condition for the exercise of the right to redemption herein created, and upon execution having been issued for any such current taxes, the sheriff shall make deed as aforesaid to the Forfeited Land Commission and forthwith place it or its representative in exclusive possession thereof...

"4... In the event of the sale in a foreclosure action, under execution or in or by any judicial proceeding or for municipal or other taxes or assessments of any real estate, upon which application for redemption hereunder has been made, all of the installments and interest unpaid at the time of said sale shall become thereupon immediately due and collectible and the sheriff or other selling officer shall not deliver deed to such property until the full amount of the delinquent taxes and interest, including the personal property and other taxes which have been assessed with said real estate, be paid; and after the installments are determined and ascertained as aforesaid there shall be no separation or segregation of the property included therein, except as herein expressly provided, but the redemption shall be of the whole property for which application for redemption was made; provided that when the application is made it may be for redemption in separate parcels or tracts of real estate, in which event the aggregate amount of the taxes due may be prorated to such separate parcels or tracts by the Supervisor, whose finding thereupon shall be final, and the redemption by parcel or tracts be thus separately permitted, provided that anticipation of the payment of any and all installments, with interest thereupon to the date only of such anticipated payment, shall be permitted.

"5... The terms of this Act shall not apply to any real estate of which the Forfeited Land Commission of said county, or the County Board of Commissioners or the Supervisor acting for said Commission, has heretofore disposed of, or to real estate which was or hereafter is bid in at any tax sale thereof by other than the Forfeited Land Commission of said County or in its behalf, or unless application for permission to redeem hereunder be made by a party duly entitled by the terms hereof within ninety days from the approval of this Act or within sixty days from the expiration of the year of redemption now provided after tax sale, and in the latter case only with respect to real estate which has been bid in at said sale by or in behalf of the Forfeited Land Commission; and the terms of this Act shall not be construed to impair or in anywise affect any deeds heretofore or hereafter made by the Forfeited Land Commission of said county in accord with law or to its title to lands which it now owns, except as herein expressly provided...

"7-A... The amounts, including all penalties, costs and charges, of tax executions in the hands of the Sheriff at the time of the approval of this Act, upon which the property affected hereby has not been sold, may be paid in five (5) equal, annual successive installments, provided the first be paid on or before the 15th day of October, 1933, and the remaining four installments on or before the 15th days of November of the next succeeding four years, to-wit, 1934 to 1937, both inclusive, together with interest at the rate of six (6%) per cent, per annum upon each of said last four installments from Nov. 15, 1933, until paid in full; provided that the current State, county, school and other taxes upon the property affected by said executions be paid annually when due or before the same are placed in execution and in the event of the latter all installments then unpaid, together with interest thereupon shall be immediately collectible by the Sheriff by seizure and sale as now provided by law, which latter action shall also be taken by him in the event of the default in the payment of any installment or if the property be seized or sold in foreclosure, under execution or in or by any judicial proceeding or for municipal or other taxes or assessments...

"12... Whenever a taxpayer shall have paid all of his current taxes and the annual installments of delinquent taxes, as provided for in this Act, and his delinquent poll taxes and commutation road taxes, if he shall be subject to the payment of such taxes, he shall be deemed to have paid all State, county and special taxes due and payable at such time and for such year except his current taxes, subject to the provisions of this Act providing for the acceleration and maturing of delinquent installments; and Provided, further, That a lien for such delinquent taxes shall be revived, renewed and extended for a period of ten years from the date of the payment of the last delinquent installment made by such delinquent taxpayer; Provided, further, That the liens of the said delinquent taxes are hereby declared to be a first lien upon the proceeds of any loss under any insurance policy upon the property, or any part thereof, encumbered by the lien of the said delinquent taxes. In case the proceeds of loss under any policy of insurance upon the property, or any part thereof, encumbered by the lien of the said delinquent taxes, are paid over by the insurer without satisfying the said delinquent taxes, such person, firm or corporation paying over the proceeds of loss under such policy of insurance shall be liable to Chesterfield County for the payment of the said delinquent taxes to the extent of such loss, and the person, firm or corporation receiving the proceeds of such loss shall be liable as for a conversion for the payment of such lien, or liens, to the extent of the sum so received...

Chapter 86 - (S. B. 137). "An Act entitled, An Act relating to the extension of installments of drainage assessments and the issuance and sale of drainage refunding bonds. Be it enacted...

"Section 1. The board of county commissioners of any county having outstanding drainage bonds issued under the provisions of Article 1, Chapter 5, Part 16, Title 6, of the Revised Code of 1919 as amended, is hereby authorized to extend unpaid installments of assessments for such drainage and to issue and sell drainage refunding bonds, in the manner and under the terms and provisions hereinafter contained.

