FOREWORD

This list is designed to show the sources of prices and other statistical and economic material relating to fruits, vegetables and nuts in the periodicals currently received in the United States Department of Agriculture Library. These include fruit trade journals, price lists, fruit auction sheets, grocery and canning trade journals, periodicals dealing with special crops, the more general horticultural and growers' periodicals, and official publications of the United States and some other governments. An exception has been made in the case of the official publications of the individual States of the United States as they were included in Agricultural Economics Bibliography No. 38, List of State Official Serial Publications Containing Material on Agricultural Economics.

The statistics found in these publications are many and varied. They include acreage, production, receipts, unloads, shipments, value, yield per acre and prices (auction, jobbers', f.o.b., wholesale, and in a very few instances, retail). Information as to the material found in each publication has been given in the descriptive note, and a detailed index, arranged by commodities, has been included.

The more popular horticultural and growers' publications have been omitted, as have also the general agricultural publications which contain statistics, relating to fruits, vegetables, and nuts. "Crops and Markets" and "Foreign Crops and Markets" issued by the United States Department of Agriculture are two of the publications of this type which are omitted. Part of the statistical material which they contain appears first in other Department publications which are included.

While most of the periodicals contained in this list are published in the United States, fourteen foreign countries or parts of foreign countries are represented. These are Australia, New South Wales, Canada, Germany, Great Britain, Palestine, India, Italy, the Netherlands, Sicily, New Zealand, Turkey, South Africa, and Tasmania.

Apparent inconsistencies which appear in the descriptive notes may be explained in part by the fact that different publications use different terms for the same commodity. An attempt has been made to bring these terms together in the index with cross references from the form not used.

Mary G. Lacy, Librarian,
Bureau of Agricultural Economics,

* The completion of this index was made possible by a grant of funds by the Federal Civil Works Administration to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics designated as C.W.A. Project F-1 entitled, Compilation of an Index to Sources of Consumption Statistics, Prices and Movements of Fruits and Vegetables. This index represents the part of the project dealing with the sources of price statistics. The other part will appear as Agricultural Economics Bibliography No.5

Departments appearing with more or less regularity are: "On the Editor's Desk"; "American Pomology"; "State Horticultural News"; "Every Grower's Page"; "Opportunity Ads", etc.

3... American Grocer [weekly] New York, Grocery Trade Publishing Co., 90 West Broadway. 286.83 Am32

The Library of the United States Department of Agriculture has v.38, July, 1887 to date. Various of the earlier volumes are incomplete.

With this publication are consolidated the National Grocer, the Philadelphia Cash Grocer, and the Brooklyn Market Journal.

In the section entitled "Canned Foods, Gossip and Trade News" may be found crop comments and wholesale prices for canned fruits and vegetables announced by various canners of the country. These include peas and beans in New York State, by kinds and grades; tomatoes in Maryland.

The section entitled "Dried Fruits, Nuts and Beans, Weekly Market Review" includes dried apricot market information, giving prices to growers for ungraded, unpacked apricots in original conditions.

A Primary Market section, showing offerings by various canners, wholesale prices, f.o.b. packing house for California prunes, Oregon prunes, apricots, and raisins is included.

Other features include a manufacturers' and advertisers' special price list; a bean market report from the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics; a trade-mark department; and prices of canned grapefruit and canned grapefruit juice, f.o.b., Tampa, Fla., and San Juan, P.R.

4. American institute of food distribution, inc. Facts in the food markets; an analysis of statistics and market reports [bi-weekly] New York, 122 E. 42d. St. 286.83 Am33F

The Library of the United States Department of Agriculture has v.1, no.1, February 25, 1928 to date.

v.1, February 25, 1928 to February 23, 1929 has subtitle, A Weekly Digest of Statistics and Market Opinions (varies); v.2, no. 1 to 12, March 9 to August 12, 1929 also says the publication is weekly analysis. In reality published bi-weekly.

"This bi-weekly analysis of the important commodity markets is the chief instrument in the Food Institute plan to aid the trade in stabilizing prices. If every important producer and distributor can have exact knowledge as to production and can use this knowledge in making scientific appraisal of the long-range effect of extreme price changes, we will go far towards avoiding the fluctuations which disturb the flow of distribution and bring profit to few... The Food Institute is securing the cooperation of the Government, the trade associations and leaders from the different groups of producers and distributors in gathering the more exact information that we need. The function of the Food Institute is to press forward with this program, assemble the data from week to week and place it in this convenient form for study and reference." - A Statement of Policy.

This publication is divided into sections, each of which deals with a commodity or group of commodities. Each includes a summary of trade, production, and statistics. The sections of interest to this bibliography are:

Canned Vegetables, which includes asparagus, beans and pork, beets, carrots, cabbage, sweet corn, cucumbers (for pickles), lima beans, peas, pimientos, pumpkin and squash, spinach, string beans, tomatoes, etc. These give acreage for canning, condition of crop, production for canning, production (canned) all by States, and imports and exports.

21. Canadian Grocer; national paper of the grocery trade in Canada since 1886 [published fortnightly every other Friday] Toronto, Maclean publishing co. Ltd. 481 University Ave. 286.83 C162

The Library of the United States Department of Agriculture has v.25, no.2; June 2, 1911 to date. Wanting: v.26, no.23, June 7, 1912; v.32, no.27, July 5, 1918; v.35, no.2, January 14, 1921. June 2, 1911 to June 25, 1926 issued weekly.

This magazine of the grocery trade is divided into two general sections, the Canadian Grocer and the Canadian Meat and Provision Buyer. To these is added twice a year the Candy and Beverage Buyer, appearing in the Annual Fall and Winter Buying and Directory number (October) and the Annual Spring and Summer Buying and Directory number (April).

Articles of interest to the trade, both signed and unsigned, appear, covering such topics as credit, administration, selling, prices and price cutting, the state of the market, taxes and assessments, equipment, display, model stores and exhibitions, government entry into business and comments on various widely used commodities.

Three sections, "Ontario Market Tendencies", "Quebec Market Reports", and "Western Canada Markets", deal with the trade conditions in these sections. Each is preceded by a paragraph giving a brief analysis of market conditions and anticipated trends.