"Section 2. Before any board of county commissioners shall proceed hereunder, there shall be filed with the county auditor a petition signed by owners of not less than 51 per cent of the real estate assessed for any drain, which petition shall identify the said drain and shall set forth either that many owners of land assessed for said drain have defaulted in the payment of one or more installments of assessments, or that land owners are unable to pay installments falling due during the current year, and may contain any other facts showing the necessity for such extension. Thereupon, the county auditor shall set such matter for hearing before the board of county commissioners at any regular or special meeting thereof and shall publish notice of such hearing in a legal newspaper of said county for two successive weeks prior to said hearing, which notice shall state the fact and date of filing of said petition, identify the drain, and shall state the purpose, time and place of such hearing.

Interest on all extended assessments shall be payable annually at the time provided in the original assessment.

"Section 4. Any person aggrieved by any such order may appeal therefrom to the circuit court of said county within the time and in the manner provided in Section 8469 Revised Code of 1919. Except as specifically modified herein, all of the provisions of Article 1, Chapter 5, Part 16, Title 6 of the Revised Code of 1919 shall apply to all resolutions, orders, acts and proceedings adopted, made, done, or taken hereunder, and all rights, obligations and liabilities under said article shall be fully preserved notwithstanding any action taken hereunder.

"(2) Where the district's Bond and United States Contract Fund would be affected by such compromise, abatement or re-allocation, the written consent of the United States if the assessments were levied to meet contract obligations to the United States or of such bondholders, if the assessments were levied to meet bonded indebtedness or interest thereon, shall be obtained to each such proposed compromise, abatement or re-allocation, before it becomes effective, or such compromises, abatements or re-allocations may be made, without the individual consent of the United States or bondholders, where made in pursuance of the terms of a contract between the district and the United States or such bondholders, providing generally for such compromises, abatements or re-allocations. Property so acquired may, under the direction of the board of county commissioners, be sold at public or private sale, notice of which shall be given by posting at the front door of the courthouse, thirty days prior to the sale, a description of the parcels to be sold and by publishing a notice of such sale in an official newspaper of the county, giving a description of the parcels to be sold, such notice to be published at least once in each week for two consecutive weeks prior to the date of sale. The purchaser shall, upon complying with the terms of sale, be given a deed executed in the name of the county by the chairman of the board of county commissioners and attested by the auditor, conveying all right, title and interest in and to the property which was acquired by the county through the tax proceeding. The proceeds of such sale shall be placed to the credit pro rata of the various funds which are the beneficiaries of the tax for which the property was sold: Provided, however, that in private sales of real property having an assessed value of twenty-five dollars or less, the board of county commissioners may accept any amount less than the amount due for the taxes, penalty and costs incurred in obtaining a tax deed by the county.

Such notice shall be signed by the lawful holder of the tax sale certificate, his agent or attorney, stating the date of sale, the description of the property sold, the name of the purchaser and of the assignee, if any, and that the right of redemption will expire and a deed for such real property will be made upon the expiration of sixty days from the completed service thereof. Personal service of such notice in the manner provided by law for the service of summons shall be made upon such of the above mentioned persons as reside within the state, but when any of such persons are non-residents of the state, such notice may be served upon such non-residents by publishing such notice once a week for three successive weeks in some newspaper printed in the county where the real property is situated, and if no newspaper is printed in such county, in the nearest legal newspaper printed in the state, and in addition to such service by publication the holder of such certificate shall cause to be sent to the person so served a true copy of such notice through the United States mails, properly addressed, to the last known address of each of such persons, and the notice to the mortgagee, or his assignee, shall be directed to such mortgagee, or assignee, to his address as the same appears in the mortgage or record, or in the assignment thereof, and such notice shall be sent by registered mail with all proper postage prepaid; Provided, that personal service of such notice, as above specified, may be made upon persons outside of the state, in which case service by publication and mailing may be dispensed with. The service of such notice shall be deemed complete when an affidavit of the service of such notice and of the particular mode thereof, duly signed and verified by the person or officer making the service, shall have been filed with the treasurer authorized to execute the tax deed, and such record or affidavit shall be presumptive evidence of the completed service of the notice herein required, and until sixty days after the service of such notice the right of redemption from such sale shall not expire. The costs of serving such notice, whether by publication or otherwise, together with the costs of the affidavit and five dollars attorney fee on any unplatted tract or parcel of land containing forty acres or more and two dollars and fifty cents attorney fee on town lots, shall be added to the redemption money; provided that the treasurer shall have received notice that the service had been begun or made, and a statement of such costs filed in his office, before redemption is made. Immediately after the expiration of sixty days from the date of the completed service of the notice hereinbefore provided, the treasurer then in office shall make out a deed for each lot or parcel of real property sold and remaining unredeemed. Such deed shall be signed by the county treasurer and attested by the county auditor, with the county seal attached, and shall be delivered to the purchaser or his assignee upon the return of the certificate of tax sale. The treasurer shall receive one dollar for each deed made by him on such sales, but any number of parcels of real property bought by one person may be included in one deed, as the holder may desire. Such deed shall vest in the grantee an absolute estate in fee simple in such real property, subject, however, to all claims which the state may have therein for taxes, liens or encumbrances. Provided, that the person demanding such tax deed shall purchase the assignment of all prior tax certificates held by the county on such real property before the county treasurer shall issue the tax deed.

Be it enacted...

"Section 1. From and after the effective date of this Act and during the period of time this Act is made effective as provided herein, in all suits or causes of action which are pending in any trial court exercising jurisdiction in this State on the effective date of this Act, and in all suits or causes of actions which may be filed within one hundred and eighty (180) days from and after the effective date of this Act and in which a judgment for the recovery of real property sought to be recovered, or wherein a recovery of real property is sought for a failure or omission to pay any indebtedness due thereon, or to foreclose any lien or liens thereon, the defendant shall have the right to a post-postponement or continuance thereof as herein provided and a stay of orders of sales or executions by complying with the conditions as hereinafter set forth, to-wit:

"(1) That the defendant file therein a sworn statement showing:

"(a) That the defendant is unable to pay said indebtedness and that the property of the defendant, if sold under an order of sale, or any other property of the defendant, if sold under execution, would probably sell for less than its reasonable market value, and/or less than its intrinsic value.

"(1a) That the lien sought to be foreclosed was not procured or obtained for the purpose of securing in part or whole any indebtedness for money or property procured by misrepresentation, fraud, defalcation or embezzlement.

"(b) That the rendition of a judgment as prayed for by plaintiff and the sale of the defendant's property under deed of trust or execution or order of sale would result in an unfair, unjust and inequitable financial injury to the defendant.

"(c) That the property upon which the lien is sought to be foreclosed is not being wasted, illtreated, mismanaged or destroyed and is in substantially as good condition as when the lien was first executed, and that the defendant has not, with the intent to defeat or delay the collection of the indebtedness or the enforcement of the lien, dissipated the property or the rents and revenue theretofore derived therefrom.

"(d) That the defendant is not in arrears in the payment of taxes for more than four (4) years since February 1, 1922, on the property involved in the suit.

"(e) That the defendant consent either to the appointment by the Judge or the Court of a disinterested party to collect all rents and revenues, derived from the property upon which the lien exists, during the period of postponement or continuance or stay of orders of sales or executions and to apply the same as a credit on the indebtedness, or deposit the same in the registry of the Court to await the final disposition of the case or to use, apply or dispose of the rents as the Judge may direct without the appointment of a disinterested party to collect the same.

"Upon the filing of such motion the Judge or Court before whom said suit or cause of action is pending, shall, before proceeding to trial on its merits, hear evidence in support of or against the facts alleged in said motion, and if it be made to appear to the Court that said allegations are probably true, the Court shall defer rendering judgment in said cause for as long a period or one hundred and eighty (180) days, nor shall any order of sale or execution issue until after the expiration of the time fixed by the Court; provided, however, that the Judge or Court shall have authority, upon further application at the end of the time to which cause has been postponed, but not after the expiration of two hundred (200) days from the effective date of this Act, if it reasonably appears that the same condition exists as in the first instance, to grant further extensions from time to time, but in no event beyond May 1, 1934.

"It shall be the duty of the Court in determining whether or not said allegations are true, and whether a postponement or continuance shall be granted, to take into consideration the financial condition of the parties, both plaintiffs and defendants, and the nature and character of the property, and the disposition likely to be made of the property if taken possession of by the plaintiff or retained by the defendant and the general economic conditions existing at the time of the hearing of the application.

"Sec. 2. Nothing herein shall be held to prevent or limit the right of any Court to enter any judgment by agreement of the parties...

"Sec. 11. All laws or parts of laws in conflict with any of the provisions of this Act, are hereby suspended for the period of one hundred and eighty (180) days from and after the effective date hereof, and to May 1, 1934, in all cases where extensions have been granted to that date as provided by this Act, but no Statute is intended to be repealed and upon the expiration of two hundred (200) days from and after the effective date of this Act, it shall be of no further force and effect and any and all laws suspended during the effective period of this Act, shall immediately become operative and in full force and effect as effectively as if this Act had not been passed...

on said taxes; or, in the event any person, firm, association of persons or corporation shall not be financially able to pay all delinquent taxes owed by such person, firm, association of persons or corporation on or before the due date of September 30, 1933, then, in that event, such person, firm, association of persons or corporation may, on or before September 30, 1933, appear before the public official charged with the duty of collecting said taxes and make sworn affidavit of such financial inability to pay all of said taxes. And in the event of such presentation of affidavit such person, firm, association of persons or corporation shall accompany the affidavit with a sum equal to twenty (20%) per cent of all such delinquent ad valorem and poll taxes owed by said person, firm, association of persons or corporation and the public official charged with the duty of collecting said delinquent ad valorem and poll taxes shall and is hereby empowered to accept such twenty (20%) per cent and shall credit the amount toward the payment of those taxes which were first delinquent. Texas. Laws, statutes, etc. General and special laws of the State of Texas passed by the forty-third legislature at the first called session convened at the City of Austin, September 14, 1933 and adjourned October 13, 1933... 405 pp. [Austin, Tex., 1934?]