"Ontario Market Tendencies" give wholesale prices (Toronto) for canned corn (by grades and varieties), peas, tomatoes and beans; shelled walnuts (Bordeaux, Manchurian) and raisins (Australia, California; cleaned and uncleaned).

Quebec market reports give wholesale prices (Montreal) for raisins (Australian seedless and Californian) canned tomatoes, corn, peas, beans (golden wax; refugees), California prunes, apricots (So. Africa) and evaporated apples.

Western Canada markets (including Prairie provinces and British Columbia) give wholesale prices (Winnipeg) for canned fruit (apples, apricots, grape fruit, peaches, pears and green gage plums, pineapples (Singapore, Hawaiian crushed, So. Africa, Australia) dried fruit (evaporated apples, California currants, apricots, peaches, pears, prunes, raisins) canned vegetables (tomatoes, peas, corn, asparagus, beans (golden wax and refugees)).

The periodical carries regularly an Advertiser's column; advertisers index; financial news about food firms; foreign trade enquiries on food stuffs; news notes from coast to coast (events in the Grocery trade) convention notes; sale and want advertisements; collections, etc.

The following examples serve to show the type of information available on imports: Canned pineapple for fiscal years, 1932 and 1933 (from Straits settlements, Australia, British South Africa, Hawaii, Ceylon, Fiji Islands, British India and United States) (September 22, 1933); Raisins (Sultanas and Lexias) (from United States and Australia) for 6 year period 1928-1933 (September 22, 1933, article entitled "Australia Now Has Long Lead over California in Raisin Sales to Canada".) Comparison figures on raisins from Australia and California, 1930, 1931, and 1932 are given in an article, "Raisin Import Picture Shows Big Change in Two Years". Statistics on imports of currants are also given (April 21, 1933).

Other statistics appear as follows: Exports of canned fruits (pears, peaches and apricots, pineapples and other fruits are given in pounds for years 1931 and 1932 (March 10, 1933); Government figures on the canned tomato pack since 1928 (1928-1932) estimated for Ontario, Quebec, British Columbia, Manitoba, etc. Also the Canadian total pack appears in the October 6, 1933 issue.

The pack by case of canned vegetables estimated for 1931 and 1932 includes: asparagus, beans, baked beans, beets, carrots, corn, peas, pumpkin, spinach, soup (all kinds), tomatoes, tomato juice, tomato paste and puree and all other vegetables (Aug. 11, 1933). These statistics appear in an article entitled "Pea Pack Away Short; Tomato Pack Doubtful and Prices Advance".

In an article headed "Drop of 25% in Canned Vegetable Production Last Year", these same statistics occur plus total figures for the canned vegetable pack 1931 and 1932 (Feb. 24, 1933).

Production figures for all Canada (lbs.; value) for the year 1932 on popcorn, salted nuts (walnuts, almonds, pecans, Brazilian salted peanuts, peanut butter) [figures compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics of the Dept. of Trade and Commerce, (July 28, 1933). Production figures comparing the years 1931 and '32 in Canadian canned fruit are given for apples, blueberries, cherries, peaches, pears, plums, raspberries and strawberries (February 24, 1933).

Comparison figures on independent grocery & meat stores and chain stores, Manitoba, 1930 are compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics for the April 21, 1933 issue. In an article "Ontario Independents Enjoy 75% of the Grocery Business", the retail situation in Ontario is analyzed and statistics relating to independently owned stores and chains are given (January 13, 1933).

Operating expenses for food chains for the year 1930; food chain sales for 1930 (grocery chains only, grocery and meat market, fish market, candy and nut, bakery shop, dairy products, fruit and vegetable, coffee, tea and spices) are given in an article headed "Grocery Chain Overhead 11.51%; Combination Meat and Groceries 18.25% (September 8, 1933).

24. Canning Age; the manufacturing journal for tin and glass food packers. [monthly. Two numbers issued in February] New York Canning Age Publishing Corporation, 461 Eighth Ave. Illustrated. 286.83 C165

The Library of the United States Department of Agriculture has February, 1922 to date.

The main feature of the periodical is its publication of technical articles on topics of interest to packers or manufacturers. These deal with new or improved methods of packing, packaging, or marketing, meeting competition, varieties advocated for special purposes, standards, legislation, codes, depreciated currency, cannery modernization, improved prices, qualities of metals, control of diseases, etc.

The following are examples of special articles included: The Pea Wilt Problem, by W.C. Snyder (June, 1933); Packing Tomato Juice without Vitamin C Loss, by Dr. E.F. Kohman (June, 1933); Obtaining Optimum Dessert and Canning Qualities from the Kieffer Pear, by J.M. Lutz, C.W. Culpepper, H.H. Moon, and A.T. Myers, (September, 1933); Color in Tomato Products, by M.B. Matlock and Charles E. Sando (November, 1933); Federal Grading Assures Canning Quality, by James Warner (November, 1933) - tables showing the results of different tests are included; What the Soviet Canners Plan for 1933 (November, 1932); Midget Merchandising, by Victor I. Parks (December, 1932), - in support of the ten-cent glass package; Confirm Moderate Freezing Temperatures as Satisfactory for Fruits and Vegetables, by H.C. Diehl (February, April, 1933); New Grape Varieties Now Available for the Juice Packer, by F.E. Gladwin (February, 1933); Frozen Orange Juice, Its Manufacture, Preservation, and Distribution, by M.A. Joslyn and G.L. Marsh (April, 1933).

Occasionally a special article contains tables giving canned pack statistics. In the article, Now that the Pack Is In (December, 1932) are the following tables: (a) Quarterly canned foods stock report; (b) California canned fruit (peaches, apricots, pears, cherries) and Hawaiian canned pineapple packs, 1923-1932 (Canners' League of Calif.); (c) Corn pack, by state, can sizes, and style for 1931-1932

District Office of the United States Dept. of Commerce); (e) Tomato pack and spot holdings, 1933, of 154 tri-state (Md., Del., N.J.) tomato canners (Tri-State Packers Ass'n.); (f) New York State pack of canned corn, succotash, and green wax beans, 1925-1932.

Departments found regularly include the editorial section, "Old Guard Recollections", "What's Your Question", "Equipment and Supplies", "The Glass-Pack Age", "Spot News of Packs and Markets", "What's New in Glass", "Catalogs and Bulletins", and a "Directory of Advertisers". Under "News of the Packer and His Pack" are brief items giving notices and reports of general information, such as conventions, exhibitions and investigations, official transfers and promotions, the status of various packing industries, food laborator<sup>ies</sup> and canneries established, new varieties and new brands, United States standards for various canned foods, canned food trade marks, etc.

Most of the trade statistics are found in the department "Spot Views of Packs and Markets". This may contain an analysis of market conditions and trends, and reports from various states or individual packers regarding stocks, packs, and sales of various fruits and vegetables. Here is found a quarterly canned foods stock report, giving a comparison of stocks of seven canned foods (peas, corn, tomatoes, green and wax beans, peaches, pears, pineapples) in canners' and distributors' hands, showing representative stocks sold and unsold, the amount and per cent of increase or decrease over the preceding quarter, and a similar comparison with the preceding year. (Foodstuffs Div. of United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce).

The following miscellaneous tables are also found in this section:

41. The Fruit-grower, Fruiterer, Florist and Market Gardener [weekly], illustrated. London, Bouverie House, Fleet Street, Benn Brothers, Ltd., proprietors. 80 F941

The Library of the United States Department of Agriculture has v. 49, March 4, 1920, to date, and also v. 48, no. 1245, October 9, 1919.

This publication contains much material for both producers and dealers in flowers, fruits, and vegetables. General information is given on methods of cultivation, control of diseases and pests, storage and transportation, marketing, duties and tariffs, and legislative control. The following are examples of special articles on these subjects: Protected Cultivation -- the Continuous Cloche Method (January 12, 1933); Storage and Transport -- Refrigeration and Empire Fruit Development, by Franklin Kidd and Cyril West (March 9, 1933); The Frozen Pack -- Experimental Results in New-Method Refrigeration (March 16, 1933); Parliament-Controlled Organization -- the Price of Quantitative Regulation (March 16, 1933); Wholesalers in Conference -- Marketing Problems (March 30, 1933); National Federation Conference -- Transport-Potato Marketing Scheme (April 6, 1933); Market Assurance to Producers -- N.F.U. Demand for Guarantee in Bill (April 13, 1933); Marketing Schemes (May 4, 1933); Registration of Production, by H.V. Taylor (May 25, 1933); Markets and Tariffs (June 15, 1933); Agricultural Reorganization (July 20, 1933); Agricultural Marketing Act -- Control of Organization by Parliament (July 27, 1933); Raspberry Marketing (July 27, 1933); Road Transport -- New Rates of License Duties (August 3, 1933); Strawberry and Black Currant Certification -- 1933 Register of Growers (September 14, 1933); and Banana Transport (October 5, 1933).

A series of articles by E.H. Baer on "Current Fruit Topics" usually appears bi-weekly. Under the general title Fruitlands of the Empire (March 9, 16, 1933) various authors give a survey of the fruit industry, and its possible expansion in Canada, Tasmania, New South Wales,

New Zealand, Australia, Victoria, and South Africa. This also contains a British Empire Fruit Calendar-All-the-Year-Round Supply.

Potato culture, marketing, and trade receive considerable attention. There are several articles on the marketing scheme propounded by the National Farmers Union, either presenting, discussing, or criticising the scheme (February 16, 23, April 6, May 4, July 13, 27, 1933). Other special articles on potatoes include: Imported Potatoes (May 4, 1933); Potato Improvement-Research Work in Scotland (August 3, 1933); two articles on "Jersey Potatoes" - Blight and the English Markets (August 10, 1933) and How Regulated and Controlled (August 17, 1933); and Potato Marketing (November 30, 1933). Prices of potatoes are given weekly in the "Prices Current", and in addition to the general reports in "London and Provincial Markets" there is usually a special report on potatoes, giving wholesale prices at additional markets (usually Doncaster, Liverpool, Peterborough, Preston, and Selby, but occasionally listing other markets).

The glasshouse industry is another subject emphasized. There is a series of articles by Jas. W. Craig, usually appearing bi-weekly, on "Commercial Glasshouse Culture" (or "Practice"). Other special articles include: Glasshouse Marketing, a review of the 1932 campaign (January 26, 1933); Better Organization of Glasshouse Men-as Alternative to Marketing Act (February 9, 1933); British Glasshouse Congress (May 25, 1933); Our Glasshouse Industry, by H.V. Taylor (November 16, 1933), on its increased production.

There are two special articles dealing with the earlier history of fruits; Nurseries - Then and Now, by Harry Nunn (May 25, 1933), going back fifty years, and From an Old Book - Rootstalks and Fruits in 1693 (June 15, 1933).

Departments appearing regularly are: "London and Provincial Markets"; "Prices Current"; "Editorial Memoranda"; "Florist and Nurseryman"; "Around the Districts", views of correspondents on current affairs in growing and distribution in the various districts; "Association Affairs", giving items on tariff policy, reports of the National Farmers Union, research, exhibitions and shows, convention programs and reports, marketing, etc.; "Growers' Difficulties" is an advisory column, answering questions, etc.; "Commercial Information" contains items on bankruptcy, applications for discharge, notices of dividends, companies or partnerships formed or dissolved, etc.; "Cases in the Courts"; and "Letters to the Editor". For short periods columns are given headed "Crop Estimates"; "Contemporary Chat"; "Our Show List"; and "Conditions of the Crops" (May 4, June 1, 1933), indicated by index figures for flowers and vegetables (beans, cabbage, cauliflower, cucumbers, lettuce, mint, onions, parsley, peas, radishes, rhubarb, seakale, spinach, tomatoes, turnips).