Chapter 31 - (H. B. No. 150). "An Act amending Article 7283 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, reducing the cost of redeeming land sold for taxes; specifying the time for redemption and the money to be paid therefor; making the same apply to and govern redemptions from all State, county, municipal and/or district tax sales of real estate heretofore or hereafter made, regardless of the legal method used in making such sales; ratifying Articles 7284 and 7285 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925; providing if any part of this Act shall be held unconstitutional it shall not affect the validity of the remainder of the Act, and declaring an emergency. Be it enacted...

"Section 1. That Article 7283 of the Revised Civil Statutes, of Texas, 1925, be and is hereby amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Article 7283. The owner of the real estate sold for the payment of taxes, or his heirs or assigns or legal representatives, may, within two (2) years after the date of filing for record of the purchasers deed,, have the right to redeem the land on the following basis:

"(1) Within the first year of the redemption period upon the payment of the amount of money paid for the land, including One Dollar ($1.00) tax deed recording fee and all taxes, penalties, interest and costs thereafter paid thereon plus ten per cent (10%) of the aggregate total.

"(2) Within the last year of the redemption period upon the payment of the amount of money paid for the land, including One Dollar ($1.00) tax deed recording fee and all taxes, penalties, interest and costs thereafter paid thereon plus twenty per cent (20%) of the aggregate total.

"Provided, that, subject to the owner's right to redeem as aforesaid, any lien holder or party interested may within the time above specified redeem said property under the same provisions."

"Sec. 2. This Act is intended to apply to and govern the amount necessary to be paid for redemption from all State, County, municipal and/or district tax sales of real estate heretofore or hereafter made regardless of the legal method used in making such sales.

"Sec. 3. In addition to redeeming direct from the purchaser, redemption may also be made as provided in Articles 7284 and 7285 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925.

"Sec. 4. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or word of this Act shall be held to be unconstitutional, then the remaining part shall be unaffected thereby and shall remain in full force and effect as the express intent of the Legislature.

"Sec. 5. The fact that the cost of redeeming land sold for taxes is one hundred per cent (100%) profit to the purchaser and the Constitution now authorizes the Legislature to reduce it and the fact that it ought to be reduced speedily for a long needed relief to the property owner, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the Constitutional Rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and it is hereby suspended and this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted...

Chapter 79 - (H. B. No. 40). "An Act releasing penalties and interest on ad valorem and poll taxes that were delinquent on or before July 1, 1933, due the State and certain subdivisions of the State... Be it enacted...

"Section 1. That all interest and penalties that have accrued on all ad valorem and poll taxes that were delinquent on or before July 1, 1933, due to the State or to any county, common school district, road district, levee improvement district, water improvement district, water control and improvement district, irrigation district and other defined subdivisions of the State, (except such cities, towns, villages, special school districts and independent school districts which do not adopt the provisions of this Act in the manner hereinafter provided), shall be and the same are hereby released provided said ad valorem and poll taxes are voluntarily paid on or before December 31, 1933, with an addition of two per cent (2%) penalty on said taxes; and shall be and the same are hereby released provided said taxes are voluntarily paid after December 31, 1933, and before March 31, 1934, with an addition of four per cent (4%) penalty on said taxes; and shall be and the same are hereby released provided said ad valorem and poll taxes are voluntarily paid after March 31, 1934, and on or before June 30, 1934, with an addition of six per cent (6%) penalty on said taxes; but it is especially provided that the penalties herein provided for shall not be cumulative. The provisions hereof shall not apply to delinquent ad valorem and poll taxes due to cities, towns, villages, special school districts or independent school districts unless and until said provisions are adopted by resolution or ordinance of the governing body of any such city, town, village, special school district or independent school district.

"Sec. 2. Nothing contained in Section 1 of this Act shall be construed as postponing, delaying or extending the time for the payment of delinquent taxes covered by this Act, nor as prohibiting, postponing or delaying the filing or prosecution of any suit or suits for the enforced collection of the same, and unless such delinquent taxes are paid within the time allowed in Section 1 hereof and prior to final judgment entered in any suit now pending or which may be hereafter filed to enforce the payment of such taxes, said taxes shall not be deemed to have been voluntarily paid under the terms of this Act and judgment shall be entered for the full amount of the taxes, penalties, interest and costs in the same manner as if this Act had never been passed.