The department "London and Provincial Markets" has a summary of market conditions for fruits, vegetables, and cut flowers for the London markets, giving demand, supplies, and wholesale prices. It also gives the Empire fruit imports. The Provincial markets usually reported are Borough, Birmingham, Cheltenham, Evesham, Gloucester, Hull, Leeds, Manchester, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Nottingham, Pershore, Wisbeck, and Worcester, the reports quoting wholesale prices, usually by variety and exporting region, for various fruits, nuts and vegetables. (See list under "Prices Current".) There is usually a special report quoting prices on potatoes.

The "Prices Current" sheet gives average weekly wholesale prices, compiled by the editorial staff, for the various London markets, on

(no. 1117 mutilated)

Volume numbering is confused: July 1928 to December 1929 repeat v. 57 to 58; June 30, 1928 is v. 58 (whole no. 1691); July 7, 1928 to December 29, 1928, numbered v. 57.

February 8, 1896 to May 3, 1930, v. 1 to 59, no. 1787, have title: Fruitman's Guide. v. 37 covers January 2 to November 6, 1915; v. 38 to 43 cover November 13 to December 25, 1915.

v. 59, no. 1788 to v. 61, no. 1913, May 10, 1930 to October 1, 1932 have title, Fruit and Produce Guide.

This publication contains a great deal of material on the fruit and vegetable trade. While not appearing in every issue, nor always under the same heading nor in the same relative location, there are several market reports, varying with the season that appear with sufficient regularity to be valuable in forming tables of price trends, etc. Among these reports are the following: U.S. apple exports - giving quantity of apples, and sometimes pears, shipped from New York, Boston, Halifax, Vancouver, Seattle, Portland, and San Francisco, and the quantity received at Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Manchester, Bristol, Southampton, Hull, Hamburg, Bremen, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Copenhagen, Sweden, Finland, France, Argentina, Brazil and the Orient.

8 For over half the year, a Boston market report is included, giving supply, demand, and wholesale prices of seasonable fruits (apples, blackberries, blueberries, cantaloupes, cherries, cranberries, gooseberries, grapefruit, melons, oranges, peaches, pears, raspberries, strawberries, tangerines, watermelons) and vegetables (anise, artichokes, asparagus, beans, beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, chicory, cucumbers, egg plant, escarole, kale, lettuce, lima beans, mushrooms, mustard greens, okra, parsley, peas, peppers, rhubarb, romaine, savoy, shallots, spinach, squash, tomatoes, turnips), usually indicating the producing region.

The report of Harris & Co's Boston auction appears in nearly all issues, giving daily reports on carlots sold and auction price range, by State of origin and sometimes by grade, of seasonable fruits (apples, apricots, cherries, figs, grapes, grapefruit, lemons, olives, oranges, passion fruit, pears, peaches, persimmons, pineapples, plums, pomegranates, prunes, quinces, tangerines, watermelons). With fair regularity the first half of the year and occasionally in the last half, there appears a report on the New York citrus market giving supply, demand, quality, and wholesale prices, by grade, of grapefruit, lemons, oranges, satsumas, and tangerines, usually by producing region; appearing irregularly, but usually at least once a month, is a report on the trend in seasonable vegetables in New York, giving supply, demand, and wholesale price range, by grade, of asparagus, beans, beets, broccoli, brussels sprouts, carrots, cauliflower, celery, corn, cucumbers, egg plant, endive, garlic, horseradish, lettuce, lima beans, parsley, peas, peppers, romaine, spinach, and tomatoes.

A report frequently headed "York State Movement", appears with considerable regularity, and gives, for Rochester, N.Y., the supply, demand, and wholesale prices, by variety or grade, of apples, peaches, pears, cabbage, carrots, celery, onions, and potatoes; appearing as separate items during the various seasons are numerous reports giving market conditions and trends and quoting wholesale prices at New York of various fruits (apples, cantaloupes, cherries, cranberries, dewberries, grapes, grapefruit, melons, oranges, peaches, pears, plums, raspberries, strawberries, etc.) and vegetables (cabbage, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, peas, potatoes, sweet potatoes, spinach, and tomatoes).

This paper contains numerous miscellaneous statistics appearing irregularly, such as: Market reports on fruits and vegetables at Cincinnati, Buffalo, Albany, Liverpool, London, etc.; reports on acreage, crop estimates, production, prices, and shipments of various fruits and vegetables at various production centers; complete or summarized reports put out from time to time by the Department of Agriculture, such as crop estimates and reports, world dairy prospects, etc.

In addition, the paper contains numerous items or articles on marketing and transportation problems, freight rate changes, cases and decisions under the Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act, legislation affecting the fruit and vegetable industries, announcements and reports of associations, conventions, etc., co-operative plans, markets opened or closed, changes in managers, advertising campaigns, new products, and industrial codes.

A special Apple Crop Number (Aug. 5, 1933) gives a report on "The Coming Apple Crop of 1933", giving estimates from the various producing regions in comparison with production, acreage, etc., for the preceding season, and reprints the signed reports from the various reporting centers.

Examples of special articles, by headlines rather than titles, are: New York Pear Committee Outlines Plans for Aid in Marketing Methods (Jan. 14, 1933); Motor Truck Problems (Jan. 28, 1933); Apple Export Review and Effect of Trade Barriers, by R. G. Phillips (Feb. 24, 1933); Apple Situation from the Standpoint of the Exporter, by R. G. Phillips (May 6, 1933); and Water Shipping Up -- Railroads See Business Slipping (May 20, 1933).

Departments or columns that appear with considerable regularity are: "Florida the Fruitful", "New York Trade Notes", "Our Boston Budget", "In the Dairy Trade", and "H. Harris & Co's Boston Auction". The advertisements consist principally of those of brokers and commission and wholesale merchants of New York.

The Federal-State crop estimates for California fruits cover apples, apricots, cherries, grapes, peaches, pears, plums, prunes, oranges, lemons, grapefruit and figs. (June 17, 1933.) The fall Federal-State crop report (October 21, 1933) discusses shipping and gives production figures for the past few years of apples, wine grapes, raisin grapes, table grapes, late pears, cling peaches, prunes, grapefruit, lemons and oranges.

Market conditions, receipts, and wholesale prices are reported weekly at the New York market for potatoes (white, sweet and yams) beans (green, string, refugee, wax), carrots, cauliflower, cabbage, lettuce, spinach, onions, green peas, celery, cucumbers, broccoli, tomatoes, corn, egg plant, lima beans, garlic, radishes, romaine, plantain, dandelion greens, rhubarb, peppers, okra, and turnips.

Rail and boat receipts in 17 largest markets for fruits and vegetables appear Jan. 28, Mar. 18, Apr. 22, May 20, 1933 listing carlot unloads at Atlanta, Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Denver, Detroit, Minneapolis, New Orleans, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Portland, Oregon, St. Louis, St. Paul, Salt Lake City, and

San Francisco. Receipts at Eastern markets are given in the issue of August 19, 1933.

Carlot receipts by rail and boat of fresh fruits and vegetables at New York include apples, beans, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, grapefruit, lettuce, lemons, mixed vegetables, onions, oranges, peas, pears, potatoes, sweet potatoes, strawberries, spinach, tomatoes, asparagus, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cucumbers, escarole, mixed vegetables, mixed citrus, peppers, tangerines, artichokes, bananas, snap beans, pineapples, corn, cherries, melons and watermelons, grapes, honey balls, honeydews, plums and prunes. The list varies with the season.

Among miscellaneous statistics for fruits and vegetables a column entitled "66 Big Markets Consume Bulk of Cantaloupes" (a summary of the 1932 Imperial Valley Cantaloupe movement) gives (a) total U. S. shipments, (b) unloads in 15 big cities and per capita consumption in 15 big cities, and (c) consumption figures for 66 major markets, arranged in four groups, in order of total consumption (May 27, 1933).

Holdings of cabbage for the past five years (1929 through 1933) is recorded in tons each year and per cent of crop, listing stocks on hand at New York, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Colorado and Indiana. Holdings of onions, 1928-1933 give total on hand each year, Jan. 1st at New York, Michigan, Colorado and Indiana (Feb. 4, 1933).

Acreage, price levels, imports and exports are given for Canada's potato crop in the issue of May 20, 1933.

U.S. potato production (Govt. report July 1) covers the estimated 1933 production by bu.; that for 1932 and the five-year average, by states (July 15, 1933).

The late potato crop of U.S. is given in bu., by States for 1932 and 1933, with the five-year average, 1926-1930 (Sept. 23, 1933). The October potato crop report and that of November is given in thousands of bushels for the year 1932, by states, and estimated for 1933 (issues Oct. 14 and Nov. 18, 1933). Sept. 23, 1933 is the annual potato issue. The potato acreages for 1931, 1932, and 1933 intentions, grouped into Early States, Second Early States and intermediate, are given by states - (Jan. 28, 1933).

Apple reports appear Aug. 5, 1933 giving crop prospects, condition and prospective shipments by states and the counties within; the commercial apple crops of the country, by states, giving the barrels indicated for 1933; the 1932 barrels and the five-year average, 1926-1930 (Sept. 16 and Nov. 13, 1933).

Cauliflower production, covering acreage, and yield per acre, for years 1932 and 1933 is given for New York, New Jersey, Utah, Colorado, and Washington (August 19).

The Cantaloupe acreage for California early covered honey balls, and honey dews, appears in the issue of Feb. 11th, 1933); and the California, Imperial Valley, cantaloupe acreage, by varieties is given in the issue of April 8th, 1933.

Statistics on production, acreage, shipments, etc. for fruits and vegetables appear irregularly as the seasonal movements are on, often needing revision towards the end of the season. For example, among the fruit and vegetable deals appear figures on Imperial Valley cantaloupes, acreage, carlot shipments, and prices (May 13, 1933) and also statistics are given in a column by Austin Holcomb, entitled "Cantaloupe Movement Will Be the Lightest on Record" (May 27, 1933).

Peach Growers See Georgia Deal as One of Best Yet (June 10, 1933) gives figures on the peach movements of recent years from Georgia, including cars shipped each year, 1918, through 1932.

For Florida citrus, total shipments and average auction prices are given (June 17, 1933).

For Imperial Valley watermelons, a review of the 1932 deal gives acreage, shipments, receipts, by states, 1932; acreage and shipments for the past six years 1927-1932; and the 1933 prospects (July 8, 1933).

This same issue gives for California cherries, production and shipping figures 1933, 1932, with a comparison of recent years.

The Grape deal is covered in several issues. July 22, 1933 carries a column entitled "Banner Season Seen This Year for California Grapes", by Austin Holcomb, giving condition and estimated production 1933, and for 1930-1932, shipments and consumption figures for fresh and dried grapes. The issue of November 4, 1933 gives total shipments, by varieties, of California grapes, while the issue of December 23, 1933 in a short column headed, California Grape Total is Far Below Last Year, gives the revised figures for grapes by varieties.

The general news items of the paper for the year 1933 are much taken up with the problem of stabilization in the fruit and vegetable industries providing much discussion pro and con of plans, codes, government legislation, etc.

Several columns appearing regularly handle specific interests of growers and shippers as "Current Comment", by Seymour H. Neumann with its paragraphs on cold storage rates, cold storage costs and competition, trade associations and mergers, handling of perishables, shipping rates, freight claims, etc. (Feb. 25, 1933 and following issues)

"Railroad Claims", by O. T. Cummings, brings out the inter-dependence of railroad prosperity and the produce dealers welfare, discussing somewhat at length the effect of freight rates, claim agreements, notation practices, etc. (Nov. 4th, 1933 and following issues)

"From the Crows Nest", by Col. L. Brown, provides general comments on markets and notes of interest on seasonable fruits and vegetables.

"The Reader Writes" is dedicated to the trades' interests and provides for a "liberal exchange of ideas, opinion and information concerning the perishables industry".

"Auction advertisements" (Independent Fruit Auction Corp. appears regularly); Convention notes and reports of Association meetings, and want advertisements complete the paper's content.