"Sec. 3. In the event any city, town, village, special school district, water improvement district, water control and improvement district, irrigation district or other defined self-governing subdivisions of the State has heretofore adopted the provisions of Section 2, of Chapter 169 of the Acts of the Regular Session of the Forty-third Legislature, providing an alternative method for the payment of delinquent taxes; and any person, firm, association of persons, or corporation who shall not have been able to pay all delinquent ad valorem and poll taxes owed by such person, firm, association of persons, or corporation, and who, on or before September 30, 1933, appeared before the public officer charged with the duty of collecting said taxes and made sworn affidavit of such inability to pay all of said taxes, and such person, firm, association of persons or corporation has filed said affidavit with such officer and has, on or before September 30, 1933, paid twenty per cent (20%) of such delinquent taxes, and who has in all other respects complied with the provisions and said Section 2 of said Chapter 169 of the Acts of the Regular Session of the Forty-third Legislature, shall have all interest and penalties on such delinquent taxes remitted and released and the same are hereby remitted and released, subject to the provisions hereof; and such person, firm, association of persons, or corporations may make payment of the balance of said taxes in four (4) equal installments, which installments shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) from September 30, 1933, such interest shall be paid on the respective installments with each such installment; and such installments of taxes and interest shall be paid as follows: The first installment on or before June 30, 1934, the second installment on or before December 31, 1934, the third installment on or before June 30, 1935, and the fourth and last installment of the amount due on or before December 31, 1935. Each of such payments shall be accepted by the public official charged with the duty of collecting such taxes, and shall be credited by him toward the payment of said taxes first delinquent and remaining unpaid. The failure to pay any one of the installments as herein provided for, shall cause the delinquent ad valorem and poll taxes, on which the penalties and interest are hereby released, to become immediately due and payable together with interest on the entire amount of taxes, at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum, from September 30, 1933, and be subject to the General Laws of this State governing the collection of delinquent taxes, as if this Act had not been passed. The provisions of this Section of this Act shall not apply to any delinquent taxes due the State or any county of this State.

"Sec. 4. No costs of any kind or character shall be allowed to any officer for services hereafter rendered by him in connection with the collection of delinquent taxes which are voluntarily paid by the tax payer within the time and in the manner herein provided; provided however, that nothing in this Act shall be construed as releasing any taxpayer from liability for the payment of any and all costs which have heretofore attached or accrued by reason of delinquency in the payment of any taxes upon which penalties and interest are released under the provisions of this Act.

"Sec. 5. Any person, firm, association of persons or corporation desiring to pay at one time all the delinquent taxes owed by such person, firm, association of persons or corporation for any one year or for any number of years shall have the right to pay the same under the provision of Section 1 of this Act without at the same time paying any other taxes that may be then delinquent upon the same property for any other year or years:

"Sec. 6. Chapter 169, Acts, Regular Session of the Forty-third Legislature is hereby expressly repealed: all other laws and parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act are hereby expressly suspended during the term of this act in so far as the same are in conflict with the provisions hereof.

"Sec. 7. It is further provided that in case any section, clause, sentence, paragraph or part of this Act shall for any reason be adjudged by any Court of competent or final jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this Act, but shall be confined in its operation to the section, clause, sentence, paragraph or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which said judgment shall have been rendered.

"Sec. 8. The fact that millions of dollars in taxes now delinquent for many years are owed by people who would and could meet their obligations if the heavy penalties imposed because of such delinquencies are removed, and the fact that under present laws people who are able to pay their delinquent taxes are escaping payment thereof without incurring or being subject to penalties or burdens create an emergency and an imperative public necessity demanding that the Constitutional Rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each House be suspended, and the same is hereby suspended, and that this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted...

"Sec. 2... While this act shall be and remain in force.

"(a) Personal property shall not be taken into the custody or possession of an officer under a writ of attachment issuing out of a county court except upon order of a chancellor first having been made on notice and after hearing; nor shall such personal property be taken into custody or possession by any such officer on a writ of attachment issuing out of a justice or municipal court except upon order of such justice or judge of such municipal court made upon like notice and hearing. Nothing herein shall be deemed to affect the existing statutes relating to attachment by lodging a copy of the process in the office of the town clerk, as now provided by law.

"(b) When real estate or personal property is taken upon execution and advertised for sale, the judgment debtor may apply to a chancellor for a stay of such sale. Notice of such application and the time and place of hearing thereon shall be given to the judgment creditor and to the officer levying such execution; and after such hearing which shall be held not later than five days after service of such notice, if the chancellor shall find that a stay of such sale will be for the benefit of all parties in interest, he may order that such sale be postponed for a period not to exceed three months on such terms and conditions as may be equitable. In the event that the date on which such sale is advertised to take place shall precede the date fixed for hearing on such application, the officer levying such execution shall adjourn the sale to a date subsequent to the date of such hearing. This section shall apply to executions heretofore levied but under which sale has not been had at the time this act takes effect. In computing the time within which action under such execution must be taken under the provisions of Chapter 120 of the General Laws (Chapter 91 of the Public Laws as proposed); including the time within which real or personal property attached on mesne process shall be held to respond to the judgment rendered thereon, the time during which enforcement of such execution may be deferred under the provisions of this act shall not be included.

"(c) Whenever in any proceedings for the foreclosure of mortgages or liens upon personal property under the provisions of Chapters 136 and 137 of the General Laws (Chapters 107 and 108 of the Public Laws, as proposed) the officer foreclosing such mortgage or lien shall have taken possession of such property and advertised the same for sale, the mortgagor or lienee may apply to a chancellor for a stay of such sale, notice of which application and the time and place of hearing thereon shall be given to the holder of such mortgage or lien and to the officer foreclosing the same; and after such hearing, which shall be held not later than five days after service of such notice, if the chancellor shall find that a stay of such sale will be for the benefit of all parties in interest, he may order that such sale be postponed for a period not to exceed three months on such terms and conditions as may be equitable. In the event that the date on which such sale is advertised to take place shall precede the date fixed for hearing on such application, the officer foreclosing such mortgage or lien shall adjourn the same to a date subsequent to the date of such hearing.

"(d) Either party may apply at any time to the chancellor for such order in the premises as may be proper under the three preceding subdivisions of this section, and such chancellor shall have jurisdiction and authority to revoke, revise, alter or modify any previous order therein made by him, or by any justice of the peace or municipal judge.

"Sec. 3... While this act shall be and remain in force, in proceedings to foreclose a mortgage upon real estate, including the foreclosure of liens under the provisions of Sections 2810 to 2816 of the General Laws (Sections 2475 to 2481 of the Public Laws as proposed), the chancellor at the time of entering the decree of foreclosure, in his discretion, and upon such terms and conditions as shall be equitable under the then existing conditions, may extend the time within which the premises may be redeemed, for such period as may appear to him to be for the benefit of all parties interested, and at any time thereafter, upon petition of the mortgagor or those holding under him, on notice to the mortgagee and after herein thereon, may reopen such decree and make such further orders relating thereto as in his judgment and discretion may be proper. The provisions of this section, so far as pertinent thereto, shall apply to decrees heretofore entered where the time therein fixed for redemption has not expired on the date of such petition...

"Sec. 5... To the end that the real value of assets or credits of worthy debtors may not be sacrificed, during the period of emergency herein declared, where, under ordinary or normal conditions of business, such debtors would be able to pay their debts in full as the same matured, and thereby the interest of creditors be protected and the general good of the state be served, any person, as defined herein, against whom legal proceedings have been instituted or threatened for the recovery of such debt or debts, may apply by petition under oath to the court of chancery for the county in which he resides, setting forth therein a schedule of his debts, secured and unsecured, with the names and addresses of his creditors and a mention of any security held by any such creditors, together with a statement of his assets, the estimated value of the good will of his business, its claimed value to the community at large as a going concern, his present and past business record, his probable ability to pay such debts under normal and ordinary business and economic conditions, and that he desires to obtain an extension of time in which to pay such debts.

"Sec. 6... Upon the filing of such a petition, if the same complies with the provisions of this act, the chancellor shall forthwith fix a time and place for hearing thereon, and in his discretion, and upon such terms and conditions as he may deem proper, may temporarily stay further proceedings against the petitioner until such hearing; and the petitioner shall cause notice of such hearing and restraining order to be given to each creditor by mailing to his last known address a copy of such order or orders, by registered mail. Proof of such notice shall be made by affidavit of the petitioner, his agent or attorney, filed with the chancellor on or before the date of such hearing.

"Sec. 7... Upon such hearing, if it shall appear to the chancellor that it is for the benefit of all parties interested and the general good of the community, that the business of such petitioner should be continued, and that the value of the assets and property of the debtor under ordinary and normal business and economic conditions exceeds the amount of his debts, and that there is a reasonable probability that the debtor may be able to effect an agreement for an extension of time, or a composition with his creditors, he may continue such restraining order in force under such terms and conditions as will protect the interest of all parties concerned, for a further period not to exceed sixty days; and upon such continued hearing, if the debtor shall have effected an agreement of extension or composition with his creditors, the chancellor shall approve the same and enter a decree in accordance with the terms thereof.

"Sec. 8... If upon such continued hearing a majority in number or amount of the creditors shall have agreed to such extension of time, the chancellor, in his discretion, may enter an order fixing a time not to exceed the time provided in such extension agreement, within which the assets or property of such debtor shall not be taken upon attachment or execution. If neither a majority in number nor amount of such creditors agree to such extension of time, the chancellor shall dismiss such petition.

"Sec. 9... Any party in interest may apply to the chancellor at any time upon the ground of a change in conditions, and the chancellor, in his discretion, upon notice and hearing, may revoke, revise, alter or modify any order previously made.

"Sec. 10... The chancellor shall have full power and authority to make all such orders as may be necessary or incidental to the exercise of the jurisdiction conferred by this act, including such orders relating to the custody, preservation and conservation of the assets and property of the debtor and the rights of creditors therein, as may be deemed necessary and proper for the protection of all parties in interest...

"Sec. 12... Nothing herein shall effect or change any lawful security held by any creditor, nor its order of priority, and such rights of security or priority shall be considered by the chancellor in any orders made hereunder relating to the subject matter of such security.

"Sec. 13... The chancellors shall make such general rules as they may deem necessary to establish and regulate the practice under this act.

"Sec. 14... Nothing herein shall be deemed to affect the general powers of a court of chancery relating to receivers and receiverships.

"Sec. 15... When the provisions of this act are invoked, any statute or statutes of limitation applicable to matters embraced in such proceeding, shall be suspended during the pendency thereof.