Among articles and signed columns of considerable interest appearing throughout the year's file are: Potatoes and the Depression, by Daniel Dean, giving statistics on acreage and shipments, comparing the old potato market with the potatoes more recent prospects. (Jan. 7, 1933); New Type of Competition in California Vegetable Trade, by Austin Holcomb (Jan. 14, 1933); Buck gives California Industry Voice in Congress, by Austin Holcomb (on production expenses of California fruits and vegetables) (Jan. 21, 1933); Gives Surplus Control Plan, by Wm. E. Berney (outlines a plan for correcting the present faults in the system of distributing fruits and vegetables) (Jan. 28, 1933).

Prune Body May be a Pattern for Others in Trade, by Austin Holcomb, reviews the carefully devised and well balanced program of the "United Prune Growers of California" and gives figures on New York receipts of fresh prunes and plums from California, Oregon, Washington and the Chicago receipts from California and Idaho; also the 1933 state tonnage of fresh prunes (June 17, 1933). In this same issue appears, Canners' League Has Peach Plan ((1) to fix cost (2) to determine size of pack (3) set price range, etc.). This gives figures on cling peaches and free stone peaches; crops harvested 1929-1932; canned totals 1929-1932; dried (1931-'32); shipped fresh interstate 1929-1932 (June 17, 1933).

Three related discussions on Citrus appear (Sept. 2, Sept. 9, and Dec. 2, 1933) A A A Citrus Pact will Eliminate Small Shipper; Seek Time to Ponder Pact on California Citrus; and California Independents Vexed at A A A Citrus Pact, by Austin Holcomb.

Jersey's Tuber Control Plan is Called Success, by Amos Kirby (Aug. 19, 1933) (market control experiment with Jersey potatoes.); Refutes Claims of Success for N. J. Tuber Plan (Aug. 26, 1933) (gives the opposing position of the Independents.)

Several related articles appear on the apple situation: Shows How U. S. Apple Exports have been Hurt, R. G. Phillips (address on U. S. Apple Export Situation) (Apr. 29, 1933); Apple and Pear Export Trade... R. G. Phillips, a plea for removal of trade barriers with figures on the Export trade (June 10, 1933).

93. St. Louis Daily Market Reporter (Merchants Exchange Price Current) [daily on business days] St. Louis, O'Connor Market Reporter Co., 216 Market St. 286.8 Sa2

The Library of the United States Department of Agriculture has Jan. 2, 1896 to date. 1931-1932 issued in two sections: [Grain ed.] and Produce ed. 1933 to date grain and produce in one volume.

This publication reports the state of the market and quotes daily prices on a large assortment of produce during the various marketing seasons.

A report on "Car Lot Movement" (U. S. D. A. Market News Service) gives the car lot arrivals and track holdings at St. Louis, and the United States car shipments of apples, beans, beets, broccoli, cabbage, cantaloupes, carrots, cauliflower, celery, cherries, corn, cranberries, cucumbers, grapefruit, grapes, lemons, lettuce, onions, oranges, peaches, pears, peas, peppers, pineapples, plums, new and old potatoes, radishes, rhubarb, spinach, strawberries, sweet potatoes, tangerines, tomatoes, and watermelons. This list may vary daily as well as seasonally, and is reported rarely from July 1 to Sept. 6, 1933. During this period this information is frequently given in connection with the report on "Vegetables". A compilation (Feb. 8, 1933) shows the U. S. car shipments for about half of these commodities for the 1932/3 season, in comparison with the previous season.

A section usually appearing under the title "Fruit Auction" or "St. Louis Fruit Auction" quotes auction prices at St. Louis on seasonable fruits (apples, apricots, grapefruit, grapes, lemons, oranges, pears, persimmons, satsumas, and tangerines), by brand and grade, and grouped under car numbers and receivers.

A section of the Produce Market headed "Fruits" gives the supply, demand, and region of origin, and quotes wholesale prices on a variable list of seasonable or imported fruits, including apples, avocados, by brands, bananas, blackberries, blueberries, cantaloupes, cherries, cocoanuts, cranberries, currants, dates, dewberries, figs, gooseberries, grapefruit, grapes, kumquats, lemons, limes, melons (Casaba, Golden Honeymoon, Honey Ball, Honey Dew, Melodew, Persian, Santa Claus, Weaver's Special), olives, oranges, peaches, pears, pineapples, plums, red and black raspberries, strawberries, tangerines, watermelons, youngberries). Apples are usually found in a separate section and are quoted by variety, state of origin and grade. In the latter part of 1933 "track sales", "exchange sales", "street sales", or the "jobbing market" are frequently given. Crabapples and cider are quoted during the season, sometimes in the above list, but frequently as separate items.

During the season wholesale prices at St. Louis are quoted on chestnuts, pecans, and shelled and unshelled black walnuts.

A section of the Produce Market headed "Vegetables" usually gives supply, demand, and region of production, and quotes wholesale prices on a variable list of vegetables, sometimes frozen, hot-house, or imported, including anise, artichokes, asparagus, beans, butter beans, string beans, broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, cabbage plants, cabbage sprouts, celery cabbage, savoy cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, celery roots, chives, collard greens, green corn, cucumbers, dandelion greens, egg plant, endive, escarole, garlic, gumbo, horseradish, kale, kohlrabi, lettuce, lima beans, mushrooms, mustard, okra, green onions, parsley, parsnips, green peas, peppers, radishes, rhubarb, rutabagas, salsify, sassafras root, shallots, spinach, squash, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, turnips, turnip tops, watercress. New and old potatoes and onions are usually given under a separate heading, and are quoted by variety, state of production, and grade. Onion sets are included during the season. One issue (Aug. 2, 1933) gives the Government estimate, by states, of the 1933 potato crop in comparison with that of 1932 and the average for 1926-1930.

The section headed "Seeds, Beans, etc." usually quotes St. Louis wholesale prices on beans by variety (Michigan white, great northern, lima, baby, pink, and pinto), and peas by variety (black eye, Scotch, yellow split, and green split).