"Sec. 16... Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to preclude the application of Chapter 131 of the General Laws (Chapter 102 of the Public Laws as proposed) relating to the law of assignment, or of Section 1756 of the General Laws (Section 1380 of the Public Laws as proposed) relating to reduction or discharge of attachments, so far as the same may be invoked or availed of by a debtor.

"Sec. 17... While this act shall be in force, all acts, laws or statutes, or parts thereof, inconsistent herewith shall be deemed to be suspended, provided that upon the termination of the emergency herein defined, to be determined as hereinafter provided, this act shall cease to be effective and all such suspended acts, laws or statutes, or parts thereof, shall thereupon forthwith be and become in full force and effect, anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding. Except that whenever action has been taken or orders made by a chancellor under the provisions hereof, such chancellor shall have jurisdiction to make such further order therein as may be deemed necessary to an appropriate disposition of matters then pending before him.

"Sec. 18... If any portion of this act is held unconstitutional or invalid, such holding shall not affect the validity of the act as a whole, or any part thereof which can be given effect without the part so held to be unconstitutional or invalid.

"Sec. 19... The period of emergency herein provided for shall be from the date of the taking effect of this act until such date as the Legislature may, by joint resolution, designate to be the termination thereof, or, if the Legislature be not in session, the date so designated by a proclamation of the Governor.

"Sec. 20. This act shall take effect from its passage and terminate March 1st, 1935, unless previously terminated as provided in Section 19.

Chapter 11 - No. 1, A. Published Feb. 15, 1933. "An Act to create sections 278.101, 278.103, 278.104, and 278.105 of the statutes, relating to foreclosure of mortgages by action. The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate^{and}/assembly, do enact as follows:

"Section 1. Five new sections are added to the statutes to read:

278.101 Existence of Emergency. It is declared that the provisions of sections 278.102, 278.103, 278.104, and 278.105 of this act are made necessary by a public emergency growing out of the present financial and economic conditions, gravely impairing the market for real estate, and endangering agriculture, the basic industry of the state, and threatening the destruction of the population's means of shelter, and resulting in numerous foreclosures of real estate mortgages throughout the state, and that the results of such foreclosures upon farms and homesteads are so far reaching that they create an emergency, which condition seriously affects so many of our citizens as to imperil the public welfare, health and morals, and the peace and security of the people of the state. This act is declared to be temporary and unless earlier repealed, will terminate in its effect in accordance with the dates as hereinafter provided.

"278.102 Emergency Extension of Redemption Period. (1) In any such farm or homestead foreclosure action commenced prior to March 1, 1935, in which judgment of foreclosure and sale has not been entered at the time this section takes effect, the one year period specified in section 278.10 may be extended as hereinafter provided. The court before which any such action is pending shall make full inquiry in regard to and upon all the facts and circumstances of the case, and may direct by the judgment that no foreclosure sale shall be made until the expiration of a reasonable period not exceeding two years beyond the one year period in section 278.10 provided, but in no event beyond March 1, 1938; and such extension beyond such one year period shall be upon such terms and conditions as the court in a sound discretion shall at the time of the judgment and from time to time thereafter determine; and the judgment shall provide accordingly and be subject upon motion to revision accordingly by grant or modification of such extended period.

"(2) Default in the payment of taxes, interest or insurance premiums, or in the payment of two or more of such items, shall not of itself be cause in such action for the appointment of a receiver; but a receiver in such action may in the sound discretion of the court be appointed for such period or periods subsequent to the commencement of the action and upon such terms and conditions as the court determines to be just.

"278.103 Deferred Sale in Case of Existing Judgment. In any such farm or homestead foreclosure action in which judgment of foreclosure and sale was entered before the effective date of this act, and where no sale shall have been had, the plaintiff or his successors in interest shall, before the commencement of publication of notice of sale or thereafter and before confirmation of sale, if costs of notice and publication are paid or tendered apply to the court for an order directing the time and place of such sale and shall serve notice of the application therefor by mail upon all parties to the action or their attorneys; and all proceedings for sale shall be stayed during the pendency of such application; and upon the hearing of such application the court shall make full inquiry in regard to and upon all the facts and circumstances of the case, and may direct by order that no foreclosure sale shall be made until the expiration of a reasonable period not exceeding two years beyond the one year period in section 278.10 provided, but in no event beyond March 1, 1938; and such extension beyond such one year period shall be upon such terms and conditions as the court in a sound discretion shall at the time of the order and from time to time thereafter determine; and the order shall provide accordingly and be subject upon motion to revision accordingly by grant or modification of such extended period. [Section 278.103 amended by Chapter 474, pp. 1013-1015, q.v.]

"278.104 Section 7, Chapter 29 of Laws of Special Session of 1931. In no instance shall the combined effect of section 7 of chapter 29 of the laws of special session of 1931 and of the provisions of 278.102 or 278.103 be to extend the period prior to the commencement of publishing and posting notice of sale more than three years from the date of the judgment or order of sale or beyond March 1, 1938. [Section 278.104 amended by Chapter 125 (section 3) q.v.]

"278.105 Application for Confirmation of Sale and for Deficiency Judgment. At all times prior to March 1, 1938, whether upon judgments of foreclosure and sale heretofore or hereafter entered and in the case of all such judgments whether relating to farm or homestead property or other real estate, motion for confirmation of sale shall be only upon notice given by the plaintiff to the mortgagors whether they have appeared in the action or not and to all parties who have appeared or to the attorneys of such mortgagors and parties. Such notice shall be given either personally or by registered mail directed to the last known address, at least ten days prior to the date when the application is to be heard, and shall state, in addition to other matter required by law, whether or not application is also to be made for entry of deficiency judgment, the amount of the judgment, the amount realized upon the sale, the amount for which personal judgment will be sought against the several parties naming them, and the time and place of hearing. Governor's Proclamation, 1933.

Governor Schmedeman proclaims moratorium on foreclosures. Commercial & Financial Chronicle 136: 691. Jan. 28, 1933.

"On Jan. 13 Governor A. G. Schmedeman issued a proclamation calling upon Circuit Judges of the State to hold in abeyance all mortgage foreclosure proceedings until the Wisconsin Legislature, which is now in session, has an opportunity to enact relief legislation. The proclamation is said to have followed the introduction of a bill to carry out the administration's plan of vesting the courts with the power to extend the period of redemption of foreclosed property from one to three years."

Comments on the Governor's action are quoted from the Milwaukee "Sentinel" of Jan. 14. The Chronicle also quotes from the "Sentinel" of Jan. 17 in regard to a 30-day stay on all home mortgages granted by the Milwaukee County Board of Circuit Judges.

"The moratorium is said to have become effective on Jan. 16 and it was expected that the Legislature will have acted on the administration's mortgage program before its expiration."

"Section 2. Any taxes on which affidavits for extension of time were filed pursuant to Section 1 of this act that are paid to any county treasurer up to and including June 1, 1934, shall be paid over to the town, city, or village wherein such taxes were assessed. The town, city, or village treasurer shall on June 15, 1934, make a supplemental settlement with the county treasurer for the part of such taxes due the county as county taxes. Such settlement shall be made as provided in subsection (2) of section 74.15 of the statutes.

"Section 3. The county treasurer shall, on the fourth Monday of June in the year 1934, make out a statement of all lands upon which the taxes have been returned as delinquent and which then remained unpaid, except public lands held on contract and lands mortgaged to the state, containing a brief description thereof, with an accompanying notice stating that so much of each tract or parcel of land described in said statement as may be necessary therefor will, on the first Tuesday in August next thereafter and the next succeeding days, be sold by him at public auction at some public place, naming the same, at the seat of justice of the county, for the payment of taxes, interest, and charges thereon; and if in any county no seat of justice shall be established then at such public place therein as he may select; and cause such statement and notice to be published in a newspaper printed in his county, if there be one, and if there be none, then in a newspaper printed in an adjoining county, if there be one, but if there be no newspaper printed in the same or an adjoining county, then such statement and notice shall be published in the official state paper, which statement and notice shall in all cases be published once in each week for two successive weeks prior to said first Tuesday in August, and such treasurer shall also, at least two weeks previous to said day, cause to be posted up copies of said statement and notice in at least four public places in such county, one of which copies shall be posted up in some conspicuous place in his office; but it shall be unlawful for any county treasurer to publish such statement and notice in any newspaper in his county that has not been regularly and continuously published in such county once in each calendar week for at least two years immediately before the date of such notice, if there be a newspaper which has been so published in such county; and any county treasurer who shall violate the provisions of this section shall forfeit a sum equal to the fees allowed by law for such publications, to be sued for and recovered in a civil action brought in the name of the state of Wisconsin, which penalty shall be paid into the school fund. It is the purpose of this section to extend the tax sales for the year 1934. All provisions of this section for the purpose of such sale, shall supersede all inconsistent provisions of subsection (1) of section 74.33 of the statutes.

"Section 4. This act shall take effect upon passage and publication.

"Approved January 31, 1934." -pp. 17-19.

"Governor Schmedeman has asked that all county treasurers adjourn the sale of delinquent taxes on real estate until October 15, 1934 and that they refrain from delivery of warrants for levying upon personal property for delinquent taxes until that date.

"The Governor made his request in the form of a proclamation to the chairmen of the county boards, the treasurers, sheriffs and district attorneys of Wisconsin counties. He urged that the officers in each county having authority over tax sales consult with each other in order that there be no confusion and a general uniform procedure for effecting the postponement."

"The last special session of the legislature postponed the time of tax sales from the second Tuesday in June to the first Tuesday in August. The Governor asked that the county treasurers this year select and offer each day some parcel of real estate upon which the county holds a prior certificate from the first Tuesday in August until October 15 in order to bring the procedure within the meaning of the law. Sales to private bidders would not take place until October 15.

"Drought and unemployment were listed by Governor Schmedeman as the reasons for his request." -Wisconsin Taxpayer 2(12): 47. June 15, 1934.