A section headed "Shipping Point News" is frequently given, but the places and produce reported are very irregular. Here are given reports on demand, supplies, and prices on car lots, f.o.b., by grade, at various shipping points, for example: beans at Lake Okechobee and Pompano, Fla.; beets at Brownsville, Texas; cabbage at Brownsville, Texas and Racine, Wis.; cauliflower at Los Angeles; potatoes at Idaho Falls; and strawberries at Plant City, Fla.

The Library of the United States Department of Agriculture has v. 23, January 1, 1897, to date. Wanting: v. 27-29; v. 32, no. 16; v. 33, no. 11, pp. 5-6 mutilated; v. 49, no. 33, August 17, 1923. v. 23-41, no. 5, have title, Grocer and Country Merchant and Tobacco-nist; v. 41, no. 52 to v. 42, no. 37 have title, Grocer. September 21 and 28, 1923 both numbered v. 49, no. 39.

This publication is devoted to the interests of the retail grocer. Editorial comment, the short special articles, and Paul Findlay's department "Store Management" all give methods of increasing efficiency and profits and report events, legislation, or trends that affect the grocery business. These include such topics as margins, price cutting, stop prices, sales tax, turnover, law of supply and demand, loss leaders, credit granting, delivery service, the Government and business, grocery codes, check-up on sales, salesmanship, modernization of stores, competition, fraudulent checks, farm situation, chain store practices, milk prices, etc. Other departments or sections usually appearing include: "Business changes", usually in California, "Buyers' Tips", "Trade Items", "Grocery Products Broadcast", "Directory of Leading Brokers", "List of Brands Maintaining a Stop Price", by varieties, "Grocery Markets", "Cash and Carry Price List", "Jobbers' Quotations", and "Tobacco", the titles suggesting the type of information.

The following are examples of the short articles given under either headlines or titles: The Delinquent Account as an Investment, by W.F. Johnson (Jan. 6, 1933); A New Way to Check Up on Sales (Jan. 27, 1933); Questions Asked by Consumers about Canned Foods (Feb. 3, 1933); Manufacturers Too Ready to Help Retailers Cut (Feb. 17, 1933); Food Values of Prunes (Mar. 3, 1933); What the Farmer Should Do (Mar. 31, 1933); More Facts about Farm Incomes (Apr. 14, 1933); Research Has Greatly Helped Canned Foods Industry (May 12, 1933); Are Grocery Margins to be Permanently Narrowed (Aug. 4, 1933); and The Delivery Problem (Oct., 1933).

The department "Grocery Markets" reports market conditions, and until September 1933 usually quotes wholesale prices regularly on dried fruit, canned fruit and vegetables, and seasonable fresh fruits. With the change to a monthly with the September 1933 issue only dried and canned fruits are reported regularly. Prices, f.o.b. Fresno, are given by grade or variety on dried raisins and dried unpeeled peaches. Wholesale prices, San Francisco, are given by grade on dried apricots and prunes. The prices on canned fruit (usually omitted during July-Aug. 1933) f.o.b. dock, San Francisco, are given by grade and can sizes, and include apples, peeled and sliced apricots, blackberries, cherries, grapes, loganberries, yellow clingstone peaches, pears, plums, pineapples. Canned vegetables are quoted irregularly, by grade and can sizes, and include wholesale prices on spinach and white and green asparagus, and f.o.b. cannery prices on tomatoes, tomato puree, and tomato catsup. Wholesale prices, San Francisco, by variety and/or grade and/or source, on seasonable fresh fruits (until Sept. 1933), include apples, apricots, avocados, bananas, blackberries, cantaloupes, cherries, crabapples, cranberries, currants, dewberries, figs, gooseberries, grapefruit, grapes, lemons, lemonettes, loganberries, melons (Casabas, Honeyballs, Honeydews, Persian), nectarines, oranges, peaches, pears, pineapples, plums, raspberries, strawberries, tangerines, watermelons, and youngberries.

The department "Cash and Carry Price List" quotes regularly wholesale prices, San Francisco, on the various commodities commonly handled by the grocery trade. These are usually given by brand and/or variety and/or grade and by size of packages. The list includes almond paste, beans (bayo, black eye, cranberry, great northern, lima, baby lima, pink, red, red kidney, large white, and small white), beverages (apple cider, grape juice, grapefruit juice, loganberry juice, prune juice after July 7, 1933, orange juice until Oct. 1933, pineapple juice), catsup, green whole, and green and yellow split peas, maraschino cherries, cocoanut, cranberry sauce, canned fruits (unpeeled apricots, blackberries, raspberries, cherries, fruits for salad, grapes until Sept. 1933, grapefruit and orange after July 7, 1933, yellow clingstone peaches, pears, sliced and crushed pineapple), dried fruits (apples, apricots, glacé cherries, currants, dates, black and white figs, fruit peels [citron, lemon, orange], prunes, raisins), jams and jellies, lentils, nuts (almonds, pecans, walnuts), olive relish, peanut butter, pickles, popcorn, puddings (plum; fig after Oct. 1933), canned soups, canned vegetables (asparagus, corn, hominy, lima beans, mushrooms, okra, peas, pimientos, pork and beans, pumpkin, sauerkraut, spinach, string beans, succotash, tomatoes (solid, and juice, puree, sauce, and paste), and cider vinegar.

The Library of the United States Department of Agriculture has 1918 to date. Wanting: August 20, 27, October 15, November 19, December 9, 1918; February 4, 1919; March 4, June 24, October 14, 1919; February to April 20, 1920.

On February 3, 1920 this report and the Weekly Market Review of Fruits and Vegetables and Carlot Summary issued by the Bureau of Markets, were combined and issued as Weekly Crop and Market Review of Fruits and Vegetables. On April 27, 1920, Weekly Truck Crop News was discontinued until September 17, 1926 when it was issued by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics (During the time of suspension occasional special reports were issued).

January 21 to June 11, 1918 have title, Weekly Report on Conditions of Truck Crops.

Since September 17, 1925 special reports have been issued whenever special information has been received early in the week which the Division of Crop and Livestock Estimates does not wish to hold until Friday, the day of regular issue. These contain similar information issued in the Weekly and are considered as supplements. Some weeks there are none issued.

The Weekly Truck Crop News is not made up from the mimeographed crop reports of the State agricultural statisticians but from reports sent to the Division of Crop and Livestock Estimates. Many but not all of the tables are reissued in Crops and Markets.

Divided into two distinct series: Commercial truck crops for shipment; and Truck crops for commercial manufacture.

Statistics of acreage, yield per acre, production, farm value and value per unit are given by States both for commercial crops for shipment and for manufacture. Crops include Bermuda and Creole onions, green peas, peppers, tomatoes, asparagus, strawberries, early Irish potatoes, cantaloupes, cabbage, watermelons, cauliflower, lettuce, carrots, domestic onions, spinach, cucumbers, snap beans, lima beans, beets, celery, egg plant, kale, Danish cabbage, artichokes, sweet corn, peppermint, spearmint, garlic, mustard, turnips, collards, shallots, and radishes. The commodities vary with the different issues.

105. U. S. Department of agriculture, Bureau of agricultural economics, Foreign agricultural service. Weekly European fruit market cable. Washington, D. C. Mimeographed. 1.9 Ec752Fr

The Library of the United States Department of Agriculture has October 13, 1932 to date.

Continues United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Division of Statistical and Historical Research, F. S. A. Foreign News on Apples.

No title affixed to issues of October 13, 1932-August 10, 1933. Above title adopted with issue of August 17, 1933, but occasionally varies with the scope of the report, - for example, issues of September 28 and October 12, 1933, have title, Weekly European Citrus Fruit Market Cable. These cables have usually been sent from the London office by Fred A. Motz, fruit specialist for the Department of Agriculture in Europe.

These cables are weekly reports covering wholesale auction prices received in British and continental European markets (usually including Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Southampton, Antwerp, Rotterdam, and Hamburg) on American and competing fruits. The fruits concentrated on are apples, pears, oranges, and grapefruit, but occasionally there are quotations for prunes, grapes, cranberries, and tangerines. The quotations for each fruit are grouped according to market, type of container (barrels, baskets, boxes, crates), variety and State where raised, and grade. The reports also contain information on the state of the market, noting supply and demand for both American and competing fruits, and the condition of the American fruit. Weather conditions and crop prospects of competing countries are frequently given. The reports usually contain a summary of that week's arrivals in the markets of the United Kingdom and of the expected arrivals during the ensuing week, by fruit and exporting country.

Summaries of reports of the Empire Marketing Board as they relate to the fruit trade are occasionally given, noting weather conditions, and crop and export prospects in competing British countries.

The rate of exchange used in conversions is usually stated.

This publication gives regularly wholesale prices by brands and sizes of packages for canned vegetables (asparagus, peas, tomatoes, baked beans in tomato), canned fruits (apricots, blackberries, red cherries, fruit salad, gooseberries, grapefruit, loganberries, yellow cling peaches, Bartlett pears, pineapple, plums, strawberries), and dried fruits (cherries, currants, fruit salad, plums, raisins, sultanas). In the latter part of 1933, evaporated apricots, peaches, and pears are included with the dried fruits, and raspberries included among the English canned fruits. Occasionally a loose sheet is inserted listing "additional lines" or special features for that week.

Emphasis is placed on English or Empire products, but a few United States products are occasionally listed - California canned peaches and evaporated apricots and peaches. No fresh vegetables or fruits are quoted.

125. Western Canner and Packer [monthly] San Francisco, 369 Pine St. A. C. Prendergast, editor. 286.83 W522

The Library of the United States Department of Agriculture has v. 7, no. 5, October 1915 to date, but the file is incomplete. Absorbed Packer and Canner (286.83 P122) December 1926 (v. 18, no. 8). Extra number issued in March.

This periodical publishes articles or items of interest to canners, packers, and growers, dealing with such subjects as overproduction problems, improved machinery and methods of packing, methods of stimulating consumption, effects of depreciated currencies, preferential duties, freight rates, and transportation problems. There are occasional announcements of the organization or the meetings of various canners' or growers' associations, of financial reports of various packing companies, and of legislation relating to the industry.

Several departments appear regularly. "Northwest News", "Rocky Mountain News", and "California News", report short items regarding wages, crop conditions, seasonal prices, production and packs, acreage, conventions, etc. The departments, "Dried Fruit" and "Pineapple News", give items on foreign competition, size of packs, crop estimates, condition of crops, acreage, prices, production and stocks in different localities.

A department "Food Exports" varies in size. These are preliminary figures compiled by Western branches of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Here are given, by Customs Districts in the Pacific states, the volume and value of exports of canned and prepared fruits (grapefruit, loganberries, apples and apple sauce, apricots, cherries, prunes, peaches, pears, pineapples, fruits for salad, preserved fruits), and of dried fruits (fruits for salad, pear raisins, apples, apricots, peaches and prunes). These are generally given for a single month in comparison with the total for the preceding several months and with the same period for the preceding year.

A quarterly report is given showing stocks (of peas, corn, tomatoes green and wax beans, peaches, pears, pineapple) in canners' and in distributors' hands for the current quarter in comparison with preceding reports.

Examples of articles of special interest are: Buying Power Cut by Depreciated Currencies (January 1933); Brand Preferences, by cities in the Pacific states (January 1933); Standards for "Quality Seal" Packs of Preserves (September 1932). An article, Government Financing Blamed for Overproduction (December 1932), summarizes testimony given before the investigating committee of the House of Representatives. In a later article, Government Financing Not Blamed (April 1933), H. E. Laney refutes this testimony, also using statistics on clingstone peaches. In his article Mr. Laney gives the pack, prices to growers, and opening prices, by grades, in California for 1915-1932. Another article (August 1932) gives costs of canning clingstone peaches, by grades and by items of expense.

Numerous statistics are given in all issues, taken from official State or Federal sources, and also from company records, colleges, and research foundations, such as the Giannini Foundation. While some miscellaneous statistical data do not appear again, series of prices, exports, production, acreage, etc., are completed and summarized in the Statistical Review Number. This is an extra number published in March, and contains a complete index by commodities. It contains leading articles as well as statistical summaries and charts. In the issue of March, 1933, the following tables are given:
